Texas Man Kills Self After Slaying Estranged Wife

TALLULAH (Special) — A 26-year-old Houston, Tex. father murdered his pretty, estranged wife by shooting her twice with a shotgun, then killed himself with a charge into his head on a plantation near here yesterday.

Madison Parish Sheriff C. E. Hester, in disclosing the murder and suicide, identified the victims as Robert B. Burnside, and his 22-year-old wife, the former Sara Brekeen, of near here.

According to Hester the double slaying occurred on the John Carpenter plantation about 15 miles east of here after family trouble. Hester said Burnside struck his mother - in - law, Mrs. Charlie Brekeen, with a shotgun before the fatal shootings.

Reconstruction

The sheriff reconstructed the slaying this way:

About three weeks ago the young woman came to his office seeking advice on divorce proceedings against Burnside. He said Burnside arrived at the Bekeen residence about 1:30 p.m. yesterday and a family argument began.

Mrs. Brekeen apparently took up the argument, Hester said, and was struck by Burnside. She ran three or four blocks for help. After the woman left, Burnside using a 12 gauge shot gun, shot his estranged wife in the stomach and again under the chin after she had crawled into the yard. He then shot himself in the head, Hester said.

Hester said that five deputies dispatched to the scene expected to find Burnside barricaded in the house, but instead found the two bodies in the yard. The couple's two children, aged two and three, were on the premises at the time of the shooting but were not located, immediately Hester said.

Went To Scene

The sheriff said he took Madison parish coroner Dr. E. Otis Edgerton to the scene but they decided an inquest was unnecessary. Hester said he ruled murder and suicide.

The sheriff said two single - barreled 12-gauge shotguns were found in the yard with the bodies. He said it was not determined if Burnside brought either of the guns with him.

Mrs. Brekeen sustained cuts of the head and neck when struck Hester said, but was treated and released from a local clinic.

Crothers Funeral Home took charge of the bodies of the victims, but no arrangements were set last night.

State Convention Of Optometrists Will Open Today

The forty-third annual convention of the Louisiana State Association of Optometrists opens here today with registration in the Frances Hotel. Approximately 200 optometrists and their wives are expected to attend the three-day affair.

Opening the activities this morning will be a golf tournament at the Highland Park Golf and Country Club, West Monroe, with Dr. T. A. Brulte Sr., convention co-chairman, as official host. Last night 20 participants had registered for the event, which gets under way at 11 a.m. Deadline for "teeing off" is 11:30 a.m.

Registration will continue until 6 p.m. today. At 6 p.m. sharp, the group is slated to assemble at the Old Monroe boat dock for a ride up the Ouachita river, followed at 8 p.m. by a barbecue supper at the American Legion home on Forsythe avenue.

From 1 to 4 p.m. today the women's auxiliary will have an informal coffee, and get-acquainted session, with groups playing bridge or canasta. This, too, will be held in the Francis Hotel.

Business Session

The first business session of the convention is slated for 10 a.m. Sunday in Rooms A and B of the Francis Hotel. This will continue

Don't Feed The Hippopotamus

DALLAS (UP)—It will probably be a long time before Dallas zoo caretaker George L. Lokey turns his back on a hippopotamus again. And it may be a while before Lokey sits down without wincing.

Lokey, 62, had taken Impy, a 500-pound hippo, back into her cage Friday after a feeding.

Impy latched onto his hand and wouldn't let go. Lokey kicked hard several times and broke away.

He turned around and started out of the cage and Impy struck from behind Lokey managed to get away again and was taken to a hospital for treatment of slight injuries to his hand, thigh and buttocks.

Motorist Skids, Zooms Way Into Jail Term Here

A 19-year-old West Monroe youth was sentenced to 30 days compulsory in the parish jail yesterday on two counts of reckless driving.

Bennie Joe Rollins was also fined $100 or 60 days on each count, plus $25 or 10 days on charges of speeding 65 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone and $25 or 10 days for driving with an improper muffler.

Judge David I. Garrett, presiding at th Friday session of Fourth District Court, asked Rollins for an explanation of his actions, but the youth refused to give any.

On March 21 at 7:05 p.m., state police saw Rollins skid his 1955 convertible into a service station on Highway 34. He then hit the accelerator and skidded out again, going almost completely crossways on the highway and into the path of approaching traffic.

Rollins barely avoided an accident, and the police chas-

Attorney Burt Sperry reports that his little daughter Susie, not yet old enough to attend school, was in the family yard with Bunn Beasley, next door neighbor. Both were enjoying the sunshine, Beasley especially as he was just out of the hospital. As they picked up a flower here and there in the yard, suddenly Susie cried out: "Oh, Mr. Bunn, I've found a five-leaf clover!" An instant later Beasley also found one with five petals.

Now they are both interested in five-leaf clovers and are watchfully awaiting any special good luck coming in their directions.

Cuban Youths Die During New Violence

Dragged From Bed, Tortured, And Then Shot

HAVANA (UP)—Cuban police dragged three prominent Catholic Action youth leaders from a boarding house, tortured them and then shot them to death in their purge of rebel sympathizers this week Roman Catholic sources reported Friday.

Discreet burial notices disclosed the deaths. RomanCatholic sources said the three were dragged by police from a boarding house in suburban Vedado last Wednesday night following a rebel raid on the national armory.

Hours later their stripped, tortured and bullet - ridden bodies were claimed by relatives.

The three, identified as Louis Maroles Muscelier, Juan Fernandez Duque and Ciro Hidalgo Perez were prominent in Catholic Action in Santiago, hotbed of the Cuban revolution. Morlaes has two brothers and a sister who are in religious orders.

Express 'Deep Concern'

Catholic circles expressed "deep concern" about the action.

Havana returned to outward normality Friday afternoon after two bombs exploded in the city Friday morning. There were unconfirmed reports of violence raging in other Cuban cities.

Early Friday the army announced it had isolated the "main body" of rebel forces in the mountains of eastern Cuba.

In Miramar, a plush suburb of Havana, a Cuban air force plane crashed at dawn into a row of 12 houses. The pilot and another man in the plane were killed. Thirteen persons, including a fireman and two policemen, were injured.

A communique said the plane's engine failed shortly after it took off from the Camp Columbia military air base. It fell about 500 yards beyond the airport and its gasoline tanks exploded.

Police arrested two persons trying to rob the damaged homes and detained three reporters and photographers at the scene briefly. The newsmen were released after showing their credentials and received apologies from police.

Navy Discloses Firing Of New Polaris Rocket

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said Thursday it has test fired a dummy Polaris ballistic missile from underwater for the first time.

The missile, the same size, shape and weight as the 1,500-mile-range polaris, was fired March 23 from a new "pop-up" launcher off San Clemente Island, near Los Angeles.

Rear Adm. W. F. Raborn, head of the Navy's Polaris program, showed motion pictures of the event.

They disclosed the dummy missile, apparently about 30 feet long, popping up through the smooth surface of the Pacific and rising several hundred feet in a geyser of spray.

Plunges

Then the orange-colored missile angled over and plunged nose first back into the water.

Raborn, director of the special projects office of the Navy Bureau of Ordnance, told a Navy League symposium on seapower that the Polaris would be ready for use in 1960, or about the date originally set for the beginning of tests.

AS RECESSION CAUSE

Solon Scores Taxes And Farm Program

Congressman Otto E. Passman yesterday blamed a "mis-managed farm program and high taxes" for the nation's so - called recession, which he described as "a little dip."

Passman, an open critic to President Eisenhower and the Republican party, said the declining national economy was created by the GOP's "leaning toward big industry and Eastern banking interests."

"They (the Republicans) have never been able to run the government with the right perspective of the entire nation in mind." Passman exclaimed in an interview prior to his departure for Washington.

The Fifth District congressman, who Thursday said he definitely will run again in July, produced statistics in support of his beliefs that the farm program and taxes are resonsible for the "little dip."

Passman's statistics, which were obtained from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, showed that the total net income of farm operators in the nation dropped almost $3 - billion from 1952 to 1957 — a decline from $15,120,000,000 to $12,121,000,000.

Income Drop

While the decline was being felt all over the country, Passman pointed out, the Louisiana total net income of farm operators dropped from $273,100,000 to $143,671,000.

"That doesn't reflect the entire picture either, Passman said, "The purchasing power of net farm income, on a national basis, dropped $3,272,000,000 — from $13,597,000,000 in 1952 to $10,325,000,000."

He went on to point out that the decline of purchasing power

'Justifiable Homicide' Ruled In Turner Case

Jury Returns Verdict In Fast Action

By JACK V. FOX

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Lana Turner's 14-year-old daughter, Cheryl, was found by a coroner's jury Friday to have committed "justifiable homicide" when she plunged a butcher knife into Johnny Stompanato, her mother's jealous and violent lover.

The verdict was returned swiftly after the 10 men and 2 women heard Lana swear that Cheryl killed Stompanato after she heard him tell the actress she would hop and jump for him or he would cut her beautiful face.

Stompanato, 32, a Hollywood hoodlum who had romanced Lana from Europe to Mexico to the movie capital the past few months also threatened to murder the actress, her mother and Cheryl, Miss Turner said.

Tells of Stabbing

The blonde Lana, weeping, trembling and clenching her fists on the witness stand, told a coroner's inquest that Cheryl plunged the knife into the six-foot ex-Marine's stomach so fast she never even saw the blade.

The inquest verdict does not formally affect Cheryl's legal position. She still must appear at a juvenile court hearing on April 24 when it will be determined whether or not to prosecute her and on what charge. She is now being held on suspicion of murder.

But Friday's finding will undoubtedly be taken into account by the district attorney's office which also could drop the case as justificable homicide and free the girl entirely.

Her testimony was the highlight of a circus-like hearing which saw a spectator jump up to shout that Cheryl was in love with Stompanato herself and a bit of comic relief when racketeer Mickey Cohen refused to identify the slain man as Stompanato lest he be charged with murder.

But the courtroom was hushed as Lana got to the events just preceding her lover's death. She said they had been arguing violently in front of Cheryl and then

U.S. Rejects Soviet Bid For Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States swiftly rejected Friday the price Russia demanded to open lower-level diplomatic talks in advance of an East-West summit meeting.

The White House, moving with unusual speed, turned a cold shoulder to a new Russian note renewing the Kremlin's bid for top-level talks.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty labeled the Soviet reply, the 12th in a round which began last December, as "not an acceptance" of Western conditions for a summit meeting.

The Soviets proposed that Western Big Three ambassadors meet next Thursday in Moscow with Russian representatives. They proposed that this be followed up by a foreign ministers conference between May 1 and May 15.

Top officials in studying the Soviet note quickly found these three objections:

1. Russia is seeking to force the West to agree to a summit meeting even before the results of lower-level diplomatic talks are known. The West has insisted that a top level meeting be convened only if prior diplomatic talks demonstrate prospect of agreement.

2. The talks by ambassadors which Moscow has suggested would be limited to discussing organizational arrangements for the later foreign ministers meeting.

3. Russia is insisting on the right to veto any discussion of problems to which it objects at the later foreign ministers conference. This would guarantee that only topics agreeable to the Kremlin would be discussed at the summit, presumably ruling out negotiations on German unity and more freedom for European satellites of Russia.

The speedy American reaction came while President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles discussed the newest Soviet diplomatic move at the White House. It reflected the administration's reported determination to reply swiftly to Soviet notes which are viewed as matniy designed for international propaganda.

Hagerty's comment, read to newsmen, said the implications of the Soviet note "will, of course, be carefully studied."

The State Department said it would begin close consultations promptly with America's 14 Atlantic Pact allies to draft a reply for the Kremlin.

Diplomatic authorities forecast that the Western answer would be a counterproposal, reasserting a desire to meet at the summit but only with satisfactory diplomatic preparation showing that the meeting would not be a spectacle.

AFTER BID REJECTION

Suit Threatened On Hangar Issue

City Hall's hot Selman Field hangar issue was kept alive here yesterday by threats of a lawsuit against the city and a denial that Gov. Long intervened.

It was learned that Joe Joseph, president of Monroe Airport Service whose bid for hangar three was rejected by the City Council, is "seriously contemplating" filing suit.

Meanwhile, Commissioner W. D. Rodriguez denied talking to Gov. Long, who reportedly called him in an effort to swing the City Council in its decision.

The council, meeting in special session in the mayor's chamber, awarded the hangar lease to Louisiana Aircraft Corporation by virtue of its $610 per month bid. A third bid was made by Brown Aero, Inc., for $441 per month.

It was reported by authoritative sources that Long attempted to prevent the city from making the move.

By late afternoon, the issue presumably was dead after several days of being spurred to prominence by reports that Commissioner H. W. McSherry was favoring Joseph's flat bid of $400 per month.

Verified Report

But Attorney Travis Oliver, Jr., who represented Joseph at the morning meeting, verified a report that Joseph is considering suing the city on grounds that he submitted the highest bid.

At the same time, Rodriguez, who was appointed to the council by Long when Wayne H. Huckaby resigned, refuted reports that the governor called him.

"I haven't seen or talked to the governor since I was appointed a year ago," Rodriguez stated. "In fact, I've never talked to him

Monroe Woman President-Elect Of Dental Group

Mrs. Frances Fox of Shreveport was installed as president and Mrs. Lottie Fisher, Monroe, was named president elect yesterday as the Louisiana Dental Assistants Association convention closed here.

Officers for the Louisiana Dental Association which completes its 78th annual conference here today, will be named this morning.

Evelyn Smith, Shreveport, was named the new secretary treasurer for the dental assistants.

Mrs. Fox will head the association for the coming year and Mrs Fisher will assume the chairman's duties at next year's convention.

Capt. George W. Ferguson, Dental Corps, U.S. Navy, Dr. Shailer Peterson, American Dental Association official, and Dr. Frederick A. Hohlt, assistant professor of operative denistry at Indiana University, spoke before meetings here yesterday.

With Navy

Ferguson spoke on "Amalgam Restoration." He is presently serving with the Navy at Bathesda, Md., Naval Dental School, and a member of the International Association of Dental Research.

Hohlt, speaking before the dental assistants, emphasized improved education in the field, with special aim toward meeting endorsement standards of the American Dental Association.

AEC Issues Warning To Pacifists

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Atomic Energy Commission Friday posted "keep out" orders against a group of American Quakers now en route to Eniwetok in the Pacific aboard a 30-foot sailing boat to protest imminent U.S. nuclear tests.

The commission issued an unprecedented order barring all unauthorized Americans from the 390,000-square mile danger zone around the test site.

The order was in general terms. But it was learned it was designed specifically to apply to four Quakers now en route to the proving grounds to establish a protesting "picket line."

The four, representing "the committee for non-violent action against nuclear weapons," sailed from Los Angeles late last month aboard the ketch "Golden Rule."

In Pasadena, Calif., a spokesman for the group said they were somewhere between the West Coast and Honolulu. They planned to stop there briefly to replenish their supplies before setting out for Eniwetok.

The spokesman said a decision on complying with the AEC order would be made either by the Philadelphia headquarters of the Quaker organization or by the captain of the "Golden Rule," 51-year-old Albert Bigelow of Cos Cob, Conn.

3 Men Found Innocent Of Charges Here

Judge David I. Garrett yesterday found Shady Wall, Fred L. Barnes and Steve F. Moore innocent of charges of illegally playing cards.

Wall, a former state representative from Ouachita parish, Barnes, a former State Police major, and Moore were charged with the offense on Feb. 27, 1957, at a tourist cabin.

The decision handed down at 12:15 p. m. yesterday in Fourth District Court, culminated a year in which the three men continually stated they were innocent of any violation of parish law.

Judge's View

Judge Garrett stated that he did not "see any evidence to show a violation of the ordinance."

All witnesses called yesterday appeared for the state. Among them were Sheriff Bailey Grant and two deputies, who testified that when Grant and Deputy W. O. Causey entered the cabin where the men were arrested, cards and chips were on the table.

Judge Rules

Judge Garrett ruled that the parish ordinance states it is against the law to play cards so that something of value is at stake. However, he continued, it is not illegal to play cards under other conditions. Testimony yesterday did not say that any money or valuables were at stake in the game.

In his ruling, the judge said he thought the state should have produced more evidence if a conviction was expected. "I thought maybe they had planted a man to substantiate that a violation had been committed," he said.

Another state witness was the manager of the tourist court who rented the room to Moore. The three were arrested in Moore's room.

DR. BENDEL MEMORIAL

Fund Drive Extends Past Half-Way Mark

The Bendel Memorial Fund for a little League baseball project was more than half subscribed in cash yesterday as donations for the day sent the total of funds in the bank to $8,023. The board of trustees has set a goal of $16,000 as necessary for the miniature baseball stadium project in Forsythe Park.

Contributions yesterday came from the Sicily Island Rotary Club "football fund," Steve Holloway of Beaumont, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Wilson, the Bosco Union Church and Sunday School, Slagle-Johnson Lumber Company, and a couple of "friends."

Meanwhile, Little League directors plan to play baseball at the Forsythe Park site this year even if construction plans aren't as fast as desired.

Jack Hesketh, Monroe recreation director and Little League secretary, yesterday said poles for the park lights are already on the scene, and that necessary reflectors for night lighting have already been ordered.

Early Construction

"Construction will probably start within the next two weeks," Hesketh said, "but how far we go in planning will depend on how quickly we can realize the necessary funds."

The $8,023 banked by trustees represents actual cash collected. Several hundred dollars in pledges still remain to be collected, and these, if obtained soon, could quickly send the fund over the $10,000 - mark.

Fan Dancer Has Bold TV Start In Old Britain

LONDON (AP)—Fan dancer Rhoda Rogers made history in staid old Britain last night. She soloed on television dressed only in a G-string and a pair of tiny rosebuds. And nobody complained.

The bright - eyed 27 - year - old dancer showed up at TV rehearsals earlier in the week carrying a pair of fans, the G-string around her middle and the rosebuds on her chest.

"Wow!," exclaimed Douglas Hern, producing the variety show for commercial TV. "Wouldn't you be more comfortable wearing a little more?"

"No," snapped Rhoda. "I'm a fan dancer. What do you expect me to do, dance in blue jeans?"

The producer gave in. Rhoda's shapely form wiggled across the TV screens.

The television network said no complaints were received.

"But they would have had them had I gone on in anything but my G-string and rosebuds," beamed Rhoda.

Solon Scores Taxes And Farm Program

Congressman Otto E. Passman yesterday blamed a "mis-managed farm program and high taxes" for the nation's so - called recession, which he described as "a little dip."

Passman, an open critic to President Eisenhower and the Republican party, said the declining national economy was created by the GOP's "leaning toward big industry and Eastern banking interests."

"They (the Republicans) have never been able to run the government with the right perspective of the entire nation in mind." Passman exclaimed in an interview prior to his departure for Washington.

The Fifth District congressman, who Thursday said he definitely will run again in July, produced statistics in support of his beliefs that the farm program and taxes are resonsible for the "little dip."

Passman's statistics, which were obtained from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, showed that the total net income of farm operators in the nation dropped almost $3 - billion from 1952 to 1957 — a decline from $15,120,000,000 to $12,121,000,000.

Income Drop

While the decline was being felt all over the country, Passman pointed out, the Louisiana total net income of farm operators dropped from $273,100,000 to $143,671,000.

"That doesn't reflect the entire picture either, Passman said, "The purchasing power of net farm income, on a national basis, dropped $3,272,000,000 — from $13,597,000,000 in 1952 to $10,325,000,000."

He went on to point out that the decline of purchasing power

'Justifiable Homicide' Ruled In Turner Case

By JACK V. FOX

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Lana Turner's 14-year-old daughter, Cheryl, was found by a coroner's jury Friday to have committed "justifiable homicide" when she plunged a butcher knife into Johnny Stompanato, her mother's jealous and violent lover.

The verdict was returned swiftly after the 10 men and 2 women heard Lana swear that Cheryl killed Stompanato after she heard him tell the actress she would hop and jump for him or he would cut her beautiful face.

Stompanato, 32, a Hollywood hoodlum who had romanced Lana from Europe to Mexico to the movie capital the past few months also threatened to murder the actress, her mother and Cheryl, Miss Turner said.

Tells of Stabbing

The blonde Lana, weeping, trembling and clenching her fists on the witness stand, told a coroner's inquest that Cheryl plunged the knife into the six-foot ex-Marine's stomach so fast she never even saw the blade.

The inquest verdict does not formally affect Cheryl's legal position. She still must appear at a juvenile court hearing on April 24 when it will be determined whether or not to prosecute her and on what charge. She is now being held on suspicion of murder.

But Friday's finding will undoubtedly be taken into account by the district attorney's office which also could drop the case as justificable homicide and free the girl entirely.

Her testimony was the highlight of a circus-like hearing which saw a spectator jump up to shout that Cheryl was in love with Stompanato herself and a bit of comic relief when racketeer Mickey Cohen refused to identify the slain man as Stompanato lest he be charged with murder.

But the courtroom was hushed as Lana got to the events just preceding her lover's death. She said they had been arguing violently in front of Cheryl and then

U.S. Rejects Soviet Bid For Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States swiftly rejected Friday the price Russia demanded to open lower-level diplomatic talks in advance of an East-West summit meeting.

The White House, moving with unusual speed, turned a cold shoulder to a new Russian note renewing the Kremlin's bid for top-level talks.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty labeled the Soviet reply, the 12th in a round which began last December, as "not an acceptance" of Western conditions for a summit meeting.

The Soviets proposed that Western Big Three ambassadors meet next Thursday in Moscow with Russian representatives. They proposed that this be followed up by a foreign ministers conference between May 1 and May 15.

Top officials in studying the Soviet note quickly found these three objections:

1. Russia is seeking to force the West to agree to a summit meeting even before the results of lower-level diplomatic talks are known. The West has insisted that a top level meeting be convened only if prior diplomatic talks demonstrate prospect of agreement.

2. The talks by ambassadors which Moscow has suggested would be limited to discussing organizational arrangements for the later foreign ministers meeting.

3. Russia is insisting on the right to veto any discussion of problems to which it objects at the later foreign ministers conference. This would guarantee that only topics agreeable to the Kremlin would be discussed at the summit, presumably ruling out negotiations on German unity and more freedom for European satellites of Russia.

The speedy American reaction came while President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles discussed the newest Soviet diplomatic move at the White House. It reflected the administration's reported determination to reply swiftly to Soviet notes which are viewed as mainiy designed for international propaganda.

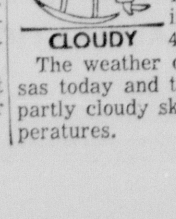
Hagerty's comment, read to newsmen, said the implications of the Soviet note "will, of course, be carefully studied."

The State Department said it would begin close consultations promptly with America's 14 Atlantic Pact allies to draft a reply for the Kremlin.

Diplomatic authorities forecast that the Western answer would be a counterproposal, reasserting a desire to meet at the summit but only with satisfactory diplomatic preparation showing that the meeting would not be a spectacle.

Clear To Partly Cloudy Forecast

Clear to partly cloudy skies are expected in the Twin Cities area today and tomorrow with continued mild temperatures.



A maximum of 68 was recorded yesterday, and a minimum of 49. Thursday's readings were 64 and 48.

The weather outlook for Arkansas today and tomorrow calls for partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures.

AFTER BID REJECTION

Suit Threatened On Hangar Issue

City Hall's hot Selman Field hangar issue was kept alive here yesterday by threats of a lawsuit against the city and a denial that Gov. Long intervened.

It was learned that Joe Joseph, president of Monroe Airport Service whose bid for hangar three was rejected by the City Council, is "seriously contemplating" filing suit.

Meanwhile, Commissioner W. D. Rodriguez denied talking to Gov. Long, who reportedly called him in an effort to swing the City Council in its decision.

The council, meeting in special session in the mayor's chamber, awarded the hangar lease to Louisiana Aircraft Corporation by virtue of its $610 per month bid. A third bid was made by Brown Aero, Inc., for $441 per month.

It was reported by authoritative sources that Long attempted to prevent the city from making the move.

By late afternoon, the issue presumably was dead after several days of being spurred to prominence by reports that Commissioner H. W. McSherry was favoring Joseph's flat bid of $400 per month.

Verified Report

But Attorney Travis Oliver, Jr., who represented Joseph at the morning meeting, verified a report that Joseph is considering suing the city on grounds that he submitted the highest bid.

At the same time, Rodriguez, who was appointed to the council by Long when Wayne H. Huckaby resigned, refuted reports that the governor called him.

"I haven't seen or talked to the governor since I was appointed a year ago," Rodriguez stated. "In fact, I've never talked to him

AEC Issues Warning To Pacifists

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Atomic Energy Commission Friday posted "keep out" orders against a group of American Quakers now en route to Eniwetok in the Pacific aboard a 30-foot sailing boat to protest imminent U.S. nuclear tests.

The commission issued an unprecedented order barring all unauthorized Americans from the 390,000-square mile danger zone around the test site.

The order was in general terms. But it was learned it was designed specifically to apply to four Quakers now en route to the proving grounds to establish a protesting "picket line."

The four, representing "the committee for non-violent action against nuclear weapons," sailed from Los Angeles late last month aboard the ketch "Golden Rule."

In Pasadena, Calif., a spokesman for the group said they were somewhere between the West Coast and Honolulu. They planned to stop there briefly to replenish their supplies before setting out for Eniwetok.

The spokesman said a decision on complying with the AEC order would be made either by the Philadelphia headquarters of the Quaker organization or by the captain of the "Golden Rule," 51-year-old Albert Bigelow of Cos Cob, Conn.

Monroe Woman President-Elect Of Dental Group

Mrs. Frances Fox of Shreveport was installed as president and Mrs. Lottie Fisher, Monroe, was named president elect yesterday as the Louisiana Dental Assistants Association convention closed here.

Officers for the Louisiana Dental Association which completes its 78th annual conference here today, will be named this morning.

Evelyn Smith, Shreveport, was named the new secretary treasurer for the dental assistants.

Mrs. Fox will head the association for the coming year and Mrs Fisher will assume the chairman's duties at next year's convention.

Capt. George W. Ferguson, Dental Corps, U.S. Navy, Dr. Shailer Peterson, American Dental Association official, and Dr. Frederick A. Hohlt, assistant professor of operative denistry at Indiana University, spoke before meetings here yesterday.

With Navy

Ferguson spoke on "Amalgam Restoration." He is presently serving with the Navy at Bathesda, Md., Naval Dental School, and a member of the International Association of Dental Research.

Hohlt, speaking before the dental assistants, emphasized improved education in the field, with special aim toward meeting endorsement standards of the American Dental Association.

3 Men Found Innocent Of Charges Here

Judge David I. Garrett yesterday found Shady Wall, Fred L. Barnes and Steve F. Moore innocent of charges of illegally playing cards.

Wall, a former state representative from Ouachita parish, Barnes, a former State Police major, and Moore were charged with the offense on Feb. 27, 1957, at a tourist cabin.

The decision handed down at 12:15 p. m. yesterday in Fourth District Court, culminated a year in which the three men continually stated they were innocent of any violation of parish law.

Judge's View

Judge Garrett stated that he did not "see any evidence to show a violation of the ordinance."

All witnesses called yesterday appeared for the state. Among them were Sheriff Bailey Grant and two deputies, who testified that when Grant and Deputy W. O. Causey entered the cabin where the men were arrested, cards and chips were on the table.

Judge Rules

Judge Garrett ruled that the parish ordinance states it is against the law to play cards so that something of value is at stake. However, he continued, it is not illegal to play cards under other conditions. Testimony yesterday did not say that any money or valuables were at stake in the game.

In his ruling, the judge said he thought the state should have produced more evidence if a conviction was expected. "I thought maybe they had planted a man to substantiate that a violation had been committed," he said.

Another state witness was the manager of the tourist court who rented the room to Moore. The three were arrested in Moore's room.

DR. BENDEL MEMORIAL

Fund Drive Extends Past Half-Way Mark

The Bendel Memorial Fund for a little League baseball project was more than half subscribed in cash yesterday as donations for the day sent the total of funds in the bank to $8,023. The board of trustees has set a goal of $16,000 as necessary for the miniature baseball stadium project in Forsythe Park.

Contributions yesterday came from the Sicily Island Rotary Club "football fund," Steve Holloway of Beaumont, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Wilson, the Bosco Union Church and Sunday School, Slagle-Johnson Lumber Company, and a couple of "friends."

Meanwhile, Little League directors plan to play baseball at the Forsythe Park site this year even if construction plans aren't as fast as desired.

Jack Hesketh, Monroe recreation director and Little League secretary, yesterday said poles for the park lights are already on the scene, and that necessary reflectors for night lighting have already been ordered.

Early Construction

"Construction will probably start within the next two weeks," Hesketh said, "but how far we go in planning will depend on how quickly we can realize the necessary funds."

The $8,023 banked by trustees represents actual cash collected. Several hundred dollars in pledges still remain to be collected, and these, if obtained soon, could quickly send the fund over the $10,000 - mark.

Fan Dancer Has Bold TV Start In Old Britain

LONDON (AP)—Fan dancer Rhoda Rogers made history in staid old Britain last night. She soloed on television dressed only in a G-string and a pair of tiny rosebuds. And nobody complained.

The bright-eyed 27-year-old dancer showed up at TV rehearsals earlier in the week carrying a pair of fans, the G-string around her middle and the rosebuds on her chest.

"Wow!," exclaimed Douglas Hern, producing the variety show for commercial TV. "Wouldn't you be more comfortable wearing a little more?"

"No," snapped Rhoda. "I'm a fan dancer. What do you expect me to do, dance in blue jeans?"

The producer gave in. Rhoda's shapely form wiggled across the TV screens.

The television network said no complaints were received.

"But they would have had them had I gone on in anything but my G-string and rosebuds," beamed Rhoda.

Canvass Planned For Parish's Cancer Crusade

Thousands of leaflets will be distributed in Ouachita Parish homes tomorrow, as workers make a house-to-house canvass on this Cancer Control Sunday.

Mac Ward, parish chairman of the annual American Cancer Society educational and fund-raising drive, said that it "stands to reason that somewhere some of these leaflets may make the difference between life and death."

Ward said cancer drive officials hope the residents of the parish will give generously to the crusade, in order that cancer programs of research, education and service may be expanded.

Pete Brennan, Roy Searcy, Tommy Kearns and Bob Cunningham will be graduated before North Carolina's next baseball season rolls around.

Okay Given To Recreation W.M. Leader

Approval for the hiring of a full-time recreation director for the West Monroe playgrounds during June, July and August of this year was given last night by the West Monroe City Council.

The mayor and council members are to approve the salary.

In their brief session, the group also authorized the purchase and installation of street markers for the business district of the city.

A city ordinance pertaining to dogs running loose on the streets or other public places was amended by the council. The ordinance now provides that any dog found in a public place without a current vaccination tag can be destroyed by police, if all reasonable efforts to catch the dog fail.

In other action, the council approved one beer license, one package whiskey license and one retail whiskey license.

Kelly Is Urging Right Turns On Red After Stop

Turning right on red lights — but only after the motorist has come to a complete stop to observe oncoming traffic—was urged anew by Monroe Chief of Police James C. Kelly Jr. yesterday.

Kelly pointed out that this action often keeps the flow of traffic at a steady pace, but does not interfere with the traffic signals.

"We want to stress, however, that the motorist, in order to avoid any possible trouble, must come to a complete stop before pulling out into the lane of traffic."

Kelly Is Urging Right Turns On Red After Stop

Turning right on red lights — but only after the motorist has come to a complete stop to observe oncoming traffic—was urged anew by Monroe Chief of Police James C. Kelly Jr. yesterday.

Kelly pointed out that this action often keeps the flow of traffic at a steady pace, but does not interfere with the traffic signals.

"We want to stress, however, that the motorist, in order to avoid any possible trouble, must come to a complete stop before pulling out into the lane of traffic."

Tax Suit Filed Against 2 Here

Suit was filed yesterday in the Ouachita parish clerk of court's office against W. C. Sims and Robert Gayle, who are listed as trading as Good Housekeeping Center, 600 N. Fourth St.

The suit that they owe $1,877.32 in general sales taxes for the period from August to November 1957.

In addition, a $181.64 penalty and $35.28 in interest have been added, to bring the total to $2,094.24. They are due to appear in Fourth District Court on April 21.

LANA SHOWS WHERE KNIFE HIT — Actress Lana Turner touches her abdomen as she explained to a Coroner's jury in Los Angeles yesterday how her 14-year-old daughter fatally stabbed Johnny Stompanato with a single quick thrust to his midsection. She said she didn't see the knife but saw Stompanato, her handsome Latin lover, clutch his abdomen and fall to the floor. The jury ruled the killing was justifiable homicide. (AP Wirephoto)

BROKEN ARM

Facts Discovered In Miss. Fracas

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Police Chief Curtis Lary Friday said it was not known that a Doddsville Negro school teacher's arm was broken when she was arrested after a fracas in a local department store.

Lary said Constance Virginia Johnson, 23, complained later of continuing pain in the area of her wrist and treatment was arranged immediately.

The statement by Lary was the latest development in a bitter exchange involving the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP said Constance Johnson was beaten and her arm broken last Saturday when she sought to pay her bill at a Greenwood department store.

Lary denied the NAACP version. He said the woman attacked Charlie Carroll, the store's elderly credit manager, without provocation when she was refused credit and the two fell down a short flight of stairs during a scuffle.

Today's statement by Lary said Constance Johnson "was actually admitted to the local hospital at 2:30 p.m. (Saturday) where her arm was immediately tended to by a competent local physician. She was released on bond that night," he said. "At no tir [illegible] anyone hit the woman or eit[illegible] of her companions."

Employes of the store, the police chief said, testified at Constance Johnson's trial that she became angry when Carroll denied her credit and "made an unwarranted hand and fist assault upon Mr. Carroll."

Constance Johnson was convicted of assault and battery in Greenwood city court Wednesday and fined $100 and sentence to 30 days on the country farm.

Her 18-year-old brother, Bernard Allen, was fined $100 on similar charges, and her sister, Sandra, 15, was turned over to juvenile court.

Constance Johnson was released under $1,000 bond, while her brother was released on $500.

Lary's statement said witnesses testified that Carroll and Constance Johnson fell down a flight of stairs leading from Carroll's office to the main floor of the store "and it later developed that Constance Johnson's arm was broken in the fall."

Lary said the three "all were present at the trial and they were represented by two attorneys. Although permitted to do so," he said, "none of them took the witness stand and there was no dispute whatsoever of the testimony establishing the facts as above set out."

Lary said Carroll is crippled by arthritis and recently was released from a hospital. He quoted witnesses as saying Carroll was cut behind his ear during the melee.

Senate Sets Up Saftey Checkup

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Senate today passed a bill setting up a semi-annual motor vehicle safety inspection program.

Mississippi permits municipalities to inspect cars under present law but there are no provisions for collecting a fee. This makes enforcement of the law impossible.

The Senate bill would require a 50-cent fee for each inspection.

Under the bill, which faces House consideration, the highway patrol would make the inspections, traveling from county to county; or, the commissioner of public safety could establish permanent inspection stations.

Teachers For Next Session Are Selected

TALLULAH (Special) — At the April meeting of the Madison Parish School Board held in the school board office here the following teachers were elected for [illegible] 1958 - 59 session:

Mrs. W. B. Adams, Mrs. R. D. Fain, Mrs. Pauline Gordy, Mrs. Nancy J. Hull, Miss Carleen Griffin, Mrs. Chris C. Kimbell, Mrs. Annette S. Laird, Mrs. Mary Salter Watson, Mrs. Pearl L. Floyd, Mrs. Alice Neal Killian, Mrs. Mary Claire Warren, Mrs. Frances Wyly, Martin Verhagen, Robert A. Holstead, Miss Marie Pierron, Mrs. Dorothy Bray, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Stone, Billy Laird, Mrs. Claudia Post, Robert L. Daughdril, Mrs. Cynthia T. Stewart, Miss Maria Maggio, C. M. Matthews.

The superintendent was authorized to make an all out effort to secure a speech correctionist for next session.

It was voted to purchase two 48 passenger school buses at $14,050 each and an automobile, without trade for $1871.26 from Tallulah Motor Co., the lowest bidder.

The board accepted the bid of Frank Watson for $25 for the sale of wooden stands at the Tallulah High School football field with the understanding that it be moved immediately.

The board adopted a resolution commending the principal and faculty of the Tallulah High School for the high rating of high school students in winning the Class A championship at the Northeast Louisiana literary rally in Ruston.

Tex. Ag. Official Predicts Tag Sale

AUSTIN (UP) — Agriculture Commissioner John White predicted Friday seed tag sales in Texas this year will reach the five million mark for the first time in history.

White said about four million seed labels have been issued so far in this fiscal year — ending Aug. 31 — and said the summer rush would boost the total over five million.

He attributed the increase to a rise in hybrid grain sorghum acreage last year, about three times the 1956 acreage, and greater cottonseed sales.

"Many farmers are having to plant twice as much cottonseed because of low germination qualities this year," White explained.

White pointed out all planting seed offered for sale in Texas must be tested and must have Texas tested seed labels attached to each container.

BORN INTO WORK

VOA Chief Got Running Start

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fifty-two years ago, 18-year-old Charles Brandon Booth took a temporary job as general secretary of the Volunteers of America's Prison League.

"I planned to stay only until they found someone else," he says But that job lasted 10 years and next month Booth, now 70, is due to retire as commander of the whole VOA organization.

Gen. Booth was born into his work, even though he wasn't sure at first.

His grandparents, William and Catherine Booth, founded the Salvation Army in the London slums during the last century.

His father and mother, Ballington and Maul Booth, broke with the Army over organizational policies and founded the Volunteers of America in 1896.

Ballington Booth commanded the Volunteers from the organization's founding until his death in 1940 at 83. Then Maud Booth became commander. The job passed to her son at her death in 1948.

The current Gen. Booth will be the last of the family to hold the post. None of his children — two sons and a daughter — has gone into VOA work. Is he disappointed?

"No. One must have divine guidance to enter this work. The young should never be urged into a particular job or work. They should find their profession on their own bent."

Sons Richard and Weldon are engineers. Daughter Audrey is Mrs. Arthur E. Ueland of New Hyde Park, N.Y., wife of an importer.

Gen. Booth is looking forward to retirement. He feels it will help the Volunteers.

"It's wonlerful that my successor will have an opportunity I never had. I did not become commander until I was 61. My successor will be in his 40s or 50s. He'll have 25 years of work ahead."

The general's successor will be chosen in the last week of May, during the Grand Field Council meeting in San Francisco. The probable choice lies among the VOA's 14 colonels.

Retirement for Gen. Booth won't mean a life of ease and inactivity around the home he purchased recently in La Mesa, Calif.

"I may hand over the gavel to a successor," he says, "but I'll keep on working when I want to.

"I've been lecturing for 52 years now. I'll keep on. Maybe not as intensive as before. When you pass 70 I think you should slow down a bit."

Paid Segregationists

Contrary to the views of a considerable proportion of the Mississippi state legislature, Gov. J. P. Coleman has expressed strong opposition to giving tax money to pro-segregation citizens councils for propaganda purposes.

The governor undoubtedly is right and the legislators will either realize this fact now by serious consideration or later by bitter experience. It is one thing to allow various groups of citizens who may be conscientious to carry on their own private campaigns in behalf of the causes they support and an entirely different matter to hand over the state's tax money to them. One is a legitimate democratic practice. The other is an evil device that could create an unholy political machine out of state funds.

Governor Coleman told a senate judiciary committee:

"I am opposed to any group purporting to perform the duties of state government.

"The preservation of the sovereignty of the state of Mississippi is a function of the state government by the people . . . who are answerable to the people who elect them. It is not the function of 200 or 300 organizations or 200 or 300 groups or 82 groups.

"That's our job."

Because of instances of violence and rabid action, Mississippi, in its history, has had several black marks on its record. This is undoubtedly true of other states, but the governor is trying to save his state from another such black mark.

Citizens councils are made up of people who are responsible only to themselves. Many of them have few rules of behavior and if they do have there is no guarantee that these rules will be observed. An organization of this kind is only as good as its members and the people do not have a chance to choose its members, as they do the officials of a state.

In some sections the citizens councils opposed to integration are made up of leading citizens and their character is of the highest type. In other areas the councils have been formed by people who are not responsible and who want to function as a sort of subsidiary or unofficial government. In this they want to function much as some Ku Klux Klan groups function.

Regardless of whether the citizens councils are made up of the finest citizens or those most irresponsible, they are not officially elected people in the state government and have no right to spend tax money to carry on their operations.

The Mississippi house bill, which still faces committee and senate action, would authorize cities and counties to spend $100 per million dollars of assessed valuation a year for propaganda.

Coleman argued the bill could boomerang by enabling private groups to set up political machines and by giving the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People an incentive to raise even more money.

The governor said:

"Sometimes I think we are repeating step by step the same performance that destroyed us once before. Sometimes I think there is a curse on Mississippi that keeps us stumbling over the Negro problem and falling on our faces."

Some legislators have been irritated by the sovereignty commission's refusal to contribute state funds to citizens councils. This commission is the state's watchdog agency against integration.

The proposal to turn state funds over to private groups for the purpose of setting up political machines appears to be about as bad as anything that could be suggested as far as orderly government is concerned.

Aside from that, the question arises: "Why should such a fund be necessary in Mississippi?" The white people of that state are said to be virtually unanimous in their opposition to integration. If that is true, how can propaganda make them more so? Those honestly opposed to integration do not need a "bracer."

Khrushchev War Dance

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, contender for honors as the world's champion propaganda circus showman, seems to possess the ability to keep a large proportion of the citizens and officials of the United States in a constant dither. He is always frightening them mad.

Khruschie's latest pop-off should be pleasing to those who seem to have reached the conclusion that Russia is superior to the United States. In the first place, it shows that the Soviet premier is jealous and envious of American prosperity and, in the second place, it indicates that if the United States has become soft, as some people choose to believe, the Russian people will soon be headed for a similar fate.

The thing that stands out most in Nikita's speech is the statement that:

"And then we will see, in the final analysis, who eats most and who has the most clothes."

He goes on to say:

"It will not be very long. We will jump the obstacle of the highest capitalist country, which is the U.S.A. Then, my dear friends, we will see . . ."

Khrushchev's eagerness to outdo the United States in anything that comes along is about on a par with the small boy who goes around boasting, "My dad can lick your dad."

There is no doubt that Russia intends to contest with the United States along all lines of endeavor. Its competitive spirit has been whipped up to a high level.

For those who think the United States is going soft, this should be good news. Competition is the thing that makes the strong man stronger and the fast runner faster. Few world's records are set except in actual competition.

There is another thing that should be pleasing to those people who think Russia has surpassed this country.

Khrushchev is staging a mighty fight for popular support of the people of his country. His promise to give the Russians the kind of food the people in the United States eat and the kind of clothes they wear shows that the Russian dictator thinks the Russian people want to live the way the Americans live.

In a part of his speech, Khrushchev revealed that his proposal to end nuclear tests is propaganda and nothing else. He shrugged off demands of the United States and other western powers for rigid inspection of controls in any agreement for nuclear disarmament.

"The Americans want to fly over our country and want us to fly over theirs," he said. "We want to do neither."

He has faith that if the nations were to agree to abandon nuclear development the United States would do just that, leaving itself unprotected while Russia went ahead with full development of its war potential.

Officials of the United States and other western nations know that any agreement to disarm, without accompanying inspections, would be suicide for those nations.

Soul Of Man In Springtime Is Like Tallest Skyscraper

NEW YORK (AP)— There are many days in Manhattan when a man feels his soul has the altitude of an African pygmy.

But the payoff days come in spring. Then everyone shrugs off his coat of winter morbidity, and the tallest skyscraper is only knee-high to his soaring mind.

On such a day, when spring fever grips the big city, it turns into a small town.

The rush slows to a walk.

Folks quit shoving each other in the subway.

File clerks sail paper airplanes out the windows.

The harried bus driver calmeth his temper and crieth "Welcome!" to the passenger.

The angry cabbie ceaseth to unbraid the foolhardy pedestrian, and runneth over him not.

The pigeon—that flying panhandler—forgets the free peanut on the ground and wings after free love.

The rich theatrical agent, overcome by intimations of a common humanity, buys the unemployed actor a hot dog, and accepts his thanks with misty eye.

The old cop on the beat reaches up and fingers an opening leaf on a grimy tree, and wonders how it will be when he retires to Florida.

The young window washer, once a paratrooper in Korea, leans out lazily against his belt—44 floors over the ant-men below—and yawns at the clouds.

The sadness dies out of the voice of the guitar-playing blind beggar on Broadway. He sings a new tune, and passers-by clink silver music into the cup that is his portable cash register.

The rich city dog, strolling down Park Ave. at the end of a leash held by a hired doorman feels a bit warm in his mink wrap. His nose inspects only every other hydrant on his route. It is too much work to check them all.

Down on the East Side, mattresses bloom on the fire escapes in their first spring airing. Lines of fresh laundry, the flags of the poor, dance from one tenement wall to another.

From the remaining fine old saloons on new-proud 3rd Ave. a distinctive aroma of beer spread for half a block. And, sniffing, the passing wastrel tracks it back to the spout.

In the housing developments baby buggies create a new traffic problem. Bundled infants blink up at the bright sun with the wise look of owls.

Up in Central Park the polar bear crawls sleepily up on his rock, and dreams of rising and falling in polar seas. Bums drowse on the benches under the statues of heroes who, thanks to all-out pigeon bombings, appear like bums also. The statues look as if they would like to sit down and take it easy, too.

The wonder of living creeps into the heart of the office peasant. He yawneth at his desk, he dawdleth long at the water cooler, he wisheth it were champagne.

The new stenographer who cannot type has fewer critics. Who cares? In her bright chemise she is lovely as a rose in a flour sack of many colors. Could the Queen of Sheba type? The middle-aged bookkeeper stareth at her, forgetteth the small noisy hungry mouths at home, and maketh errors in his accounts.

Distance lends enchantment, and everyone wishes the boss would become more enchanted by going home early. Duty no longer calls; it barely whispers.

Everyone wants to go out in the open air to find an apple tree in bloom to lie under and remember when he was young, and his love was too.

Just mass spring fever, turning people back into people again by the magic of April. It will pass. And that's the pity of it.

Congress May Hit Films Glorifying Desperados

Congress may crack down on the motion picture industry if a current trend of movies glorifying well known desperados and bank robbers of the '30's continues unabated.

One congressman has already called for an investigation by the House Judiciary committee to look into a recent popular film portraying the bloody career of the notorious "Baby Face" Nelson.

Rep. H. Allen Smith, Rep.-Calif., assailed such films which, he said, portray such killers as "heroes" and law enforcement officers as "fools and roughnecks."

Smith's attack on the crime biography of "Baby Face" Nelson whose real name was Lester Gillis was picked up by the Nation's number one law enforcement officer, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Hoover in a letter to Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, asked the industry to end the latest rash of crime pictures prompted by the box office success of the film titled "Baby Face Nelson."

"Baby Face Nelson" gave a sympathetic portrayal of Gillis throughout most of the film but ended with the usual Hollywood moral that "crime does not pay."

Gillis, or Nelson as he was known in the headlines, was in real life a paranoic killer who shot two FBI agents to death in 1935 before he was found on a lonely country road shot to death himself, presumably by some of his own gang.

Hoover, in his letter to Johnston warned the industry of a 1954 law which forbids the use of the FBI's name in motion pictures or advertisements, in a manner calculated to give the impression that a film or product bears the endorsement of the FBI.

He expressed deep concern as a law enforcement officer that some crime movies often result in the glorification of criminals and gangsters, who become "false idols" to the Nation's youth.

Rep. Smith, a former FBI agent himself, said that while he did not take part in the pursuit of Nelson he has evidence that the film's recreation of events was not factual. He charged it glamorized one of the "most murderous gangsters in our history" and was unfit for juveniles to see.

Hollywood plans to follow up the success of "Baby Face Nelson" with movies portraying the sordid but spectacular careers of such other desperados as "Pretty Boy" Floyd, "Machine Gun" Kelly, and "Bonnie Parker."

Many of these film producers are so - called independents which do not beling to the Motion Picture Association of America and do not comply to the MPAA's code of ethics in making films.

Because there is no industry-wide censor board which enforces mandatory ethics in film making, censorship of movies must often be made by local or state agencies.

Court decisions have hampered effective regulation of what is suitable movie fare and local censors themselves are inconsistent in deciding what is proper and what should be stricken from a film.

It is doubtful Congress will draft any sweeping censorship legislation governing the motion picture industry. Chances are the worst that could happen to the industry would be a congressional probe into filmland's movie making policies.

As long as films about gangsters, criminals, or underworld types prove popular at the box office, Hollywood, code or no code, will probably continue to grind such vehicles out.

The main objective of a film producer is that of any other businessman — to make money. If bloodshed violence, and crime prove profitable in these times when television is cutting so deeply into the movies' business then this is the kind of movie fare Hollywood will serve its patrons, especially the younger generation.

Many Affected By Cholesterol Scare

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

The cholesterol scare has led many individuals to ask for a diet to discourage hardening of the arteries. Such a regimen is unnecessary unless tests show that the blood is loaded with cholesterol or other fatty molecules or the physician advises restrictions in fat, particularly after a heart attack.

The best dietary plan, when the blood level is up, is to avoid visible fat and dairy products except skim milk and cottage cheese. Eat small servings of meat and trim away the fat from steaks, roast beef, and lamb chops. Avoid pork, bacon, and egg yolk.

There is no need for everyone to go overboard. A high cholesterol level can be lowered in other ways. For example, consuming vegetable (unsaturated) oils in meals helps nullify any adverse effects of animal fats The best products along this line are the oils from corn, cauliflower, soybean and fish.

This method is not as efficient as it sounds. Adding three grams of vegetable oil lowers the cholesterol as much as eliminating one gram of animal fat. In addition, vegetable oils are packed with calories and gaining weight will boost the cholesterol level automatically. The reading is increased also by stress, which means that a little tranquility will go a long way.

Weight reduction and exercise help. Certain plant steroids, such as sitosterol and lecithin, will decrease the amount of cholesterol in the blood. Thyroid extract steps up metabolism of the tissues, making the body use up its fat. Female sex hormones do the same but they have undesirable side reactions in men and in older women.

Let me emphasize once again that the pieces of the arteriosclerotic jigsaw puzzle are not all in place as yet. This is the time for moderation rather than for the wholesale elimination of many of our most nourishing foods.

Tomorrow: New times, new problems.

Courage in Cardiacs

D. W. writes: I recovered from a heart attack four years ago, and since then I worry and fret continually. Does coronary thrombosis cause a loss of courage?

Reply

It is natural to have the blues after recovery from a heart attack but some victims worry and fret so much they become neurotic. As a rule, this aspect is only temporary but may persist in those who fail to adjust to adversities. The majority of these individuals always have harbored feelings of insecurity, whether they were conscious of it or not. May I ask a question? How much courage did you have before your heart attack?

Checkups and Carrots

Mrs. J B. writes: Recently my father was asked to take a physical examination before being accepted for a job. He was asked not to eat any carrots before he went to the doctor, and after the examination was advised to decrease his carrot intake. Could you explain this?

Reply

The physician who made the examination ought to answer this question. I assume your father's skin is yellow because of eating too many carrots and other vegetables containing carotene (carotenemia).

High Pressure

F. S. writes: Does high blood pressure cause hypertension?

Reply

Physicians use these terms synonymously. Most persons with high blood pressure hyperreact to tension.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Higher Education May Hurt Sermon

Mark went "highhat" after he graduated from seminary. He started using 5-syllable words and imitated Don Quixote. He attacked Sin and Satan in the abstract. His sermons were very logical, but so dry his congregation couldn't follow him for 5 minutes. He won his arguments but lost his audience! So study this case carefully; then send for the booklet described below.

Case X-378: Mark W., aged 27, is a recent seminary graduate.

"Dr. Crane, Mark is a very talented clergyman," the head of his Pastoral Relations Committee admitted.

"But something has gone wrong. Actually, he used to make a more interesting sermon before he went to the seminary than he does now.

"For in the earlier days, he used homely examples from within the experiences of the farmers and townspeople comprising our congregation.

"Now he has lost that art and has begun to use 5-syllable words instead of simpler language.

"And he preaches about broad social issues instead of the practical needs of our people. Dr. Crane, why has this happened?"

Livewires Needed

It takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify a congregation.

The pastor thus must be fully charged with religious zeal and have a vital message for the immediate needs of his listeners.

Advanced education should be helpful to a preacher. But, alas, it sometimes works in reverse.

"The more college degrees a preacher has, the quicker his listeners go to sleep," runs an old adage.

And that is often true for young ministers frequently become enamoured of their professors' 5-syllable words and rhetorical attacks on impersonal Satan.

They glibly select a sermon topic on the United Nations or far off Africa when the average parishioner is much more concerned with Junior's misbehavior in high school or Betty's infatuation with a drinking teenager.

The center of human interest lies within our own epidermis: Every inch that a speaker moves away from our skin, we become less concerned.

Don Quixote Preachers

Some clergymen are also like Don Quixote. They set up a target in the form of Capitalism or Sin and then boldly launch a formal rhetorical attack.

Dr. Roy L. Smith, one of America's topnotch theologians and orators, warned young preachers about this.

"Beware lest you win your argument," he said, "but lose your audience.

Many clergymen deliver erudite discourses on Sunday morning. These may be logical works of art.

Yet the audience may either be snoring or daydreaming about some more personal problem.

The clergyman may thus have verbably demolished Sin or Satan, but his audience doesn't realize that fact, for it hasn't been following his "essay" type of sermon.

Most of America's clergymen are talented orators. But, alas, a sizable minority still are poor speakers. And a dry, dull speaker soon empties church pews.

Bishop Richard C. Raines realizes this fact acutely. He is a great orator himself, and follows Christ's own anecdotal or parable formula for speaking.

So he invited me on three occasions to address all three Methodist Conferences in Indiana to tell his clergymen the psychological strategy for making an interesting speech.

All great orators have hit upon this narrative formula by rule of thumb.

For people wake up and lean forward when listening to story telling, but settle back into indifference during the essay or expositional address.

Jesus would thus start out with a moral principle; then document it with cases or parables. That is still the best formula for public speaking ever devised.

So send for my booklet "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It is of vital importance to speakers, musicians and other public platform entertainers. It is also widely used in public speaking classes and by members of the Toastmaster's Clubs.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Overall Economic Thinking Advised

Elliott V. Bell, editor and publisher of Business Week, is an established economist who specializes in finance. He has the unusual distinction among experts that he has done as he has preached, which means that he seems to be successful in life, something that most financial writers are not, they continuing to give advice to all the world but taking not even their own for themselves.

In addition, Elliott Bell has had quite a public career, being for many years the principal economic adviser to Thomas E. Dewey when he was governor of New York state. He was also the state superintendent of banks, an important position, rarely held by a man of such financial ability and knowledge.

Therefore, it is only natural that Elliott Bell should have something to say about the current depression:

"... Neither the President nor any one else is commander in chief of our economic defense. We have a vast multiplicity of government intermediaries engaged in credit operations affecting the general economy—wholly without coordination. We have a diversity of private institutions engaged in major financial operations—entirely outside the discipline affecting the commercial banking system and in some cases—entirely without any discipline, even taxation."

This, of course, is a correct picture of the development of financial institutions and operations among a free people. It is characteristic of the competitive system that too many legal restrictions destroy competition and lead to government controls. Elliott Bell comes up with the idea:

"... Simple common sense indicates we ought at least to have some authority in government that would be responsible for thinking in terms of over-all economic policy"

It is characteristic of our people that whenever times become troubled we think of dictators. For instance, there was the NRA and the OPA and a whole slew of such organizations. Rent controls did prevent landlords somewhat from robbing their tenants in housing shortages, but it also produced a shortage of housing which has not yet been corrected and public housing has barely scratched the surface of our needs. On the other hand, had there been free competition, the likelihood is that slum clearance would have been as swift as the conversion of Park Avenue into an office building canyon has been.

We really face the same problem here that faces us concerning the reorganization of our Defense Department, namely, even if there are experts, is it safe, in a free society, to entrust great powers to few men or to a single individual, not elected by the people, not subject to control by Congress? How long can we remain free under such conditions?

Economics can be simple and can be complex. Everybody practices economics. When you buy a newspaper, take a ride on a bus, buy something on the installment plan or for cash, put money in the bank, write a check, do anything about buying, selling, spending, saving, taking wages, investing money, and so on, you are engaged in an economic activity. And the likelihood is you know what you are doing. Levittown, for instance, was not built by a theoretical economist, nor was Rockefeller Center. These are business enterprises, involving entrepreneurs, banks, insurance companies, contractors, engineers, architects, labor unions, etc. Each one is trying to make some money out of the deal. Meanwhile the buildings go up; wealth has been created; jobs are made available; our competitive society moves on.

In the Soviet system, such free action is forbidden. The government and party determine what is to be done and practically that means that all questions become subject to political policy. Shall we build a house or make a rocket? Shall we clear a slum in Moscow or invest in the improvement of China?

The essence in any proposal for economic dictatorship is that Congress should clothe the President with authority to do what he constitutionally is forbidden to do. That is why the Supreme Court was forced to throw the NRA into the discard. It was unconstitutional.

Paid Segregationists

Contrary to the views of a considerable proportion of the Mississippi state legislature, Gov. J. P. Coleman has expressed strong opposition to giving tax money to pro-segregation citizens councils for propaganda purposes.

The governor undoubtedly is right and the legislators will either realize this fact now by serious consideration or later by bitter experience. It is one thing to allow various groups of citizens who may be conscientious to carry on their own private campaigns in behalf of the causes they support and an entirely different matter to hand over the state's tax money to them. One is a legitimate democratic practice. The other is an evil device that could create an unholy political machine out of state funds.

Governor Coleman told a senate judiciary committee:

"I am opposed to any group purporting to perform the duties of state government.

"The preservation of the sovereignty of the state of Mississippi is a function of the state government by the people . . . who are answerable to the people who elect them. It is not the function of 200 or 300 organizations or 200 or 300 groups or 82 groups.

Rep. H. Allen Smith, Rep.-Calif., assailed such films which, he said, portray such killers as "heroes" and law enforcement officers as "fools and roughnecks."

Smith's attack on the crime biography of "Baby Face" Nelson whose real name was Lester Gillis was picked up by the Nation's number one law enforcement officer, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Hoover in a letter to Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, asked the industry to end the latest rash of crime pictures prompted by the box office success of the film titled "Baby Face Nelson."

"Baby Face Nelson" gave a sympathetic portrayal of Gill's throughout most of the film but ended with the usual Hollywood moral that "crime does not pay."

Gillis, or Nelson as he was known in the headlines, was in real life a paranoic killer who shot two FBI agents to death in 1935 before he was found on a lonely country road shot to death himself, presumably by some of his own gang.

Hoover, in his letter to Johnston warned the industry of a 1954 law which forbids the use of the FBI's name in motion pictures or advertisements, in a manner calculated to give the impression that a film or product bears the endorsement of the FBI.

He expressed deep concern as a law enforcement officer that some crime movies often result in the glorification of criminals and gangsters, who become "false idols" to the Nation's youth.

Rep. Smith, a former FBI agent himself, said that while he did not take part in the pursuit of Nelson he has evidence that the film's recreation of events was not factual. He charged it glamorized one of the "most murderous gangsters in our history" and was unfit for juveniles to see.

Hollywood plans to follow up the success of "Baby Face Nelson" with movies portraying the sordid but spectacular careers of such other desperados as "Pretty Boy" Floyd, "Machine Gun" Kelly, and "Bonnie Parker."

Many of these film producers are so - called independents which do not beling to the Motion Picture Association of America and do not comply to the MPAA's code of ethics in making films.

Because there is no industry-wide censor board which enforces mandatory ethics in film making, censorship of movies must often be made by local or state agencies.

Court decisions have hampered effective regulation of what is suitable movie fare and local censors themselves are inconsistent in deciding what is proper and what should be stricken from a film.

It is doubtful Congress will draft any sweeping censorship legislation governing the motion picture industry. Chances are the worst that could happen to the industry would be a congressional probe into filmland's movie making policies.

As long as films about gangsters, criminals, or underworld types prove popular at the box office, Hollywood, code or no code, will probably continue to grind such vehicles out.

The main objective of a film producer is that of any other businessman — to make money. If bloodshed violence, and crime prove profitable in these times when television is cutting so deeply into the movies' business then this is the kind of movie fare Hollywood will serve its patrons, especially the younger generation.

Many Affected By Cholesterol Scare

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

The cholesterol scare has led many individuals to ask for a diet to discourage hardening of the arteries. Such a regimen is unnecessary unless tests show that the blood is loaded with cholesterol or other fatty molecules or the physician advises restrictions in fat, particularly after a heart attack.

The best dietary plan, when the blood level is up, is to avoid visible fat and dairy products except skim milk and cottage cheese. Eat small servings of meat and trim away the fat from steaks, roast beef, and lamb chops. Avoid pork, bacon, and egg yolk.

There is no need for everyone to go overboard. A high cholesterol level can be lowered in other ways. For example, consuming vegetable (unsaturated) oils in meals helps nullify any adverse effects of animal fats The best products along this line are the oils from corn, cauliflower, soybean and fish.

This method is not as efficient as it sounds. Adding three grams of vegetable oil lowers the cholesterol as much as eliminating one gram of animal fat. In addition, vegetable oils are packed with calories and gaining weight will boost the cholesterol level automatically. The reading is increased also by stress, which means that a little tranquility will go a long way.

Weight reduction and exercise help. Certain plant steroids, such as sitosterol and lecithin, will decrease the amount of cholesterol in the blood. Thyroid extract steps up metabolism of the tissues, making the body use up its fat. Female sex hormones do the same but they have undesirable side reactions in men and in older women.

Let me emphasize once again that the pieces of the arteriosclerotic jigsaw puzzle are not all in place as yet. This is the time for moderation rather than for the wholesale elimination of many of our most nourishing foods.

Tomorrow: New times, new problems.

Courage in Cardiacs

D. W. writes: I recovered from a heart attack four years ago, and since then I worry and fret continually. Does coronary thrombosis cause a loss of courage?

Reply

It is natural to have the blues after recovery from a heart attack but some victims worry and fret so much they become neurotic. As a rule, this aspect is only temporary but may persist in those who fail to adjust to adversities. The majority of these individuals always have harbored feelings of insecurity, whether they were conscious of it or not. May I ask a question? How much courage did you have before your heart attack?

Checkups and Carrots

Mrs. J B. writes: Recently my father was asked to take a physical examination before being accepted for a job. He was asked not to eat any carrots before he went to the doctor, and after the examination was advised to decrease his carrot intake. Could you explain this?

Reply

The physician who made the examination ought to answer this question. I assume your father's skin is yellow because of eating too many carrots and other vegetables containing carotene (carotenemia).

High Pressure

F. S. writes: Does high blood pressure cause hypertension?

Reply

Physicians use these terms synonymously. Most persons with high blood pressure hyperreact to tension.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Higher Education May Hurt Sermon

Mark went "highhat" after he graduated from seminary. He started using 5-syllable words and imitated Don Quixote. He attacked Sin and Satan in the abstract. His sermons were very logical, but so dry his congregation couldn't follow him for 5 minutes. He won his arguments but lost his audience! So study this case carefully; then send for the booklet described below.

Case X-378: Mark W., aged 27, is a recent seminary graduate.

"Dr. Crane, Mark is a very talented clergyman," the head of his Pastoral Relations Committee admitted.

"But something has gone wrong. Actually, he used to make a more interesting sermon before he went to the seminary than he does now.

"For in the earlier days, he used homely examples from within the experiences of the farmers and townspeople comprising our congregation.

"Now he has lost that art and has begun to use 5-syllable words instead of simpler language.

"And he preaches about broad social issues instead of the practical needs of our people. Dr. Crane, why has this happened?"

Livewires Needed

It takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify a congregation.

The pastor thus must be fully charged with religious zeal and have a vital message for the immediate needs of his listeners.

Advanced education should be helpful to a preacher. But, alas, it sometimes works in reverse.

"The more college degrees a preacher has, the quicker his listeners go to sleep," runs an old adage.

And that is often true, for young ministers frequently become enamoured of their professors' 5-syllable words and rhetorical attacks on impersonal Satan.

They glibly select a sermon topic on the United Nations or far off Africa when the average parishioner is much more concerned with Junior's misbehavior in high school or Betty's infatuation with a drinking teenager.

The center of human interest lies within our own epidermis: Every inch that a speaker moves away from our skin, we become less concerned.

Don Quixote Preachers

Some clergymen are also like Don Quixote. They set up a target in the form of Capitalism or Sin and then boldly launch a formal rhetorical attack.

Dr. Roy L. Smith, one of America's topnotch theologians and orators, warned young preachers about this.

"Beware lest you win your argument," he said, "but lose your audience.

Many clergymen deliver erudite discourses on Sunday morning. These may be logical works of art.

Yet the audience may either be snoring or daydreaming about some more personal problem.

The clergyman may thus have verbably demolished Sin or Satan, but his audience doesn't realize that fact, for it hasn't been following his "essay" type of sermon.

Most of America's clergymen are talented orators. But, alas, a sizable minority still are poor speakers. And a dry, dull speaker soon empties church pews.

Bishop Richard C. Raines realizes this fact acutely. He is a great orator himself, and follows Christ's own anecdotal or parable formula for speaking.

So he invited me on three occasions to address all three Methodist Conferences in Indiana to tell his clergymen the psychological strategy for making an interesting speech.

All great orators have hit upon this narrative formula by rule of thumb.

For people wake up and lean forward when listening to story telling, but settle back into indifference during the essay or expositional address.

Jesus would thus start out with a moral principle; then document it with cases or parables. That is still the best formula for public speaking ever devised.

So send for my booklet "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It is of vital importance to speakers, musicians and other public platform entertainers. It is also widely used in public speaking classes and by members of the Toastmaster's Clubs.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Overall Economic Thinking Advised

Elliott V. Bell, editor and publisher of Business Week, is an established economist who specializes in finance. He has the unusual distinction among experts that he has done as he has preached, which means that he seems to be successful in life, something that most financial writers are not, they continuing to give advice to all the world but taking not even their own for themselves.

In addition, Elliott Bell has had quite a public career, being for many years the principal economic adviser to Thomas E. Dewey when he was governor of New York state. He was also the state superintendent of banks, an important position, rarely held by a man of such financial ability and knowledge.

Therefore, it is only natural that Elliott Bell should have something to say about the current depression:

". . . Neither the President nor any one else is commander in chief of our economic defense. We have a vast multiplicity of government intermediaries engaged in credit operations affecting the general economy—wholly without coordination. We have a diversity of private institutions engaged in major financial operations—entirely outside the discipline affecting the commercial banking system and in some cases—entirely without any discipline, even taxation."

This, of course, is a correct picture of the development of financial institutions and operations among a free people. It is characteristic of the competitive system that too many legal restrictions destroy competition and lead to government controls. Elliott Bell comes up with the idea:

". . . Simple common sense indicates we ought at least to have some authority in government that would be responsible for thinking in terms of over-all economic policy"

It is characteristic of our people that whenever times become troubled we think of dictators. For instance, there was the NRA and the OPA and a whole slew of such organizations. Rent controls did prevent landlords somewhat from robbing their tenants [illegible] housing shortages, but it also produced a shortage of housing which has not yet been corrected and public housing has barely scratched the surface of our needs. On the other hand, had there been free competition, the likelihood is that slum clearance would have been as swift as the conversion of Park Avenue into an office building canyon has been.

We really face the same problem here that faces us concerning the reorganization of our Defense Department, namely, even if there are experts, is it safe, in a free society, to entrust great powers to few men or to a single individual, not elected by the people, not subject to control by Congress? How long can we remain free under such conditions?

Economics can be simple and can be complex. Everybody practices economics. When you buy a newspaper, take a ride on a bus, buy something on the installment plan or for cash, put money in the bank, write a check, do anything about buying, selling, spending, saving, taking wages, investing money, and so on, you are engaged in an economic activity. And the likelihood is you know what you are doing. Levittown, for instance, was not built by a theoretical economist, nor was Rockefeller Center. These are business enterprises, involving entrepreneurs, banks, insurance companies, contractors, engineers, architects, labor unions, etc. Each one is trying to make some money out of the deal. Meanwhile the buildings go up; wealth has been created; jobs are made available; our competitive society moves on.

In the Soviet system, such free action is forbidden. The government and party determine what is to be done and practically that means that all questions become subject to political policy. Shall we build a house or make a rocket? Shall we clear a slum in Moscow or invest in the improvement of China?

The essence in any proposal for economic dictatorship is that Congress should clothe the President with authority to do what he constitutionally is forbidden to do. That is why the Supreme Court was forced to throw the NRA into the discard. It was unconstitutional.

Newspaperman Proposes New Commandments

AUSTIN (UP) — John Rosenfield, Dallas Morning News arts and amusements critic, Friday proposed "six commandments" for the future of the fine arts in Texas.

Rosenfield opened the afternoon session of a two-day conference on Texas, a study of the state's human, cultural and material resources and part of the University of Texas' 75th year observance. The afternoon session was devoted to cultural resources.

These rules for the future of fine arts in Texas were outlined by Rosenfield:

"Disregard the volume of attendance as it relates to the size of your auditoriums or halls. There is actually no relationship."

"Take a long draft of dedication to the art you serve and resolve with some valorness that it shall not perish."

"Conceive a concert program or a series of plays in terms of the locality's cultural needs and never in terms of what it might already like and, therefore, no longer need."

"Keep prices as low as possible to encourage large attendance."

"Push the enterprise toward the payment of a living wage to all engaged in it. Make it a profession and not an avocation."

"You, who support the arts, take care of the money and stay away from the management. Hold the profession direction to account for general results but don't harass it with suggestions and manipulations."

"I do not guarantee that my six commandments, and I am more modest than Cecil DeMille who issued 10, will bring order into our civilization, but they are the most practical precepts I can devise," Rosenfield said.

Bidding Opens On Housing In Jonesboro

JONESBORO (Special) — The Housing Authority of the Town of Jonesboro will receive bids for construction of a low - rent housing project up until 5 p.m. May 15, housing authority officials announced recently.

The program calls for the construction of 40 units, 22 for white and 18 for Negro residents, with an estimated cost of $300,000 for the project. This is a part of the $430,000 authorization for the work, which includes purchase of sites for the houses and any expenses indicental to the completion of the project.

For the white project, a 4-acre site was recently secured by the local Housing Authority. It is located in south Jonesboro east of the Gansvill Road. The plot was purchased from J. Byde Thomas.

For the Negro project, two and one - half acres was recently purchased from the Simonton estate, and is located east of the Jonesboro Negro Elementary school.

All houses in the project are designed for and will be made available to low - income families who cannot provide their own suitable housing. All rental applicants will be carefully screened by the Housing Authority.

The program is a local one, operated with Federal assistance. It was begun by the United States Housing Act of 1937 which authorized Federal aid to communities for housing for low - income families who otherwise would have to live in substandard houses.

The Jonesboro Housing Authority is composed of J. Harper Cox, chairman; J. D. Koonce, vice - chairman; T. L. Colvin, O. M. Greshman and Mrs. Mildred Henderson.

Executive director of the local Housing Authority is Dewey Harvey.

Bond Issue Set In Mississippi

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP)—An election has been set for May 13 on a proposed $190,000 bond issue asked by the Lowndes County board of supervisors to finance jail and courthouse repairs.

Numerous grand juries have condemned the 70-year-old jail as a firetrap and unfit for human habitation. Former Sheriff C. E. Farmer called it the "honor system jail" after numerous escapes by prisoners who tunneled their way to freedom through the crumbling walls.

Farmer said prisoners were on their honor not to escape.

Funds from the bond issue, augmented by $60,000 in available county funds, would be used to remodel the jail and possibly build an addition, a supervisors spokesman said.

All houses in the project are designed for and will be made available to low - income families who cannot provide their own suitable housing. All rental applicants will be carefully screened by the Housing Authority.

The program is a local one, operated with Federal assistance. It was begun by the United States Housing Act of 1937 which authorized Federal aid to communities for housing for low - income families who otherwise would have to live in substandard houses.

The Jonesboro Housing Authority is composed of J. Harper Cox, chairman; J. D. Koonce, vice - chairman; T. L. Colvin, O. M. Greshman and Mrs. Mildred Henderson.

Executive director of the local Housing Authority is Dewey Harvey.

Bond Issue Set In Mississippi

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP)—An election has been set for May 13 on a proposed $190,000 bond issue asked by the Lowndes County board of supervisors to finance jail and courthouse repairs.

Numerous grand juries have condemned the 70-year-old jail as a firetrap and unfit for human habitation. Former Sheriff C. E. Farmer called it the "honor system jail" after numerous escapes by prisoners who tunneled their way to freedom through the crumbling walls.

Farmer said prisoners were on their honor not to escape.

Funds from the bond issue, augmented by $60,000 in available county funds, would be used to remodel the jail and possibly build an addition, a supervisors spokesman said.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Attention Mothers-In-Law: 'Be Silent'

ByMYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

One of the ways in which mothers-in-law can be helpful to their daughters and daughters-in-law is by keeping silent about matters on which they disagree. Each mother has to rear her own children in her own way. She is usually only antagonized by unasked for advice and more so by criticism.

This grandmother is worried because her daughter-in-law leaves the care of her child almost entirely to the other grandmother. "She has since the child was born. The child is selfish and ill-tempered and a poor eater.

"The father gets very upset because of the child's behavior and the relatives gossip furiously because the mother works and never takes care of the child. She is now three and her mother is going to put her in a nursery school. Don't you think it is a mother's duty to stay home and care for her own child?"

Answer

It may be her duty but it obviously is not her inclination. She doesn't want the work and responsibility of the child and because she doesn't she foists her off on any willing hands, or on the school.

Do you think you can change that? The only person who might have an influence upon her is the father—and obviously he does little except get cross and blow up about the child—ignoring the fact that she is the way she is because of the way she has been reared.

The child might be no better off or better dispositioned in the care of a mother who finds her a disagreeable burden. Better leave well enough alone.

Mrs. L.M.R.—try bringing in some friends the child's age to have lunch with her and show her how other children drink their milk. This will be more telling than for you to demand she drink her milk by cup or glass. She is too old for bottles obviously, but you'll find it more successful to let the child decide that she wants to give them up. Seeing other children drink is a help.

Mrs. M.D. says that when her children were giving her a hard time that if she would go up and kiss and squeeze them, their behavior would change miraculously. "Instead of nagging them, give them a show of affection. This seems to make a big difference when children are being problems."

This is a good point at which to say,"Amen."

YOUR PROBLEMS

'Loose And Friendly' Mate May Mean Trouble

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I've been going with a man for almost a year. He is something of a mystery to me. He refuses to have even one little drink to be sociable. It's very annoying.

Everyone I know enjoys a few high-balls. I like a couple of drinks before dinner, and I'm certainly no lush. My friend isn't against liquor for others, but he wants no part of it himself. I've tried to get him to take a sip of my drink but he won't do it even to be a sport.

The other night I begged him to take just one drink to see if he liked it. I thought it would be good for him because liquor loosens people up and makes them friendlier. He refused (in front of guests) and now I'm sore at him. Don't you think he'd be less stubborn if he really loved me? — SUE Z. Q.

Why don't YOU be a good sport and stop nagging this man? He may be a reformed alcoholic who shouldn't have so much as a teaspoon of liquor, much less one drink.

As for liquor being "good for people" because it "loosens them up and makes them friendly", I have news for you. I hear from thousands of women whose husbands have become so "loose and friendly" they can't hold jobs, and are in deep financial trouble.

Get smart and stop pressuring this man. Since he's good enough to allow you to drink if you want to, you should allow him NOT to drink if he doesn't want to.

Dear Ann: I'm a working girl in a new city. Several of the young women at the office have invited me to parties to help me make friends.

Unfortunately, I'm not the bold type and I find myself floundering, not knowing more than three or four in a room of fifteen or twenty. Once I was introduced as "the new girl" in this way: "Folks, meet Mary". The hostess then mumbled something about "people forget names anyway," and I was on my own.

I've been taught it's proper for a gentleman to approach a lady. I'd feel uncomfortable going up to a man and introducing myself. The etiquette book says I'm right. What do you say? — LONELY

I don't know what book you're looking at, but I suggest you throw it away and use common sense.

It's perfectly proper for a lady to introduce herself to a gentleman in the home of a friend. This is not the same as starting a conversation in a bus station or other public places. If you use your head and don't horn in on a gentleman who is talking to another gal, I see nothing wrong with making the first move.

Dear Ann: What do you think of a man with four grown children who has had a succession of love affairs with other women for the past 25 years.?

Now that he's older (and worn out) he behaves better but still carries the picture of his last girl friend in his wallet — next to his grandchildren's photos!

I'm a wife who never looked right or left. Yet, in the past two years he has accused me of having affairs, and never fails to check the driveway when he comes home at night for strange tire marks. He does this regularly and in such a way that the neighbors know he's looking for something. He humiliates me to death. What do you think of such a man? — T.W.W.

Sounds as if his guilt has driven him a little squirrely, and he's trying to project some of the guilt on to you.

The next time Sherlock examines the driveway for strange tire marks suggest he save his eyesight and hire a private detective to watch the house if he thinks you are entertaining in his absence. And urge him to get professional help.

CONFIDENTIALLY: Broken Up: Patience is the art of doing something else in the meantime. Learn how to wait. He'll be back.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.)

79th Birthday Celebrated By Tom W. Butler

A birthday dinner was held at Laverada Farm on Easter Sunday to celebrate Mr. Tom W. Butler's 79th birthday. His daughter, Miss Vera Butler had arrived on Thursday from Baton Rouge, accompanied by a school day friend, Mrs. Ed Wingate, also of Baton Rouge. It was Mrs. Wingate's first visit with the Butlers in twenty-one years.

A turkey dinner was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs Butler, Miss Butler, Mrs. Wingate, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Butler of Tallulah, the Rev. Tommy Lee of Bastrop. To make the day complete, the Butler's son, Harold, who lives in Colorado telephoned.

Mangham High Students Go To Baton Rouge

Upsilon Chapter of Mu Sigma Societies of Mangham High School will attend a luncheon at the Methodist Student Center at L. S. U. today. They will be the guests of the parent organization, Mu Sigma Rho. The following students, accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Virgie Evans will attend: Camille Etier, Rosalyn Thames, Shirley Nobles, Kay Stowell, Roger Boughton, Henry Chriceol, Wendel Dyer, Peggy Taylor, Billy Laird, Rosemary Merchant, Margie Conley, Gwen Pilgreen.

Student Council Entertained In Oak Ridge

Mrs. W. M. Nolan entertained the Student Council of Collinston High School with a breakfast in her home in Oak Ridge. School colors of purple and gold were used throughout the dining area. In the center of the table were gold daffodils and purple letters spelling out Student Council. Each member's place was marked with a cut-out picture of himself.

After breakfast the regular business meeting was conducted. Nona Savage gave a report on the Community Birthday Calendars, a project the council has just completed. Carolyn Carter reported that the candy sales have been going well and will continue to be sold throughout the year. A variety show will be given on May 2 to raise funds for the annual. Rector Hopgood and Nona Savage were appointed to plan the program.

Those enjoying the combination social - business meeting were: Sara Waits, Joyce Takewell, Nona Savage, Carolyn Carter, Rector Hopgood, Irma Nell Harper, Melanie McNatt, Joyce Oser, Melba Bennett, Vickie Carter, James Hicks, Susie Fontenot and James Harrell. Mrs. A. H. Harper and Lee Tarver, principal, also attended.

A bird can rise while it is falling. Soaring hawks, eagles, or vultures are really coasting downhill. They rise in relation to the earth, because they ride columns of rising air. The feat has been compared to a man walking slowly down a rapidly rising escalator.

Mrs. Beadles Hosts Lamkin HDC Meeting

The April meeting of the Lampkin Home Demonstration Club was held in the home of Mrs. Charles Beadles.

It was decided that a workshop would be held in the home of Mrs. W. A. Guy on May 7th in observance of National Home Demonstration Week.

Reports were given by Miss Tracy Guerriero, consumer education; Mrs. J. D. Collier, poultry; Mrs. W. A. Guy, family life.

Mrs. Audrey Dawson gave a very interesting demonstration on Care and Repair of Clothing.

Those members present were Mrs. Charles Beadles, Mrs. Ernest Brookings, Mrs. J. D. Collier, Miss Tracy Guerriero, Mrs. W. F. Carson, Mrs. Pat McHenry, Mrs. W. H. Pogue, Mrs. J. N. Powell, Mrs. J. K. Stringer, Mrs. R. H. Hafler and Mrs. W. A. Guy. Three guests were Mrs J. L. Coon, Mrs. J. F. Keller and Mrs. Dawson.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. W. H. Pogue on May 14th at 1:30 p.m.

TOP AWARDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold medallions were bestowed last night upon three members of the entertainment profession in annual ceremonies of the Dutch Treat Club. The top awards went to composer Richard Rodgers, librettist Oscar Hammerstein II and singer Mary Martin.

New Jersey did not have its own governor until 1738. Before that, the governor of New York governed both British colonies.

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the easiest and "cleaningest" rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is available after years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.

Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical as ½ gallon of concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

He refused (in front of guests) and now I'm sore at him. Don't you think he'd be less stubborn if he really loved me? — SUE Z. Q.

Why don't YOU be a good sport and stop nagging this man? He may be a reformed alcoholic who shouldn't have so much as a teaspoon of liquor, much less one drink.

As for liquor being "good for people" because it "loosens them up and makes them friendly", I have news for you. I hear from thousands of women whose husbands have become so "loose and friendly" they can't hold jobs, and are in deep financial trouble.

Get smart and stop pressuring this man. Since he's good enough to allow you to drink if you want to, you should allow him NOT to drink if he doesn't want to.

Dear Ann: I'm a working girl in a new city. Several of the young women at the office have invited me to parties to help me make friends.

Unfortunately, I'm not the bold type and I find myself floundering, not knowing more than three or four in a room of fifteen or twenty. Once I was introduced as "the new girl" in this way: "Folks, meet Mary". The hostess then mumbled something about "people forget names anyway," and I was on my own.

I've been taught it's proper for a gentleman to approach a lady. I'd feel uncomfortable going up to a man and introducing myself. The etiquette book says I'm right. What do you say? — LONELY

I don't know what book you're looking at, but I suggest you throw it away and use common sense.

It's perfectly proper for a lady to introduce herself to a gentleman in the home of a friend. This is not the same as starting a conversation in a bus station or other public places. If you use your head and don't horn in on a gentleman who is talking to another gal, I see nothing wrong with making the first move.

Dear Ann: What do you think of a man with four grown children who has had a succession of love affairs with other women for the past 25 years.?

Now that he's older (and worn out) he behaves better but still carries the picture of his last girl friend in his wallet — next to his grandchildren's photos!

I'm a wife who never looked right or left. Yet, in the past two years he has accused me of having affairs, and never fails to check the driveway when he comes home at night for strange tire marks. He does this regularly and in such a way that the neighbors know he's looking for something. He humiliates me to death. What do you think of such a man? — T.W.W.

Sounds as if his guilt has driven him a little squirrely, and he's trying to project some of the guilt on to you.

The next time Sherlock examines the driveway for strange tire marks suggest he save his eyesight and hire a private detective to watch the house if he thinks you are entertaining in his absence. And urge him to get professional help.

CONFIDENTIALLY: Broken Up: Patience is the art of doing something else in the meantime. Learn how to wait. He'll be back.

79th Birthday Celebrated By Tom W. Butler

A birthday dinner was held at Laverada Farm on Easter Sunday to celebrate Mr. Tom W. Butler's 79th birthday. His daughter, Miss Vera Butler had arrived on Thursday from Baton Rouge, accompanied by a school day friend, Mrs. Ed Wingate, also of Baton Rouge. It was Mrs. Wingate's first visit with the Butlers in twenty-one years.

A turkey dinner was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Butler, Miss Butler, Mrs. Wingate, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Butler of Tallulah, the Rev. Tommy Lee of Bastrop. To make the day complete, the Butler's son, Harold, who lives in Colorado telephoned.

Mangham High Students Go To Baton Rouge

Student Council Entertained In Oak Ridge

Mrs. W. M. Nolan entertained the Student Council of Collinston High School with a breakfast in her home in Oak Ridge. School colors of purple and gold were used throughout the dining area. In the center of the table were gold daffodils and purple letters spelling out Student Council. Each member's place was marked with a cut-out picture of himself.

After breakfast the regular business meeting was conducted. Nona Savage gave a report on the Community Birthday Calendars, a project the council has just completed. Carolyn Carter reported that the candy sales have been going well and will continue to be sold throughout the year. A variety show will be given on May 2 to raise funds for the annual. Rector Hopgood and Nona Savage were appointed to plan the program.

Those enjoying the combination social - business meeting were: Sara Waits, Joyce Takewell, Nona Savage, Carolyn Carter, Rector Hopgood, Irma Nell Harper, Melanie McNatt, Joyce Oser, Melba Bennett, Vickie Carter, James Hicks, Susie Fontenot and James Harrell. Mrs. A. H. Harper and Lee Tarver, principal, also attended.

A bird can rise while it is falling. Soaring hawks, eagles, or vultures are really coasting downhill. They rise in relation to the earth, because they ride columns of rising air. The feat has been compared to a man walking slowly down a rapidly rising escalator.

Mrs. Beadles Hosts Lamkin HDC Meeting

The April meeting of the Lampkin Home Demonstration Club was held in the home of Mrs. Charles Beadles.

It was decided that a workshop would be held in the home of Mrs. W. A. Guy on May 7th in observance of National Home Demonstration Week.

Reports were given by Miss Tracy Guerriero, consumer education; Mrs. J. D. Collier, poultry; Mrs. W. A. Guy, family life.

Mrs. Audrey Dawson gave a very interesting demonstration on Care and Repair of Clothing.

Those members present were Mrs. Charles Beadles, Mrs. Ernest Brookings, Mrs. J. D. Collier, Miss Tracy Guerriero, Mrs. W. F. Carson, Mrs. Pat McHenry, Mrs. W. H. Pogue, Mrs. J. N. Powell, Mrs. J. K. Stringer, Mrs. R. H. Hafler and Mrs. W. A. Guy. Three guests were Mrs J. L. Coon, Mrs. J. F. Keller and Mrs. Dawson.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. W. H. Pogue on May 14th at 1:30 p.m.

TOP AWARDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold medallions were bestowed last night upon three members of the entertainment profession in annual ceremonies of the Dutch Treat Club. The top awards went to composer Richard Rodgers, librettist Oscar Hammerstein II and singer Mary Martin.

New Jersey did not have its own governor until 1738. Before that, the governor of New York governed both British colonies.

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the easiest and "cleaningest" rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is available after years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoiling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.

Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical as ½ gallon of concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

Suit Threatened On Hangar Issue

over the telephone since I've known him."

Rodriguez voted in favor of McSherry's recommendation that the city award the lease to Louisiana Aircraft Corporation. He said Thursday it was his policy to support the department heads in such matters.

The bids, which were submitted in March, were referred to McSherry. He declined to make a recommendation at a regular meeting Tuesday because of insufficient information.

Early Stand

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard took an early stand favoring the $610 bid.

Oliver argued for Joseph's bid at the special session yesterday morning. He said Joseph's bid would in the end amount to the highest for the city.

Oliver based his argument in behalf of Joseph on these points: (1) that Joseph would increase the city's take from gasoline sold at the hangar from two to four cents per gallon; (2) that Joseph would make mercy flights for the city; (3) that Joseph himself would work on weekends, thus providing seven - day service.

According to Oliver, based on last year's sale of gasoline, the increase from two to four cents per gallon would bring Joseph's bid to $7110 annually.

"That's not but $190 difference between $610 per month bid," Oliver said, "And remember, Joseph's business is expanding and should sell more gasoline next year than last."

He said the additonal services offered by Joseph in his bid "would certainly bring it to the highest bid submitted to the City Council."

Meanwhile, City Hall was calm. Howard, the only official present, said when told of the lawsuit threat --"That's what the courts are for."

State Supt. of Education Jackson gave brief talks on the film displayed.

Donation

D. A. Breard, of 401 K street who served as a Monroe city commissioner for several terms back in the 1930's, has just donated to the Ouachita Parish Public Library a well bound book containing views of the 1931 flood.

The pictures taken by a local photographer at the instruction of Breard are all large size and show parts of Monroe badly inundated.

He declared that he thought that the views would be best preserved in the public library where they will be accessible to the public. Fine gesture!

Reports

Late reports are that "Jimmie" Griffin, well known Monroe fireman who underwent an operation on the lung, is in good condition. Physicians are hopeful of his early recovery, which is good news to many friends.

Roundup

The Highland Day Kindergarten, West Monroe, will hold its annual roundup next Monday. Children who will be five years of age before Dec. 31, will be eligible to be admitted to public schools during the fall of 1959.

Your Time

An itinerant preacher one read a passage to a small group which states if one is hit on one cheek to turn the other so that a second smack be received there. "But, brothers and sisters, the third lick belongs to you" he declared.

Monroe Woman Named Winner In Verse Test

ALEXANDRIA (Special)—Mrs. Charles Tillman, Monroe, was named second place winner in light verse at the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs convention here last night.

Her poem, entitled, "Fingerprints," won second place in the light verse division. She is a member of the Welcome Book Club, Monroe.

Other winners announced were Littera Club, Ruston; Junior Guild, Jonesville; Cosmos Book Club, Ruston; Community Service Club, Ferriday. All clubs received awards in different divisions of press book competition.

Jury Returns Verdict In Fast Action

she and Stampanto went to her pink bedroom.

"He got violent and all I kept saying was "There's no use talking any further, but I can't go on like this and I want you to leave me alone.'

"He grabbed me by the arm and Mr. Stompanato started shaking me and cursing me badly and saying, as he had told me before, no matter what I did or how I tried to get away, he would never let me.

"He said that if he said for me to jump, I would jump, and if he said for me to hop, I would have to hop. He would even cut my face or cripple me.

Threatened to "Kill Me"

"And beyond that he would kill me and my daughter and my mother, and he said, no matter what, he would get me wherever it would hurt the most, and that would be my daughter and my mother.

"And I broke away from his holding me and I turned around to face the door and my daughter was standing there and I said, 'Please, Cheryl, please don't listen to any of this. Please go back to your room.'

"She looked at me, I think, as if to say she would like to help me, because I know I repeated it and I begged her and she went out of the door.

"I turned to Mr. Stompanato after I had closed the door and I said, 'That is just great. My child had to hear all that. It is horrible. And I can't go through anything more.'

"And he kept swearing and threatening me. And he had had a jacket and shirt hanging in the close. I forget exactly when it was there or when he brought another change from his apartment. Anyway, it was hanging there.

"And he walked away from me and went to the closet. And it was on a hanger and he was walking back to me as he was holding the jacket on the hanger, in a way like he was going to strike me with it. And I said, 'Don't ever touch me again. I am absolutely finished. This is the end. I want you to get out.'

"And after I said that, I was walking toward the bedroom door and he was right behind me. And I opened it. And my daughter came in. And I swear, it was so fast. I truthfully say I thought she had hit him in the somach.

Never Saw Blade

"As best I remember, they came together. But I still never saw the blade. Mr. Stompanato grabbed himself here (indicating the abdomen).

"And he started to move forward, and he made almost a half turn and he dropped on his back and when he dropped, his arm went out, so that I still didn't see that there was blood or a wound until I ran over to him and I saw his sweater was cut.

"AndI lifted the sweater up and I saw this wound. I remember only barely hearing my daughter sobbing. And I ran into my bathroom which was very close. And I grabbed a towel. I didn't know what to do. Then I put a towel on Mr. Stompanato and he was making very dreadful sounds in his throat, a gasping, terrible sound."

Lana said she telephoned her mother because she didn't know the number of a doctor, and her mother summoned Dr. John McDonald. She said she and her mother both tried desperately to revive Stompanato, even breathing into his mouth.

A medical report showed the blade severed the aorta and that Stompanato died within minutes. McDonald examined Stompanato immediately after he arrived and could find no heartbeat.

There was no demonstration in the courtroom when the verdict was announced, but then virtually every inch of space was taken up by newspapermen and photographers. Lana had left the court shortly after giving her testimony and was not present when the jury came in after deliberating 28 minutes.

Cheryl's Father "Grateful"

Told of the verdict at her home, she said: "Thanks to God."

Her second husband, Stephen Crane, Cheryl's father, wept when he heard the outcome. "I'm so grateful no one will ever know," he said.

Cheryl herself was not present. Police Chief Clinton H. Anderson was disclosed to have asked her if she was trying to protect her mother.

"I didn't want him to hurt her," Cheryl replied. "I couldn'st stand there and let him talk to her like that."

Lana disclosed in her testimony that Cheryl pulled the knife back out of Stompanato and dropped it on a marble top table. Lana picked it up and put it in the sink in the bathroom.

"I don't know why I took the knife," she said.

The actress revealed that Stompanato choked her and threatened her with a razor while they were together last winter in London.

"He would not leave me alone while he was there. And one time when he came (to Lana's Hempstead flat), after he had choked me, he went into the bathroom and he got a razor and he came and he grabbed my head, and all the time screaming at me such violent things.

"And then he only started a little just to give me a taste of it. And I begged and I pleaded. I said "Please don't please don't hurt me.' And he said 'That is just to let you know I am not kidding. Don't think you can ever get away."

Solon Scores Taxes And Farm Program

on the Louisiana farm showed a decrease of $123,217,000 from 1952 to 1957.

According to the congressman, the total net income per farm in Louisiana in 1952 was $2,151. In 1957, it was $1,239, Passman said.

"That should clearly point out why I know the farm program is one reason for the recession," Passman said. "Now you ask me why I believe it's mis-managed?"

Quotes Report

Moving into reasons why he termed the present farm program "mis-managed," Passman quoted from an official report of the U. S. Agriculture Committee.

The report said the federal Commodity Credit Corporation showed it lost four times as much money during the past five years of the Eisenhower administration than it did from 1933 to 1953.

"The Commodity Credit Corporation supported the prices of major storageable crops for 20 years prior to 1953 and at that time this program actually showed a 20-year profit of $13 million," Passman quoted the report.

It continued: "For these two decades the CCC program for all crops including a number of perishable commodities showed a loss of only $1,064,000,000 and CCC investments as of January 1, 1953 amounted to only $2,452,000,000. During the past five years the CCC deficits have amounted to four times as much as was lost in the preceding 20 years—slightly more than $1 - billion in 20 years compared to $4 - billion in the last five years."

Passman said CCC investments in surpluses have increased more than threefold since 1953— from $2,452,000,000 to over $7-billion.

'Half The Story'

"And that tells only half the story." Passman remarked. In touching on taxes and the national public debt, Passman said that the Eisenhower administration, during the past five years, spent the entire amount collected in taxes during that period, but increased the public debt by $9-billion.

Quoting from the Fiscal Analyst, Library of Congress, Passman said the Truman administration, from 1948 to 1953, collected $247,263,370,000 in taxes.

"During those five years of the Truman administration, he applied $3½ - billion of the amount collected in taxes to reduce the public debt," Passman said.

But he pointed out that the Eisenhower administration has collected, from Jan. 1, 1953 to Jan. 1, 1958, $365,849,080,000 in taxes.

"And they (Republicans) have increased the public debt by $9-billion," Passman stated.

"Which should substantiate my convinced beliefs that the Republicans and their mis - managed farm program and high taxes have created the present recession," he exclaimed.

Lincoln Parish Red Cross Drive Short Of Goal

RUSTON (Special) —The Lincoln Parish Red Cross chapter ended its parish-wide fund drive last night with a house-to-house canvass, and came up $2,000 short of its $6,880 goal.

Don McCormack, chairman of the parish drive, said $76 was collected last night, bringing the total to $4,880. He thanked citizens for their cooperations, and urged further personal contributions.

McCormack said those wishing to give could mail the sum to him or to the Lincoln Parish Red Cross chapter.

Those working in the canvass last night were volunteers from the Ruston branch of Southern Bell Telephone Co., and several members of the Civitan Club.

Girl, 8, Injured In Collision Of Two Autos Here

A car collided with the rear of an off-duty policeman's vehicle last night injuring his eight-year-old daughter.

Margaret Cowart, daughter of City Policeman Gerry Cowart, complained of an ear injury, her father said, and was taken to a local hospital for observation.

According to investigators, Cowart was stopped at the Grammont street intersection while headed south on Hall when his car was struck from behind. The other vehicle involved was driven by Trenton Lively, 28, of Rt. 2, West Monroe, officers said.

Investigators issued Lively a traffic summons on a reckless driving charge.

until 12 noon, when the group will recess for lunch.

The highlights of the convention will be two addresses during the afternoon session tomorrow. Dr. Margaret Dowaliby, professor of clinical optometry, Los Angeles College of Optometry, will discuss the "Cosmetic Considerations of Eyewater." One of the profession's most outstanding exponents of style in eyewear, Dr. Dowaliby's talk will be open to the public.

Following this discussion, Dr. Virgil Hancock, chairman of the board of Modern Optics, Inc., of Houston, Texas, will discuss "Optometric Economics." Hancock is much in demand throughout the nation for his lectures on the economic aspects of optometry.

The afternoon session will be opened with an invocation by the Rev. Ben Oliphant, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Monroe, followed by a welcome address by Mayor W. L. Howard of Monroe. The response will be given by Dr. N. L. Moncrief, convention chairman.

A cocktail party will be held at 7 p.m. after which the annual buffet supper and dance will be held until midnight on the Frances Hotel roof.

Monday's session will begin at 9 a.m. with the third and final business session slated for 1:30 p.m. ed him at high speeds but lost him in traffic.

At 10:45 p.m that night, the troopers saw Rollins again do the same thing at the service station, caught him and gave him a ticket.

One hour later, the same troopers were driving near the intersection of Reagan Street and Highway 34, when Rollins roared down the road going toward West Monroe, skidded in a "U" turn although there was other traffic, and then headed back towards the paper mill.

During the pursuit, troopers reached 65 miles an hour but were unable to gain on Rollins until curves forced him to slow down. He was described as "weaving back and forth around other cars, and skidding sideways."

He was arrested and placed in the parish jail until his arraignment today.

Radiation Aid May Be Cause Of New Cancer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A potentially life-saving protector against radiation from atomic bombs also may carry a slight risk of causing cancer, a government researcher claims.

Researcher Delta E. Uphodd of the National Cancer Institute said Friday this is suggested by experiments with mice in which it was shown that injections of bone marrow protected the mice from lethal doses of radiation but that some of them developed cancer.

She said that the cancer development was related to the combination of radiation exposure and administration of the bone marrow.

Miss Uphodd spoke to a reporter in amplifying a technical report that she and Dr. Loyd W. Law, also of NCI, prepared for the annual meeting of the American Assn. for Cancer Research.

Suit Threatened On Hangar Issue

over the telephone since I've known him."

Rodriguez voted in favor of McSherry's recommendation that the city award the lease to Louisiana Aircraft Corporation. He said Thursday it was his policy to support the department heads in such matters.

The bids, which were submitted in March, were referred to McSherry. He declined to make a recommendation at a regular meeting Tuesday because of insufficient information.

Early Stand

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard took an early stand favoring the $610 bid.

Oliver argued for Joseph's bid at the special session yesterday morning. He said Joseph's bid would in the end amount to the highest for the city.

Oliver based his argument in behalf of Joseph on these points; (1) that Joseph would increase the city's take from gasoline sold at the hangar from two to four cents per gallon; (2) that Joseph would make mercy flights for the city; (3) that Joseph himself would work on weekends, thus providing seven - day service.

According to Oliver, based on last year's sale of gasoline, the increase from two to four cents per gallon would bring Joseph's bid to $7110 annually.

"That's not but $190 difference between $610 per month bid," Oliver said, "And remember, Joseph's business is expanding and should sell more gasoline next year than last."

He said the additonal services offered by Joseph in his bid "would certainly bring it to the highest bid submitted to the City Council."

Meanwhile, City Hall was calm. Howard, the only official present, said when told of the lawsuit threat --"That's what the courts are for."

need. He showed pictures that illustrate the work being performed state - wide.

State Supt. of Education Jackson gave brief talks on the film displayed.

Donation

D. A. Breard, of 401 K street who served as a Monroe city commissioner for several terms back in the 1930's, has just donated to the Ouachita Parish Public Library a well bound book containing views of the 1931 flood.

The pictures taken by a local photographer at the instruction of Breard are all large size and show parts of Monroe badly inundated.

He declared that he thought that the views would be best preserved in the public library where they will be accessible to the public. Fine gesture!

Reports

Late reports are that "Jimmie" Griffin, well known Monroe fireman who underwent an operation on the lung, is in good condition. Physicians are hopeful of his early recovery, which is good news to many friends.

Roundup

The Highland Day Kindergarten, West Monroe, will hold its annual roundup next Monday. Children who will be five years of age before Dec. 31, will be eligible to be admitted to public schools during the fall of 1959.

Your Time

An itinerant preacher one read a passage to a small group which states if one is hit on one cheek to turn the other so that a second smack be received there. "But, brothers and sisters, the third lick belongs to you" he declared.

Monroe Woman Named Winner In Verse Test

ALEXANDRIA (Special)—Mrs. Charles Tillman, Monroe, was named second place winner in light verse at the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs convention here last night.

Her poem, entitled, "Fingerprints," won second place in the light verse division. She is a member of the Welcome Book Club, Monroe.

Jury Returns Verdict In Fast Action

she and Stampanto went to her pink bedroom.

"He got violent and all I kept saying was "There's no use talking any further, but I can't go on like this and I want you to leave me alone.'

"He grabbed me by the arm and Mr. Stompanato started shaking me and cursing me badly and saying, as he had told me before, no matter what I did or how I tried to get away, he would never let me.

"He said that if he said for me to jump, I would jump, and if he said for me to hop, I would have to hop. He would even cut my face or cripple me.

Threatened to "Kill Me"

"And beyond that he would kill me and my daughter and my mother, and he said, no matter what, he would get me wherever it would hurt the most, and that would be my daughter and my mother.

"And I broke away from his holding me and I turned around to face the door and my daughter was standing there and I said, 'Please, Cheryl, please don't listen to any of this. Please go back to your room.'

"She looked at me, I think, as if to say she would like to help me, because I know I repeated it and I begged her and she went out of the door.

"I turned to Mr. Stompanato after I had closed the door and I said, 'That is just great. My child had to hear all that. It is horrible. And I can't go through anything more.'

"And he kept swearing and threatening me. And he had had a jacket and shirt hanging in the close. I forget exactly when it was there or when he brought another change from his apartment. Anyway, it was hanging there.

"And he walked away from me and went to the closet. And it was on a hanger and he was walking back to me as he was holding the jacket on the hanger, in a way like he was going to strike me with it. And I said, 'Don't ever touch me again. I am absolutely finished. This is the end. I want you to get out.'

"And after I said that, I was walking toward the bedroom door and he was right behind me. And I opened it. And my daughter came in. And I swear, it was so fast. I truthfully say I thought she had hit him in the somach.

Never Saw Blade

"As best I remember, they came together. But I still never saw the blade. Mr. Stompanato grabbed himself here (indicating the abdomen).

"And he started to move forward, and he made almost a half turn and he dropped on his back and when he dropped, his arm went out, so that I still didn't see that there was blood or a wound until I ran over to him and I saw his sweater was cut.

"AndI lifted the sweater up and I saw this wound. I remember only barely hearing my daughter sobbing. And I ran into my bathroom which was very close. And I grabbed a towel. I didn't know what to do. Then I put a towel on Mr. Stompanato and he was making very dreadful sounds in his throat, a gasping, terrible sound."

Lana said she telephoned her mother because she didn't know the number of a doctor, and her mother summoned Dr. John McDonald. She said she and her mother both tried desperately to revive Stompanato, even breathing into his mouth.

A medical report showed the blade severed the aorta and that Stompanato died within minutes. McDonald examined Stompanato immediately after he arrived and could find no heartbeat.

There was no demonstration in the courtroom when the verdict was announced, but then virtually every inch of space was taken up by newspapermen and photographers. Lana had left the court shortly after giving her testimony and was not present when the jury came in after deliberating 28 minutes.

Cheryl's Father "Grateful"

Told of the verdict at her home, she said: "Thanks to God."

Her second husband, Stephen Crane, Cheryl's father, wept when he heard the outcome. "I'm so grateful no one will ever know," he said.

Cheryl herself was not present.

Police Chief Clinton H. Anderson was disclosed to have asked her if she was trying to protect her mother.

"I didn't want him to hurt her," Cheryl replied. "I couldn'st stand there and let him talk to her like that."

Lana disclosed in her testimony that Cheryl pulled the knife back out of Stompanato and dropped it on a marble top table. Lana picked it up and put it in the sink in the bathroom.

"I don't know why I took the knife," she said.

The actress revealed that Stompanato choked her and threatened her with a razor while they were together last winter in London.

"He would not leave me alone while he was there. And one time when he came (to Lana's Hempstead flat), after he had choked me, he went into the bathroom and he got a razor and he came and he grabbed my head, and all the time screaming at me such violent things.

"And then he only started a little just to give me a taste of it. And I begged and I pleaded. I said "Please don't please don't hurt me.' And he said 'That is just to let you know I am not kidding. Don't think you can ever get away."

Solon Scores Taxes And Farm Program

on the Louisiana farm showed a decrease of $123,217,000 from 1952 to 1957.

According to the congressman, the total net income per farm in Louisiana in 1952 was $2,151. In 1957, it was $1,239, Passman said.

"That should clearly point out why I know the farm program is one reason for the recession," Passman said. "Now you ask me why I believe it's mis-managed?"

Quotes Report

Moving into reasons why he termed the present farm program "mis-managed," Passman quoted from an official report of the U. S. Agriculture Committee.

The report said the federal Commodity Credit Corporation showed it lost four times as much money during the past five years of the Eisenhower administration than it did from 1933 to 1953.

"The Commodity Credit Corporation supported the prices of major storageable crops for 20 years prior to 1953 and at that time this program actually showed a 20-year profit of $13 million," Passman quoted the report.

It continued; "For these two decades the CCC program for all crops including a number of perishable commodities showed a loss of only $1,064,000,000 and CCC investments as of January 1, 1953 amounted to only $2,452,000,000. During the past five years the CCC deficits have amounted to four times as much as was lost in the preceding 20 years—slightly more than $1 - billion in 20 years compared to $4 - billion in the last five years."

Passman said CCC investments in surpluses have increased more than threefold since 1953— from $2,452,000,000 to over $7-billion.

'Half The Story'

"And that tells only half the story." Passman remarked. In touching on taxes and the national public debt, Passman said that the Eisenhower administration, during the past five years, spent the entire amount collected in taxes during that period, but increased the public debt by $9-billion.

Quoting from the Fiscal Analyst, Library of Congress, Passman said the Truman administration, from 1948 to 1953, collected $247,263,370,000 in taxes.

"During those five years of the Truman administration, he applied $3½ - billion of the amount collected in taxes to reduce the public debt," Passman said.

But he pointed out that the Eisenhower administration has collected, from Jan. 1, 1953 to Jan. 1, 1958, $365,849,080,000 in taxes.

"And they (Republicans) have increased the public debt by $9-billion," Passman stated.

"Which should substantiate my convinced beliefs that the Republicans and their mis - managed farm program and high taxes have created the present recession," he exclaimed.

until 12 noon, when the group will recess for lunch.

The highlights of the convention will be two addresses during the afternoon session tomorrow. Dr. Margaret Dowaliby, professor of clinical optometry, Los Angeles College of Optometry, will discuss the "Cosmetic Considerations of Eyewater." One of the profession's most outstanding exponents of style in eyewear, Dr. Dowaliby's talk will be open to the public.

Following this discussion, Dr. Virgil Hancock, chairman of the board of Modern Optics, Inc., of Houston, Texas, will discuss "Optometric Economics." Hancock is much in demand throughout the nation for his lectures on the economic aspects of optometry.

The afternoon session will be opened with an invocation by the Rev. Ben Oliphant, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Monroe, followed by a welcome address by Mayor W. L. Howard of Monroe. The response will be given by Dr. N. L. Moncrief, convention chairman.

A cocktail party will be held at 7 p.m. after which the annual buffet supper and dance will be held until midnight on the Frances Hotel roof.

Monday's session will begin at 9 a.m. with the third and final business session slated for 1:30 p.m.

Lincoln Parish Red Cross Drive Short Of Goal

RUSTON (Special) —The Lincoln Parish Red Cross chapter ended its parish-wide fund drive last night with a house-to-house canvass, and came up $2,000 short of its $6,880 goal.

Don McCormack, chairman of the parish drive, said $76 was collected last night, bringing the total to $4,880. He thanked citizens for their cooperations, and urged further personal contributions.

McCormack said those wishing to give could mail the sum to him or to the Lincoln Parish Red Cross chapter.

Those working in the canvass last night were volunteers from the Ruston branch of Southern Bell Telephone Co., and several members of the Civitan Club.

Girl, 8, Injured In Collision Of Two Autos Here

A car collided with the rear of an off-duty policeman's vehicle last night injuring his eight-year-old daughter.

Margaret Cowart, daughter of City Policeman Gerry Cowart, complained of an ear injury, her father said, and was taken to a local hospital for observation.

According to investigators, Cowart was stopped at the Grammont street intersection while headed south on Hall when his car was struck from behind. The other vehicle involved was driven by Trenton Lively, 28, of Rt. 2, West Monroe, officers said.

Investigators issued Lively a traffic summons on a reckless driving charge.

ed him at high speeds but lost him in traffic.

At 10:45 p.m that night, the troopers saw Rollins again do the same thing at the service station, caught him and gave him a ticket.

One hour later, the same troopers were driving near the intersection of Reagan Street and Highway 34, when Rollins roared down the road going toward West Monroe, skidded in a "U" turn although there was other traffic, and then headed back towards the paper mill.

During the pursuit, troopers reached 65 miles an hour but were unable to gain on Rollins until curves forced him to slow down. He was described as "weaving back and forth around other cars, and skidding sideways."

He was arrested and placed in the parish jail until his arraignment today.

Radiation Aid May Be Cause Of New Cancer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A potentially life-saving protector against radiation from atomic bombs also may carry a slight risk of causing cancer, a government researcher claims.

Researcher Delta E. Uphodd of the National Cancer Institute said Friday this is suggested by experiments with mice in which it was shown that injections of bone marrow protected the mice from lethal doses of radiation but that some of them developed cancer.

She said that the cancer development was related to the combination of radiation exposure and administration of the bone marrow.

Miss Uphodd spoke to a reporter in amplifying a technical report that she and Dr. Loyd W. Law, also of NCI, prepared for the annual meeting of the American Assn. for Cancer Research.

TICKER TAPE HIGHLIGHTS

TELEPHONE GROWTH

Telephone business growth has been slowed, but the economic recession has not by any means halted it, said F. R. Kappel, American Telephone president.

Bell system companies added 450,000 phones to their lines in the first three months this year, he reported, compared with 775,000 in the like 1957 period. Long distance messages are reported running about 5 per cent above a year ago.

TEXAS OIL

Demand for Texas crude oil next month has been estimated at 2,590,000 barrels daily by Bureau of Mines. This is a decline of 110,000 barrels daily from the bureau's forecast for April.

It is considerably higher than the current flow of 2,175,000 daily in Texas.

AUTO WORKERS

Chevrolet will idle a major segment of its auto making facilities next week.

The big General Motors division also will close a number of its 12 regional assembly plants the following week. At least 20,000 workers in Michigan and Toledo will be affected by the manufacturing plant shutdowns next week.

Buick and Pontiac which had been closed last week returned to five - day schedules in the current week. This factor along with increased operations by Chrysler, Dodge, and DeSoto divisions and Ford Motors' Mercury division is expected to boost the industry's output this week to 82,959 cars. It fell to 64,358 last week.

American Motors said it will increase employment at its Kenosha and Milwaukee plants by about 400 and will hike production schedules there about 10 per cent beginning next Tuesday.

POULTRY

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA) — Live poultry steady; yesterday's receipts were 18,000 lbs; wholesale prices unchanged; old roosters 14-15½; white crosses under 4 lbs 20-21.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures drifted lower Friday as traders found few incentives to influence the market. Light New Orleans and commission house selling eased prices to lows for the day at the close with final prices down 35 to 65 cents a bale.

Further switching developed from old crop May to deferred deliveries, anticipating first notice day for May contracts on April 24. The reaction was partially attributed to more favorable weather in the cotton belt with no rain of consequence forecast through Saturday. Dealers noted that these conditions would permit farmers to make up some of the early delays in field preparations.

The cotton textile market was quiet with prices on some types of fabrics easing.

COTTON LETTER

There was some commission house liquidation in an otherwise quiet market which depressed futures.

Prices closed near the lows for the day with some of the selling attributed to reports that a new farm bill might be considered by congress for a 60 per cent of parity loan with the government paying the difference between some preconceived higher per cent of parity.

The south reported somewhat improved weather with most of the cotton belt clear to partly cloudy. For the week ending Apr. 3, unfixed call sales declined 15,000 bales to 281,400 versus 370,900 a year ago.

Eighty squares were reported selling around 17½ cents for immediate delivery with a small volume moving. Exports today were 8,860 which brings the season's total to 4,128,181.

WOOL LETTER

Commission houses were the best buyers with offerings supplied by unaggressive trade hedge selling and liquidation.

Volume of trading was moderately heavy particularly in view of the reopening of the Australian auctions on Monday and an inclination by many trade interests to hold off taking new positions over the week end.

It is very interesting to note that over the past month the open interest in wool and wool tops has increased very substantially despite the relatively sharp decline in prices.

As a general rule, hedge selling the past few weeks has brought out substantial buying by commission houses probably based on the theory that the market has been oversold. It is difficult to assess what Australian auction price level our futures market has been discounting but in general trade interests believe the Australian auctions will reopen somewhat lower.

There have been reports of a fairly large amount of actuals business done between topmakers and several cloth manufacturers.

'Pigeon Dropping' Case Is Reported By Woman Here

A 60 - year - old Negro woman was victim of an $84 "pigeon dropping" case here yesterday, police said.

Chief James C. Kelly Jr., said the woman reported she had given two unidentified Negro men the money about 9 a.m. and waited until noon for them to return. He said she reported the men promised to return with "her share" of a large sum of money one of them had found.

Kelly said no arrests were made, but that the case was under investigation.

The victim was identified as Bessie Woods, of 401 N. 26th St.

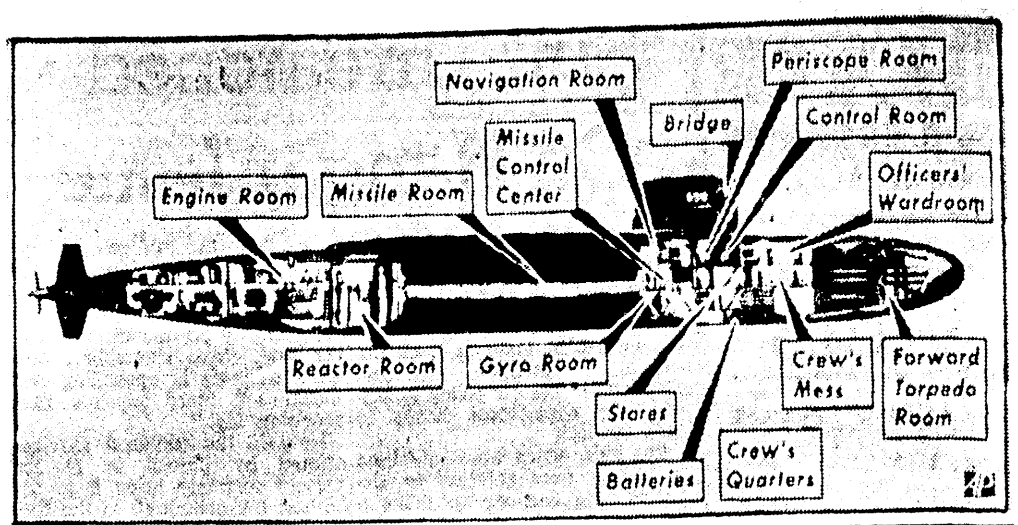
HELD ON CHARGE

Willie Van McNease, 18, of 209 Powell Ave., was arrested here yesterday and charged with being absent without leave from Ft. Campbell, Ky., police said. Asst. Chief George Wood said police were notified several days that the man was missing. Wood said McNease was placed in the parish jail under $500 bond.

EASTER HELPS SALES

DALLAS (UP) — Department store sales in major Texas cities got their biggest increase of the year at Easter, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas said Friday.

Stores in the 11th federal district reported an 18 per cent increase for the week ended April 5 as compared with the same week last year. Dallas led with a 30 per cent rise and El Paso had a 28 per cent gain. Fort Worth and San Antonio each were up 20 per cent and Houston was up 10 per cent.



DRAWING OF MISSILE-FIRING SUBMARINE — This is a cutaway drawing of a nuclear-powered submarine which will be capable of firing the 1,500-mile Polaris missile from under water. The drawing is based on one released by the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. in Groton, Conn. Work is already underway on the first sub at Groton with work on the second slated to begin later this month. Both are scheduled for delivery in 1960. A third undersea craft will be built on the West Coast. AGAINST MEXICANS

Farm Leaders Hit Importation Actions

AUSTIN (UP)—A delegation of 25 Texas farm leaders Friday attacked strict new federal regulations on importation of migrant laborers from Mexico and made plans to carry their protest to U. S. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

The farm group approved a resolution calling for appointment of a committee of users of agricultural laborers in Texas to meet personally with Mitchell.

Under the resolution, the committee would present to Mitchell "the problems that are confronting this group and the Texas Employment Commission and request that he take whatever immediate action is necessary to alleviate the situation."

The resolution was drafted after a meeting before the TEC, and commended the Employment Commission.

However, it said "due to recent regulations and instructions issued to the Texas Employment Commission by the Bureau of Employment Security, U. S. Department of Labor, which regulations are novel in that they have never before been imposed upon the commission, many users of agriculture labor stand to lose severely in investments of scrop now growing and soon to be planted."

Severe Losses Seen

The resolution said users of agricultural labor and many allied interests dependent upon agriculture "will suffer severe financial loss."

TEC Chairman S. Perry Brown pointed out that recently the Department of Labor has required the TEC to "take some rather drastic steps in attempting to recruit farm labor before they will permit us to certify a shortage."

In some instances, he said, it might be necessary for a farmer to go out of state in an effort to recruit workers before being granted a permit to use Mexican laborers, or braceros.

The resolution said the need for agricultural labor "fluctuates daily, and in some instances hourly, and it is not of sufficient dependence to attract out- of- state workers even though they might be willing and able to perform such work."

Causes New Problems

"This in many instances creates additional problems in the transfer of entire families from one community to another and creates problems of housing, scholing, and other social agency problems," the resolution added.

City Courts

WEST MONROE

A. L. Wade, 49, of 100 Orange St., West Monroe, was fined $305.50 or 90 days on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages, when West Monroe City Court met yesterday.

Wade was also fined $30.50 or 25 days on a charge of reckless driving and causing a wreck.

In addition, one person was fined $30.50 or 25 days on a speeding charge.

Judge Jasper E. Jones presided.

MONROE

The following dispositions were recorded on cases in Monroe City Court yesterday. Judge W.M. Harper presided.

One man was sentenced for illegal use of weapons and another for carrying a concealed weapon. They were identified as Anderson Massey, 47, of 211 Cedar St., and Elijah Dawson, 32, of 606 Adams St. Massey's sentence was $300 or six months on a concealed weapons charge plus $25 or 25 days for drunkenness. Dawson's sentence was $200 or 200 days for illegal use of a weapon.

Eleven persons were fined on traffic violations or drunkenness charges. Fines and costs totaled $184, and ranged from five to $50. Twelve persons drew similar sentences on traffic violations or drunkenness charges but were in city jail pending payment of fines. One person drew a 30-day compulsory jail sentence for drunkenness.

Incumbents Are Apparently In

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The present management of Williams-McWilliams Industries was the parent victor today in a proxy battle for control of the New Orleans dredging corporation.

A report on the voting at the fourth day of the heated annual meeting gave management 301,443, as compared to 270,530 for the opposition, headed by Leslie R. Thornton, executive vice president of the firm.

The opposition immediately labeled the election certificates "meaningless" and said they would not recognize the election of the nine-director plate.

Both sides have until Tuesday to finalize challenges, the main dispute in the delay of the vote counting.

Middleweight boxer Rory Calhoun once had an ambition to become a doctor.

Hope Expressed In Negro Drive For Cancer Aid

Swayze Elementary School Principal Rebecca Bose as head of the Negro cancer drive locally, yesterday voiced hope that a warm response will be met by house - to - house canvassers Apr. 13.

"Our effort is directed toward saving lives through research, education, and service," the drive - chairman said

House - to house visits will be made by volunteer workers in collaboration with the national cancer drive.

Officers of the local Negro campaign in addition to its chairman are: J. H. Miller, co - chairman; Hattie McClanahan, treasurer; Rosa McElroy, Maggie Robinson, and Irma Gospel, clerical staff; M. H. Carroll, Vadia Comer, and Eula Thomas, publicity; and Ruben Myles, West Monroe business solicitation.

TICKER TAPE HIGHLIGHTS

TELEPHONE GROWTH

Telephone business growth has been slowed, but the economic recession has not by any means halted it, said F. R. Kappel, American Telephone president.

Bell system companies added 450,000 phones to their lines in the first three months this year, he reported, compared with 775,000 in the like 1957 period. Long distance messages are reported running about 5 per cent above a year ago.

TEXAS OIL

Demand for Texas crude oil next month has been estimated at 2,590,000 barrels daily by Bureau of Mines. This is a decline of 110,000 barrels daily from the bureau's forecast for April.

It is considerably higher than the current flow of 2,175,000 daily in Texas.

AUTO WORKERS

Chevrolet will idle a major segment of its auto making facilities next week.

The big General Motors division also will close a number of its 12 regional assembly plants the following week. At least 20,000 workers in Michigan and Toledo will be affected by the manufacturing plant shutdowns next week.

Buick and Pontiac which had been closed last week returned to five - day schedules in the current week. This factor along with increased operations by Chrysler, Dodge, and DeSoto divisions and Ford Motors' Mercury division is expected to boost the industry's output this week to 82,959 cars. It fell to 64,358 last week.

American Motors said it will increase employment at its Kenosha and Milwaukee plants by about 400 and will hike production schedules there about 10 per cent beginning next Tuesday.

POULTRY

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA) — Live poultry steady; yesterday's receipts were 18,000 lbs; wholesale prices unchanged; old roosters 14-15½; white crosses under 4 lbs 20-21.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures drifted lower Friday as traders found few incentives to influence the market. Light New Orleans and commission house selling eased prices to lows for the day at the close with final prices down 35 to 65 cents a bale.

Further switching developed from old crop May to deferred deliveries, anticipating first notice day for May contracts on April 24. The reaction was partially attributed to more favorable weather in the cotton belt with no rain of consequence forecast through Saturday. Dealers noted that these conditions would permit farmers to make up some of the early delays in field preparations.

The cotton textile market was quiet with prices on some types of fabrics easing.

There was some commission house liquidation in an otherwise quiet market which depressed futures.

Prices closed near the lows for the day with some of the selling attributed to reports that a new farm bill might be considered by congress for a 60 per cent of parity loan with the government paying the difference between some preconceived higher per cent of parity.

The south reported somewhat improved weather with most of the cotton belt clear to partly cloudy. For the week ending Apr. 3, unfixed call sales declined 15,000 bales to 281,400 versus 370,900 a year ago.

Eighty squares were reported selling around 17½ cents for immediate delivery with a small volume moving. Exports today were 8,860 which brings the season's total to 4,128,181.

Commission houses were the best buyers with offerings supplied by unaggressive trade hedge selling and liquidation.

Volume of trading was moderately heavy particularly in view of the reopening of the Australian auctions on Monday and an inclination by many trade interests to hold off taking new positions over the week end.

It is very interesting to note that over the past month the open interest in wool and wool tops has increased very substantially despite the relatively sharp decline in prices.

As a general rule, hedge selling the past few weeks has brought out substantial buying by commission houses probably based on the theory that the market has been oversold. It is difficult to assess what Australian auction price level our futures market has been discounting but in general trade interests believe the Australian auctions will reopen somewhat lower.

There have been reports of a fairly large amount of actuals business done between topmakers and several cloth manufacturers.

'Pigeon Dropping' Case Is Reported By Woman Here

A 60 - year - old Negro woman was victim of an $84 "pigeon dropping" case here yesterday, police said.

Chief James C. Kelly Jr., said the woman reported she had given two unidentified Negro men the money about 9 a.m. and waited until noon for them to return. He said she reported the men promised to return with "her share" of a large sum of money one of them had found.

Kelly said no arrests were made, but that the case was under investigation.

The victim was identified as Bessie Woods, of 401 N. 26th St.

HELD ON CHARGE

Willie Van McNease, 18, of 209 Powell Ave., was arrested here yesterday and charged with being absent without leave from Ft. Campbell, Ky., police said. Asst. Chief George Wood said police were notified several days that the man was missing. Wood said McNease was placed in the parish jail under $500 bond.

EASTER HELPS SALES

DALLAS (UP) — Department store sales in major Texas cities got their biggest increase of the year at Easter, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas said Friday.

Stores in the 11th federal district reported an 18 per cent increase for the week ended April 5 as compared with the same week last year. Dallas led with a 30 per cent rise and El Paso had a 28 per cent gain. Fort Worth and San Antonio each were up 20 per cent and Houston was up 10 per cent.

AGAINST MEXICANS

Farm Leaders Hit Importation Actions

AUSTIN (UP)—A delegation of 25 Texas farm leaders Friday attacked strict new federal regulations on importation of migrant laborers from Mexico and made plans to carry their protest to U. S. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

The farm group approved a resolution calling for appointment of a committee of users of agricultural laborers in Texas to meet personally with Mitchell.

Under the resolution, the committee would present to Mitchell "the problems that are confronting this group and the Texas Employment Commission and request that he take whatever immediate action is necessary to alleviate the situation."

The resolution was drafted after a meeting before the TEC, and commended the Employment Commission.

However, it said "due to recent regulations and instructions issued to the Texas Employment Commission by the Bureau of Employment Security, U. S. Department of Labor, which regulations are novel in that they have never before been imposed upon the commission, many users of agriculture labor stand to lose severely in investments of scrop now growing and soon to be planted."

Severe Losses Seen

The resolution said users of agricultural labor and many allied interests dependent upon agriculture "will suffer severe financial loss."

TEC Chairman S. Perry Brown pointed out that recently the Department of Labor has required the TEC to "take some rather drastic steps in attempting to recruit farm labor before they will permit us to certify a shortage."

In some instances, he said, it might be necessary for a farmer to go out of state in an effort to recruit workers before being granted a permit to use Mexican laborers, or braceros.

The resolution said the need for agricultural labor "fluctuates daily, and in some instances hourly, and it is not of sufficient dependence to attract out- of- state workers even though they might be willing and able to perform such work."

Causes New Problems

"This in many instances creates additional problems in the transfer of entire families from one community to another and creates problems of housing, scholing, and other social agency problems," the resolution added.

City Courts

WEST MONROE

A. L. Wade, 49, of 100 Orange St., West Monroe, was fined $305.50 or 90 days on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages, when West Monroe City Court met yesterday.

Wade was also fined $30.50 or 25 days on a charge of reckless driving and causing a wreck.

In addition, one person was fined $30.50 or 25 days on a speeding charge.

Judge Jasper E. Jones presided.

MONROE

The following dispositions were recorded on cases in Monroe City Court yesterday. Judge W.M. Harper presided.

One man was sentenced for illegal use of weapons and another for carrying a concealed weapon. They were identified as Anderson Massey, 47, of 211 Cedar St., and Elijah Dawson, 32, of 606 Adams St. Massey's sentence was $300 or six months on a concealed weapons charge plus $25 or 25 days for drunkenness. Dawson's sentence was $200 or 200 days for illegal use of a weapon.

Eleven persons were fined on traffic violations or drunkenness charges. Fines and costs totaled $184, and ranged from five to $50. Twelve persons drew similar sentences on traffic violations or drunkenness charges but were in city jail pending payment of fines. One person drew a 30-day compulsory jail sentence for drunkenness.

Incumbents Are Apparently In

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The present management of Williams-McWilliams Industries was the parent victor today in a proxy battle for control of the New Orleans dredging corporation.

A report on the voting at the fourth day of the heated annual meeting gave management 301,443, as compared to 270,530 for the opposition, headed by Leslie R. Thornton, executive vice president of the firm.

The opposition immediately labeled the election certificates "meaningless" and said they would not recognize the election of the nine-director plate.

Both sides have until Tuesday to finalize challenges, the main dispute in the delay of the vote counting.

PAR Official Would Invoke More Economy

BATON ROUGE — UP — An official of the Public Affairs Research council told a meeting of the Baton Rouge Kiwanis club Thursday that teachers can be paid their present salary "without increasing taxes" if the state practices "a little economy."

Executive Director Edward R. Steimel said by practicing some economy moves and "using surpluses" the state could "get through next year, and pay the teachers at their same salary level without increasing taxes."

The Louisiana Teachers Association is proposing a two-cent increase in the natural gas gathering tax to provide funds for salaries, and Gov. Earl Long said the teachers will need the new tax money to "keep their present salary level."

Raise Voted In 1956

The teachers want the money to pay for a salary raise voted in 1956 by the Legislature, but Gov. Long maintains that because surpluses from which the teachers have been paid are now depleted, the tax increase will "just about" maintain their present salaries.

Steimel said that the teachers "are not responsible for the state's deficit spending program just because they received pay raises."

He cited a $100 million per year increase in state spending levels, and said that teacher pay increases were instrumental for only about 30 per cent of that total.

"I do not agree that the teachers salaries have been financed out of surplus in the past two years," he said. "I say that $28 million of recurring expenses have been financed out of surpluses.

Lakes More Important?

"It does not necessarily follow that teachers salaries must be placed in the category of having unstable financing. If we feel that the provision of groceries for the kids of wealthy parents, the building of sporting lakes, the support of fairs and festivals and the sending of bands to conventions are more important, then I will agree that teachers' salaries should be put at the bottom. Then if there is no money left in the general fund, they are out. Otherwise, we might leave something else out — something that fell further down the list of priorities."

Overlay Of Rock For Two Streets In West Monroe

Wheelis and Montgomery streets in West Monroe received an overlay of rock yesterday, and if weather permits the streets will [illegible] finished by today, officials said.

The streets are two of several which are currently being resurfaced at the expense of the city of West Monroe. They were disrupted when sewer lines were laid.

Bid Granted On Negro Pool In Jonesboro

JONESBORO — The Town council of Jonesboro accepted the bid of McInnis Brothers, of Minden, this week for the construction of a Recreation Building near the municipal swimming pool in North Jonesboro, together with heating and cooling facilities, and for the construction of a Negro swimming pool and bath house to be constructed on a site near the Negro section of the town of Jonesboro.

Amount of the bid submitted by J. L. McInnis for the Minden firm, was in the amount of $88,095 to cover the entire projects.

Considerable portions of the work are being sub - contracted to local firms and laborers.

Plans are expected to be laid out next week for a immediate construction of the projects, so the builders stated at the meeting.

This proposal was discussed last year when the temporary recreation center was erected at the Fair Grounds. Since facilities were inadequate at that spot, the town council and the citizens proposed the above projects, which will aid the town in its rereation problem.

GSA Announces Low Project Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Services Administration (GSA) announced Friday that B.O.B. Corp., Dallas, Tex., submitted the apparent low bid for financing construction of a post office in Lafayette, La.

The corporation offered to finance the construction at an interest rate of 4.25 per cent. If [illegible] bid is accepted, the building will be constructed by private in-[illegible] under the government's lease-purchase program.

Estimated cost of the building is $1,095,000. GSA said construction bids will be opened in its Dallas regional office on May 9.

Institute For High School Teachers Set

NATCHITOTCHES (Special) — Because more and more high school students are avoiding science and mathematics, and because better trained high school science teachers will help to solve this problem, Northwestern State College will offer an institute for high school chemistry and biology teachers this summer.

Sponsored by and financed through a grant of the National Science Foundation, the Summer Institute is scheduled from June 10 through August 9, according to Dr. W. G. Erwin, director of the special study program.

Specifically designed for in service teachers of biology and chemistry who have earned 18 semester hours (or less) in either of these two fields, the nine-week program will give preference to those applicants who have been teaching biology or chemistry for three years or more.

Provide 50 Stipends

The National Science Foundation will provide 50 stipends of $675 each, plus an allowance of $135 per dependent up to four, Dr. Erwin said. A travel allowance not to exceed $80 will be allowed. Registration and chemistry breakage fees for all successful applicants will be paid by the Foundation as well as out - of - state fees, if any.

Highway Director Indicates Survey

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Highway Director R. B. Richardson said Friday an engineering survey report will be ready in two to three months on a 75 to 100 million urban roads construction program in the greater Baton Rouge area.

The firm of Modjeski and Masters, Kansas City, working with a Baton Rouge associate, Harry Henderlite, is making the study of proposed federal interstate aid routes.

STRAUSS BEER HONORED Ray R. Updegraff, executive vice-president, and Bob Ledbetter, manager, Strauss Beer Corporation were presented a special award today by Falstaff Brewing Corporation in recognition of the distributor's contribution toward record sales in 1957. The award is in the form of a personal letter from Falstaff President Joseph Griesedieck. Set in a mahogany and gold frame, the message points to Falstaff sales of more than four million barrels in 1957 as an achievement made possible by the "teamwork . . . diligence . . . and ability" of the local distributing firm. For the year Falstaff showed a sales gain of 11.1% moving from fourth to third place nationally in a field of over 200 breweries. This is particularly outstanding in view of the fact that Falstaff is sold in only 25 states while the brewers in No. 1 and 2 positions are national in distribution. The award presentation was made by A. E. Knox, Falstaff representative in this area, while Bob Ledbetter looked on.—Adv.

Candidates

CROSSETT, Ark., (Special — George W. Morgan announced this week that he would be a candidate for the office of constable for the township of Egypt subject to the Ashley County Democratic primaries this summer.

Ashley County Sheriff B. A. Courson qualified to run for re-election in the Democratic primary.

Three qualified in the representative race. They were N. P. Murphy, H. H. Pickering and Maj. Reuben L. Walden.

PAR Official Would Invoke More Economy

BATON ROUGE — UP — An official of the Public Affairs Research council told a meeting of the Baton Rouge Kiwanis club Thursday that teachers can be paid their present salary "without increasing taxes" if the state practices "a little economy."

Executive Director Edward R. Steimel said by practicing some economy moves and "using surpluses" the state could "get through next year, and pay the teachers at their same salary level without increasing taxes."

The Louisiana Teachers Association is proposing a two-cent increase in the natural gas gathering tax to provide funds for salaries, and Gov. Earl Long said the teachers will need the new tax money to "keep their present salary level."

Raise Voted In 1956

The teachers want the money to pay for a salary raise voted in 1956 by the Legislature, but Gov. Long maintains that because surpluses from which the teachers have been paid are now depleted, the tax increase will "just about" maintain their present salaries.

Steimel said that the teachers "are not responsible for the state's deficit spending program just because they received pay raises."

He cited a $100 million per year increase in state spending levels, and said that teacher pay increases were instrumental for only about 30 per cent of that total.

"I do not agree that the teachers salaries have been financed out of surplus in the past two years," he said. "I say that $28 million of recurring expenses have been financed out of surpluses.

Lakes More Important?

"It does not necessarily follow that teachers salaries must be placed in the category of having unstable financing. If we feel that the provision of groceries for the kids of wealthy parents, the building of sporting lakes, the support of fairs and festivals and the sending of bands to conventions are more important, then I will agree that teachers' salaries should be put at the bottom. Then if there is no money left in the general fund, they are out. Otherwise, we might leave something else out — something that fell further down the list of priorities."

Overlay Of Rock For Two Streets In West Monroe

Wheelis and Montgomery streets in West Monroe received an overlay of rock yesterday, and if weather permits the streets will finished by today, officials said.

The streets are two of several which are currently being resurfaced at the expense of the city of West Monroe. They were disrupted when sewer lines were laid.

Bid Granted On Negro Pool In Jonesboro

JONESBORO — The Town council of Jonesboro accepted the bid of McInnis Brothers, of Minden, this week for the construction of a Recreation Building near the municipal swimming pool in North Jonesboro, together with heating and cooling facilities, and for the construction of a Negro swimming pool and bath house to be constructed on a site near the Negro section of the town of Jonesboro.

Amount of the bid submitted by J. L. McInnis for the Minden firm, was in the amount of $88,095 to cover the entire projects.

Considerable portions of the work are being sub - contracted to local firms and laborers.

Plans are expected to be laid out next week for a immediate construction of the projects, so the builders stated at the meeting.

This proposal was discussed last year when the temporary recreation center was erected at the Fair Grounds. Since facilities were inadequate at that spot, the town council and the citizens proposed the above projects, which will aid the town in its rereation problem.

GSA Announces Low Project Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Services Administration (GSA) announced Friday that B.O.B. Corp., Dallas, Tex., submitted the apparent low bid for financing construction of a post office in Lafayette, La.

The corporation offered to finance the construction at an interest rate of 4.25 per cent. If the bid is accepted, the building will be constructed by private in- [illegible] under the government's lease-purchase program.

Estimated cost of the building is $1,095,000. GSA said construction bids will be opened in its Dallas regional office on May 9.

Institute For High School Teachers Set

NATCHITOTCHES (Special) — Because more and more high school students are avoiding science and mathematics, and because better trained high school science teachers will help to solve this problem, Northwestern State College will offer an institute for high school chemistry and biology teachers this summer.

Sponsored by and financed through a grant of the National Science Foundation, the Summer Institute is scheduled from June 10 through August 9, according to Dr. W. G. Erwin, director of the special study program.

Specifically designed for in service teachers of biology and chemistry who have earned 18 semester hours (or less) in either of these two fields, the nine-week program will give preference to those applicants who have been teaching biology or chemistry for three years or more.

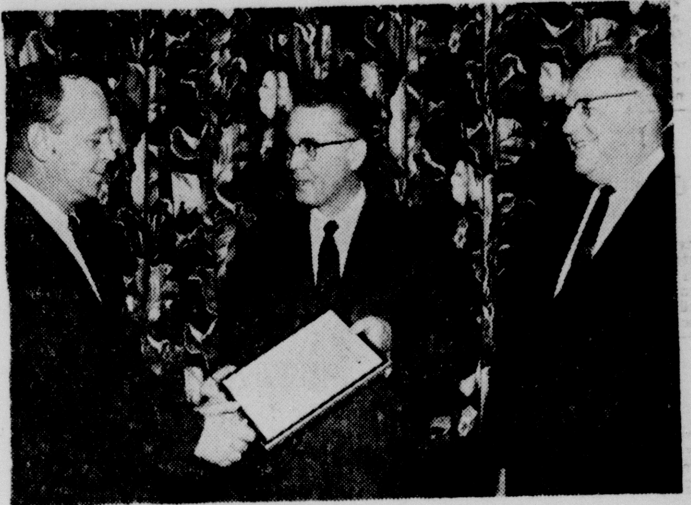
Provide 50 Stipends

The National Science Foundation will provide 50 stipends of $675 each, plus an allowance of $135 per dependent up fo four, Dr. Erwin said. A travel allowance not to exceed $80 will be allowed. Registration and chemistry breakage fees for all successful applicants will be paid by the Foundation as well as out - of - state fees, if any.

Highway Director Indicates Survey

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Highway Director R. B. Richardson said Friday an engineering survey report will be ready in two to three months on a 75 to 100 million urban roads construction program in the greater Baton Rouge area.

The firm of Modjeski and Masters, Kansas City, working with a Baton Rouge associate, Harry Henderlite, is making the study of proposed federal interstate aid routes.



STRAUSS BEER HONORED Ray R. Updegraff, executive vice-president, and Bob Ledbetter, manager, Strauss Beer Corporation were presented a special award today by Falstaff Brewing Corporation in recognition of the distributor's contribution toward record sales in 1957. The award is in the form of a personal letter from Falstaff President Joseph Griesedieck. Set in a mahogany and gold frame, the message points to Falstaff sales of more than four million barrels in 1957 as an achievement made possible by the "teamwork . . . diligence . . . and ability" of the local distributing firm. For the year Falstaff showed a sales gain of 11.1% moving from fourth to third place nationally in a field of over 200 breweries. This is particularly outstanding in view of the fact that Falstaff is sold in only 25 states while the brewers in No. 1 and 2 positions are national in distribution. The award presentation was made by A. E. Knox, Falstaff representative in this area, while Bob Ledbetter looked on.—Adv.

Indians Score 3 In 14th To Squeeze Past Tech, 6-5

Northeast, all but counted out, erupted for three runs in the bottom of the 14th to take a three hour and 35 minute - marathon over Louisiana Tech here yesterday, 6-5.

Shortstop Glen Schuler bobbled Homer Rouse's grounder, the 6th Tech error, with two out in the fateful 14th to bring in the winning run from third. Tech had apparently put the game on ice with two runs in the top of the 14th to go ahead, 5-3.

Rouse almost became the game's goat instead of hero when he missed a bunt attempt and Huckabay was out at the plate trying to score on a squeeze. Homer then came through with the grounder to short. Schuler fumbled it momentarily, then fired to first but Rouse was safe by an eyelash and Mock, who had taken third on the squeeze attempt, came home with the winning run.

Carroll George, who took over in relief of Terry Reeves with one out in the top of the inning, gained credit for the victory. J. W. Mercer went all the way for Tech and pitched fine ball but errors killed him Reeves turned in a tremendous job for Northeast, fanning 10 in 13 and 1-3 innings.

The regulation game ended at 2-all. George Luffey's Indians scored first in the initial frame on two hits and an error before Tech tied it up in the third on an error and a couple of safeties. Northeast went ahead again in the bottom of the third, 2-1, on Huckabay's single and Mock's triple off Jackie Moreland's leg.

Garris' double and Moreland's single gave Tech another run and a tie in the sixth and the two teams cruised into extra innings with both pitchers blowing them by.

Tech pushed a man to third in the 10th with one out but Reeves held the door shut but ran into real trouble in the 12th. B. K. Miller walked to open the inning. Reeves then disposed of Thompson on a grounder to second with Miller advancing to the keystone. Orton flied to right for the second out but Garris singled to bring in Miller. Reeves fanned Schuler for the final out.

Northeast, meanwhile, was threatening all the time. Ike McMullen tripled with two out in the 10th but Mercer coaxed Huckabay to ground to short for the third out. Rouse singled and stole second in the 11th with one away but Mercer was again equal to the occasion and got Groves to pop to first and, after walking Ballard, got Reeves to ground to second for a force on Ballard.

The Tribe rallied with two down in the 12th to tie it up again. McMullen singled. Huckabay grounded to third and Scott threw it in the dirt to first, sending McMullen to third. Moreland booted Mock's grounder and McMullen came home.

Mercer set the side down in order in the 13th and the Techmen got him some runs in the 14th The tiring Reeves walked Mercer on four pitches to start things off and Miller reached first on a fielder's choice that cut down Mercer at second. Thompson singled Miller to third and out came Reeves, in came George.

George fanned Orton on a 3-2 pitch but Scott singled to left to score Miller and Thompson, who had stolen second. Garris then went out, second to first, to end the inning.

Then came the bottom of the 14th and a sweet triumph for Northeast.

McMullen was the Tribe's leading hitter with three safeties while Huckabay and Mock got two each and Mock drove in three runs. Thompson and Orton each got three for Tech while Scott drove in three runs on two hits.

The victory proved costly for Northeast. Second baseman Jackie Brooks suffered a shoulder separation when Curt Allen barreled into him to break up a double play in the third. Brooks finished the inning but gave way to Ralph Ward in the fourth. Brooks is slated to be operated on Monday and is through for the year.

The two teams play today at Ruston with Jess Mercer to go for Tech and lefty Jay Gross for Northeast.

Tulane Golf Team Visits Tech Today

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Louisiana Tech's golfers will be shooting for their third win of the season when they meet Tulane University Saturday afternoon at the Ruston Country Club.

The Techmen hold victories over Ouachita College of Arkansas and Quincy College of Illinois and two setbacks for the Bulldogs came at the hands of McNeese State.

Coach Innes Miller for Tulane has three returning veterans from his team of last year that defeated the Tech linksters when the two squads clashed at New Orleans they are Eddie Weitz and Tommy Witenberg, both of New Orleans, and Don Marchus, Vicksburg, Miss. Newcomers to the Green Wave team are Wayne Barcelo, New Orleans Joel Finkelstein, Savannah, Ga. and Muray Klumek, Moorehead, Miss.

Tech's team for the Saturday match will probably be composed of Roy Nash, Monroe, Ion Goodspeed, Jacksonville, Tex., Pat Wright, Shreveport, and Jimmy Head, Springhill.

The last time Tech and Tulane met at the Ruston Country Club course was in 1956 when the Bulldogs took a 12-6 decision.

Five Syracuse University basketbal players — Bill Gabor, Jack Kiley, Vince Cohen, Gary Clark and Jon Cincebox—have scored 400 or more points in one season.

J-H Pointing For Neville, Ruston Tilts

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Coach Clyde Berry's baseballers have completed their regular season home stand with a four and two record and hit the road of 2-AA competition Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons to meet Neville at Monroe and Ruston. The Tigers have won from Ruston once but lost the next conference tilt to Neville's defending district champions.

With decisive wins over Winnfield, Chatham (twice) and Ruston the Tigers will desperately attempt to gain lost ground.

Berry will probably rely on righthander Roy Young for the Neville game Tuesday and Jack Hightower or Ronnie Marrus for the Wednesday game with Ruston.

The Tigers then meet Dubach on the latter's ground and compete in the Dubach Tournamaent April 24-25-26 at Dubach.

YANKS, BRAVES FAVORED

Red Sox, Nats Open Major League Season On Monday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston and Washington open the big-league baseball season Monday. Tuesday the rest of the teams open up as major league baseball becomes truly national for the first time.

Washington will have the spotlight to itself on Monday when President Eisenhower tosses out the first ball to inaugurate the 1958 campaign and usher in a new era in baseball.

But the chief early interest will be centered 3,000 miles across the nation in California. There San Francisco's Giants ond Los Angeles' Dodgers make their big league debuts in a head-on collision in San Francisco on Tuesday while spring dust settles on the vacant Polo Grounds and Ebbets Field.

Shifting of the Giants and Dodgers to the West Coast isn't expected to make much difference—this year, anyway—in the championship races.

The experts and the odds-makers tab the world champion Milwaukee Braves and the dethroned New York Yankees to blast their way to another World Series encounter.

In Nevada, where it's legal to back your pick with cash, the Yanks have been established solid 2-5 choices to maintain their American League monopoly. The Braves are surprisingly longer 8-5 favorites in the National.

Both the Braves and Yanks again have the power, pitching, defense and depth that won for them last year. And, judging by what's happened in the winter trading and the spring training, no other clubs can make the same claim. There's at least one link missing somewhere for all 14 other clubs.

Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Moose Skowron, Gil McDougald, Whitey Ford and other tested—and many still young—stars will lead the Yankees for another grab at the World Series pie.

Hank Aaron, Eddie Mathews, Red Schoendienst, Johnny Logan, Wes Covington, Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and other now World Series-hardened luminaries make up the nucleus of another formidable crew for the Braves.

To make it a race, every other contender will have to cash in close to 100 per cent on its hopes. Chicago, Detroit, Boston and Baltimore look like the best bets behind the Yanks. In the National, St. Louis, Los Angeles, and Cincinnati should line up behind the Braves. With a break from the weather, which has been giving the nation fits most of the spring, the Monday-Tuesday program of openers should draw around 255,000 spectaoors. The opening day visitors make their home debuts on Thursday.

In the Washington inaugural on Monday, Boston's Frank Sullivan (14-91) will oppose Washington's Pete Ramos (12-16) before some 28,000 at Griffith Stadium.

Then the full-scale warfare begins Tuesday with a night game scheduled at St. Louis—the fourth major opener ever under the lights.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York at Boston (25,000! — Larsen (10-4) vs. Sisler (7-8)
Kansas City at Cleveland (35,000) — Garver (6-13) vs. Score (2-1).
Washington at Baltimore (27,000) — Pascual (8-17) vs. Johnson (14-11).
Detroit at Chicago (25,000) — Bunning (20-8) vs. Pierce (20-12).

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Los Angeles at San Francisco (23,400) — Drysdale (17-9) vs. Antonelli (12-18).
Pittsburgh at Milwaukee (43,000) — Friend (14-18) vs. Spahn (21-11).
Philadelphia at Cincinnati (30,000) — Simmons (12-11) vs. Lawrence (16-13).
Chicago at St. Louis, night (19,000) — Brosnan (5-5) vs. L. McDaniel (15-9) or Mizell (8-10).

GONE FISHIN' 1ST

Usual Silky Surge Too Late For Win

By JACK STEVENSON

ALBANY, Calif. (AP)—Silky Sullivan staged his cavalry charge finish too late Friday and finished third in the $10,000 Greater California Purse as little regarded Gone Fishin' crossed the line six lengths ahead in first place.

Also spoiling "Silky Sullivan Day," for the record weekday crowd at Golden Gate Fields was Martin Traub's Furyvan, finishing a nose ahead of the rapidly closing Silky.

Yard Bird, a 25 to 1 shot in the mediocre field, stumbled getting out of the gate, but still ran ahead of the Kentucky Derby hopeful Sullivan in the field of eight.

With Willie Shoemaker aboard, the flame-red chestnut fell more than 20 lengths behind the pace setters, starting into the back stretch. It proved too much even for his usual blazing finish in this one-mile test.

The finish in 1:34 and 4-5 fell well off the track and world record of 1:33 3-5 set by the great Citation in 1950.

Few in the more than 20,000 watchers appeared worried as the horses went down the back stretch since Silky's comeback from 41 and 29 lengths behind in Santa Anita races had made him one of the United States' most publicized colts.

Shoemaker started his move midway in the back stretch and it appeared Silky could make it up. He moved into sixth place entering the stretch but Gone Fishin' with veteran jockey Ralph Neves in the irons, had just too much of a start and the Llangollen Farm colt, carrying only 110 pounds compared with 122 for Silky, just wouldn't quit.

Shoemaker and Sullian neariy made it into second place and would have with another jump.

Gone Fishin' was the No. 2 choice in the morning line but the crowd so favored Silky that the winner returned 15.90, $6.20 and $3.10.

Furyvan paid $7.70 and $3.50, while the 1 to 5 favorite Silky Sullivan paid $2.40 for the show.

Silky was 29½ lengths behind Gone Fishin' according to the official figures at the half-mile post and closed to eight for the stretch drive.

West Monroe, Ouachita Win Without Play

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Weston, Bonita, and Ouachita high schools captured district softball titles while Calhoun, Eros, Springhill and West Monroe won volley ball trophies in North Louisiana Rally action at Louisiana Tech yesterday.

In Class B girls softball, Bonita took Weston, 9-7, in the championship tilt. Bonita advanced to the finals by beating Athens, 10-0, and Weston nosed out Downsville, 4-3. In first round action Athens took Bernice, 22-21

Weston won the Class B boys softball title by taking Eros, 6-1. The Ouachita girl's team was the only entry in Class A softball.

Springhill defeated Winnsboro to take the Class A girl's volley ball championship. West Monroe was the only Class A boys team entered in volley ball.

In Class B boys volley ball, Eros defeated Calhoun which put down Gibsland in first round play.

Tulane Golfers Defeat Northeast

Tulane's Southeastern Conference linksmen took an easy 15-3 triumph over Northeast yesterday afternoon at Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Larry Tilley turned in the best job for Northeast on the par - 70 DeSiard course with a 77 but was five strokes behind opponent Tom Wittenberg. Tulane's Joel Finkelstein had the match's best score, a 71, and teammate Wittenberg had a 72.

Northeast gave the visitors their biggest trouble in the No. 4 match which saw Wayne Barzell beat Northeast's Guy DuPriest, 78-77.

Summary:

No. 1 — Tulane's Eddie Wertz shot 38-36—74 to beat Northeast's Mark Womack, 41-40—81, 3-0.

No. 2 — Tulane's Joel Finkelstein shot 36-35—71 to beat Northeast's Sonny Harper, 41-36—77, 3-0.

Finkelstein and Wertz, Tulane, defeated Womack and Harnei of Northeast, 8½ to ½.

No. 3 — Tulane's Tom Wittenberg shot 36-36—72 to beat Northeast's Larry Tilley, 38-39—77, 3-0.

No. 4 — Tulane's Wayne Barzell shot 37-40—77 to beat Northeast's Guy DuPriest, 39-39—78, 2-1.

Wittenberg and Barzell, Tulane, beat Tilley and DuPriest, Northeast, 7½ to 1½.

Billy Key Sets Pace In Western Amateur

Busso Stops Boardman In Ninth Round

Busso, who knocked down his Marlborough, Conn., opponent seven times, weighed 140¼ as did Boardman.

Busso, making his first ring appearance since his discharge from the army, had been taking punishment from Boardman after he almost wrapped up the bout in the opening seconds.

But in the ninth, the New Yorker who had been biding his time in hopes for an opening, caught Boardman with a left hook as Larry was coming in. The force of the blow knocked Boardman backward to the canvas.

Indians Score 3 In 14th To Squeeze Past Tech, 6-5

Northeast, all but counted out, erupted for three runs in the bottom of the 14th to take a three hour and 35 minute - marathon over Louisiana Tech here yesterday, 6-5.

Shortstop Glen Schuler bobbled Homer Rouse's grounder, the 6th Tech error, with two out in the fateful 14th to bring in the winning run from third. Tech had apparently put the game on ice with two runs in the top of the 14th to go ahead, 5-3.

Rouse almost became the game's goat instead of hero when he missed a bunt attempt and Huckabay was out at the plate trying to score on a squeeze. Homer then came through with the grounder to short. Schuler fumbled it momentarily, then fired to first but Rouse was safe by an eyelash and Mock, who had taken third on the squeeze attempt, came home with the winning run.

Carroll George, who took over in relief of Terry Reeves with one out in the top of the inning, gained credit for the victory. J. W. Mercer went all the way for Tech and pitched fine ball but errors killed him. Reeves turned in a tremendous job for Northeast, fanning 10 in 13 and 1-3 innings.

The regulation game ended at 2-all. George Luffey's Indians scored first in the initial frame on two hits and an error before Tech tied it up in the third on an error and a couple of safeties. Northeast went ahead again in the bottom of the third, 2-1, on Huckabay's single and Mock's triple off Jackie Moreland's leg.

Garris' double and Moreland's single gave Tech another run and a tie in the sixth and the two teams cruised into extra innings with both pitchers blowing them by.

Tech pushed a man to third in the 10th with one out but Reeves held the door shut but ran into real trouble in the 12th. B. K. Miller walked to open the inning. Reeves then disposed of Thompson on a grounder to second with Miller advancing to the keystone. Orton flied to right for the second out but Garris singled to bring in Miller. Reeves fanned Schuler for the final out.

Northeast, meanwhile, was threatening all the time. Ike McMullen tripled with two out in the 10th but Mercer coaxed Huckabay to ground to short for the third out. Rouse singled and stole second in the 11th with one away but Mercer was again equal to the occasion and got Groves to pop to first and, after walking Ballard, got Reeves to ground to second for a force on Ballard.

The Tribe rallied with two down in the 12th to tie it up again. McMullen singled. Huckabay grounded to third and Scott threw it in the dirt to first, sending McMullen to third. Moreland booted Mock's grounder and McMullen came home.

Mercer set the side down in order in the 13th and the Techmen got him some runs in the 14th The tiring Reeves walked Mercer on four pitches to start things off and Miller reached first on a fielder's choice that cut down Mercer at second. Thompson singled Miller to third and out came Reeves, in came George.

George fanned Orton on a 3-2 pitch but Scott singled to left to score Miller and Thompson, who had stolen second. Garris then went out, second to first, to end the inning.

Then came the bottom of the 14th and a sweet triumph for Northeast.

McMullen was the Tribe's leading hitter with three safeties while Huckabay and Mock got two each and Mock drove in three runs. Thompson and Orton each got three for Tech while Scott drove in three runs on two hits.

The victory proved costly for Northeast. Second baseman Jackie Brooks suffered a shoulder separation when Curt Allen barreled into him to break up a double play in the third. Brooks finished the inning but gave way to Ralph Ward in the fourth. Brooks is slated to be operated on Monday and is through for the year.

The two teams play today at Ruston with Jess Mercer to go for Tech and lefty Jay Gross for Northeast.

Tulane Golf Team Visits Tech Today

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Louisiana Tech's golfers will be shooting for their third win of the season when they meet Tulane University Saturday afternoon at the Ruston Country Club.

The Techmen hold victories over Ouachita College of Arkansas and Quincy College of Illinois and two setbacks for the Bulldogs came at the hands of McNeese State.

Coach Innes Miller for Tulane has three returning veterans from his team of last year that defeated the Tech linksters when the two squads clashed at New Orleans they are Eddie Weitz and Tommy Witenberg, both of New Orleans, and Don Marchus, Vicksburg, Miss. Newcomers to the Green Wave team are Wayne Barcelo, New Orleans Joel Finkelstein, Savannah, Ga. and Muray Klumek, Moorehead, Miss.

Tech's team for the Saturday match will probably be composed of Roy Nash, Monroe, Ion Goodspeed, Jacksonville, Tex., Pat Wright, Shreveport, and Jimmy Head, Springhill.

The last time Tech and Tulane met at the Ruston Country Club course was in 1956 when the Bulldogs took a 12-6 decision.

Five Syracuse University basketbal players — Bill Gabor, Jack Kiley, Vince Cohen, Gary Clark and Jon Cincebox—have scored 400 or more points in one season.

J-H Pointing For Neville, Ruston Tilts

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Coach Clyde Berry's baseballers have completed their regular season home stand with a four and two record and hit the road of 2-AA competition Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons to meet Neville at Monroe and Ruston. The Tigers have won from Ruston once but lost the next conference tilt to Neville's defending district champions.

With decisive wins over Winnfield, Chatham (twice) and Ruston the Tigers will desperately attempt to gain lost ground.

Berry will probably rely on righthander Roy Young for the Neville game Tuesday and Jack Hightower or Ronnie Marrus for the Wednesday game with Ruston.

The Tigers then meet Dubach on the latter's ground and compete in the Dubach Tournamaent April 24-25-26 at Dubach.

YANKS, BRAVES FAVORED

Red Sox, Nats Open Major League Season On Monday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston and Washington open the big-league baseball season Monday. Tuesday the rest of the teams open up as major league baseball becomes truly national for the first time.

Washington will have the spotlight to itself on Monday when President Eisenhower tosses out the first ball to inaugurate the 1958 campaign and usher in a new era in baseball.

But the chief early interest will be centered 3,000 miles across the nation in California. There San Francisco's Giants and Los Angeles' Dodgers make their big league debuts in a head-on collision in San Francisco on Tuesday while spring dust settles on the vacant Polo Grounds and Ebbets Field.

Shifting of the Giants and Dodgers to the West Coast isn't expected to make much difference—this year, anyway—in the championship races.

The experts and the odds-makers tab the world champion Milwaukee Braves and the dethroned New York Yankees to blast their way to another World Series encounter.

In Nevada, where it's legal to back your pick with cash, the Yanks have been established solid 2-5 choices to maintain their American League monopoly. The Braves are surprisingly longer 8-5 favorites in the National.

Both the Braves and Yanks again have the power, pitching, defense and depth that won for them last year. And, judging by what's happened in the winter trading and the spring training, no other clubs can make the same claim. There's at least one link missing somewhere for all 14 other clubs.

Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Moose Skowron, Gil McDougald, Whitey Ford and other tested—and many still young—stars will lead the Yankees for another grab at the World Series pie.

Hank Aaron, Eddie Mathews, Red Schoendienst, Johnny Logan, Wes Covington, Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and other now World Series-hardened luminaries make up the nucleus of another formidable crew for the Braves.

To make it a race, every other contender will have to cash in close to 100 per cent on its hopes. Chicago, Detroit, Boston and Baltimore look like the best bets behind the Yanks. In the National, St. Louis, Los Angeles, and Cincinnati should line up behind the Braves. With a break from the weather, which has been giving the nation fits most of the spring, the Monday-Tuesday program of openers should draw around 255,000 spectaoors. The opening day visitors make their home debuts on Thursday.

In the Washington inaugural on Monday, Boston's Frank Sullivan (14-91) will oppose Washington's Pete Ramos (12-16) before some 28,000 at Griffith Stadium.

Then the full-scale warfare begins Tuesday with a night game scheduled at St. Louis—the fourth major opener ever under the lights.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York at Boston (25,000! — Larsen (10-4) vs. Sisler (7-8)
Kansas City at Cleveland (35,000) — Garver (6-13) vs. Score (2-1).
Washington at Baltimore (27,000) — Pascual (8-17) vs. Johnson (14-11).
Detroit at Chicago (25,000) — Bunning (20-8) vs. Pierce (20-12).

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Los Angeles at San Francisco (23,400) — Drysdale (17-9) vs. Antonelli (12-18).
Pittsburgh at Milwaukee (43,000) — Friend (14-18) vs. Spahn (21-11).
Philadelphia at Cincinnati (30,000) — Simmons (12-11) vs. Lawrence (16-13).
Chicago at St. Louis, night (19,000) — Brosnan (5-5) vs. L. McDaniel (15-9) or Mizell (8-10).

GONE FISHIN' 1ST

Usual Silky Surge Too Late For Win

By JACK STEVENSON

ALBANY, Calif. (AP)—Silky Sullivan staged his cavalry charge finish too late Friday and finished third in the $10,000 Greater California Purse as little regarded Gone Fishin' crossed the line six lengths ahead in first place.

Also spoiling "Silky Sullivan Day," for the record weekday crowd at Golden Gate Fields was Martin Traub's Furyvan, finishing a nose ahead of the rapidly closing Silky.

Yard Bird, a 25 to 1 shot in the mediocre field, stumbled getting out of the gate, but still ran ahead of the Kentucky Derby hopeful Sullivan in the field of eight.

With Willie Shoemaker aboard, the flame-red chestnut fell more than 20 lengths behind the pace setters, starting into the back stretch. It proved too much even for his usual blazing finish in this one-mile test.

The finish in 1:34 and 4-5 fell well off the track and world record of 1:33 3-5 set by the great Citation in 1950.

Few in the more than 20,000 watchers appeared worried as the horses went down the back stretch since Silky's comeback from 41 and 29 lengths behind in Santa Anita races had made him one of the United States' most publicized colts.

Shoemaker started his move midway in the back stretch and it appeared Silky could make it up. He moved into sixth place entering the stretch but Gone Fishin' with veteran jockey Ralph Neves in the irons, had just too much of a start and the Llangollen Farm colt, carrying only 110 pounds compared with 122 for Silky, just wouldn't quit.

Shoemaker and Sullian nearly made it into second place and would have with another jump.

Gone Fishin' was the No. 2 choice in the morning line but the crowd so favored Silky that the winner returned 15.90, $6.20 and $3.10.

Furyvan paid $7.70 and $3.50, while the 1 to 5 favorite Silky Sullivan paid $2.40 for the show.

Silky was 29½ lengths behind Gone Fishin' according to the official figures at the half-mile post and closed to eight for the stretch drive.

West Monroe, Ouachita Win Without Play

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Weston, Bonita, and Ouachita high schools captured district softball titles while Calhoun, Eros, Springhill and West Monroe won volley ball trophies in North Louisiana Rally action at Louisiana Tech yesterday.

In Class B girls softball, Bonita took Weston, 9-7, in the championship tilt. Bonita advanced to the finals by beating Athens, 10-0, and Weston nosed out Downsville, 4-3. In first round action Athens took Bernice, 22-21

Weston won the Class B boys softball title by taking Eros, 6-1. The Ouachita girl's team was the only entry in Class A softball.

Springhill defeated Winnsboro to take the Class A girl's volley ball championship. West Monroe was the only Class A boys team entered in volley ball.

In Class B boys volley ball, Eros defeated Calhoun which put down Gibsland in first round play.

Busso Stops Boardman In Ninth Round

Busso, who knocked down his Marlborough, Conn., opponent seven times, weighed 140¼ as did Boardman.

Busso, making his first ring appearance since his discharge from the army, had been taking punishment from Boardman after he almost wrapped up the bout in the opening seconds.

But in the ninth, the New Yorker who had been biding his time in hopes for an opening, caught Boardman with a left hook as Larry was coming in. The force of the blow knocked Boardman backward to the canvas.

Neville Wins Over West Monroe's Rebels, 6 To 2

Fred Southerland, a pitcher holding down first base, poled a home run and a double that knocked across three runs as the Neville High Tigers mastered the West Monroe Rebels, 6 to 2, on the Neville diamond yesterday afternoon.

Southerland's homer with Ronnie McNabb aboard on a single opened the scoring in the second inning. His double drove in one of three runs in the third inning that also showed a double by Doolie Haddad and singles by Francis Genusa and Willie Ragan contributing to the Tigers' biggest inning. A double by McNabb drove in Haddad, who had walked, with the final Neville tally in the fifth.

Righthander Louis Kincaid hurled the victory for Neville with a five-hitter, two of the blows by Jerry Stovall who led the Rebel attack.

West Monroe gave Neville some anxious moments in the final inning when the Rebs loaded the bases in a threatened rally. With one out, Tommy Lolley, batting for pitcher Harry Boys, singled but was forced by Jerry Grubbs. Shelby Aulds and Stovall then worked Kincaid for free passes to fill the sacks. Kelton Bacon smashed a liner over shortstop that looked like it was going into left field for at least a single, but shortstop Genusa of Neville leaped high for a one-hand spear shot that hauled the blow in and cut off the Rebel threat.

Both West Monroe runs came in the fourth inning. Stovall opened with single to center, and Bacon walked. Robert Perkins grounded to the pitcher, advancing the runners, and Roscoe Holcomb batted Stovall across when he grounded to second base. A single by Johnny Hunstman scored Bacon.

Ronnie Haile and Boyd, both righthanders, shared the pitching for West Monroe with Haile being charged with the loss. Boyd relieved Haile with two out in the fifth inning.

West Monroe and Neville meet again next Thursday on the West Monroe diamond, but before they meet again West Monroe will play Byrd at Shreveport Tuesday while Neville engages Jonesboro-Hodge here Tuesday.

Whitt's 67 Tops Greensboro Golf

By KEN ALYTA

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Don Whitt, 27-year-old Alameda, Calif., professional who has been battling a prolonged slump, putted his way into a shaky one-stroke lead with a 67 Friday in the first round of the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

His 34-33—67, four under par for the Starmount Forest Country Club course, was a fitting birthday present for his wife, Monica, who is traveling with him and their two children.

Whitt was only one shot ahead of five rivals, Canadians Jerry Magee and Al Balding, Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., and Gene Bone of Detroit.

Another shot back at 69, two behind the leader, came five more professionals, Bob Keller, former Army Air Force pilot from Eglin AFB, Fla.; Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia; Chuck Alexander of nearby High Point and two promising California youngsters, Tony Lema of Napa and John McMullin of Fair Oaks.

Eleven men shot one under par 70s. Among them was Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., six time winner here. In all, 22 men in the field of 130 broke par and 12 equaled it.

A highlight of the day was a hole-in-one on the 233-yard eighth hole by Greensboro amateur Ray Taylor who holed out with his driver. The ball hit six feet from the hole and trickled in. He shot a 77.

The 6,631-yard course, drenched by a day-long rain that postponed the first round Thursday, offered soggy fairways and slow greens. Most of the leaders made their big dent in par on the easier back nine although regulation figures are 35-36.

Whitt, who completes his third year as a professional in June, has finished in the money only three times in eleven 72-hole winter tour tournaments, winning about $2,000. A tie for 15th at Phoenix was his best effort.

GREENSBORO (AP)—The low scores:

National Fox Hunters Meet In Mississippi

LEXINGTON, KY. (AP) — The National Fox Hunters Assn. broke custom Friday and awarded the 1958 national trials to Starkville, Miss., for a third straight year.

Heretofore, no site has been picked more than two successive years.

Directors set this schedule:

Bench show, No. 9; chase futurity, Nov. 10-12; national all-age stake, Nov. 13-15.

The course around Starkville is covered with second growth timber on farm land, much of which is abandoned, explained secretary Emmet Guy of Jackson, Tenn. The area offers plenty of foxes and few fences.

Guy said headquarters would be established in the concrete-stone animal husbandry building at Mississippi State College.

The 1957 trials attracted 329 hounds. With another large field anticipated, directors voted to increase the number of field judges from 15 to 20.

Celler Again Raps Baseball As 'Business'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Celler (D-NY) said today departure of the Giants and the Dodgers from the New York scene "demonstrates the need to make the anti-trust laws applicable to baseball."

Celler said the Giants and Dodgers have transferred to San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively, "solely to increase profits." The departures leave the New York Yankees as the only major league team in the metropolitan area.

"In all likelihood that is exactly what the Yankees want — a baseball monopoly in the metropolitan area," Celler said. "Now they have it. Despite these antics there are some who continue to prate that organized baseball is not big business."

He said the Giant-Dodger transfers means that New York City has only 77 games scheduled for the 1958 season. Had the Giants and Dodgers remained, he said, 132 more games would have been on tap.

"Baseball," he said, "has been dealt a severe blow by the baseball magnates. Their conduct demonstrates the need to make the antitrust laws applicable to baseball."

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, has introduced a bill to that effect. The measure, however, does not have the support of baseball leaders and some players.

Howard Goes Into Outfield For Yankees

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Elston Howard, a catcher, will open the season in left field for the New York Yankees, Manager Casey Stengel said Friday. The selection is contingent on Yogi Berra's ability to catch with a healing right hand.

"Berra will catch the exhibition Sunday in Philadelphia," the manager said. "If he can throw, he'll be behind the bat in Boston next Tuesday and Howard will play left field."

Howard, a part-time outfielder last year, has not played there for even an inning all spring.

Stengel also said that he would use Andy Carey at third base instead of Jerry Lumpe. Norm Siebern was named as full-time left fielder and Lumpe named regular at third base only a week ago by Casey.

"You have to do things differently in Boston," Stengel pointed out. "I have to have right-handed batters like Howard and Carey who can hit that left field fence at Fenway Park.

Ayala, Quillian In Semi-Finals Of Net Tourney

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Second-seeded Luis Ayala of Chile and third-seeded Bill Quillian, an Army private from Ft. Rucker, Ala., Friday gained the semifinals of the Masters Tennis Tournament.

They joined top-seeded Myron Rose of Australia and Jack Frost of Montrey, Calif, who gained the semifinals Thursday.

Ayala defeated Iyo Pimental of Caracas, Venezuela, 6-4, 6-3. A blistering attack from the baseline carried Ayala to victory after leads in both sets.

Quillian defeated Pancho Contrearas, Mexico's No. 2 player, 7-9, 6-2, 6-4. This match produced a marked contrast in styles — Quillian with a steady, forceful game; Contreras taking many more chances and exhibiting some uncanny shots.

George Brnet pitched five shutouts for Little Rock in the Southern Assn. last season. This spring Kansas City optioned him to Buffalo of the International League.

Dixie, Little Leagues Hold Tryouts Here

Dixie League and Little League baseball tryouts are scheduled for Monroe's youth today.

The Dixies, boys of 13 and 14 years of age, open their tryouts at 1 o'clock this afternoon at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The two Little Leagues — Northside and Southside — will hold separate sessions at Lion Field in Bernstein Park. These are the leagues for the eight-to - twelve - year- olds.

The Northside League, drawing players from north of DeSiard Street and east of Powell avenue, starts its tryouts at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

The Southside League, for boys south of DeSiard street and west of Powell avenue, conducts its first tryouts in the afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock.

He will fight former British Empire champion Joe Bygraves in a 10-rounder at Leicester April 21.

BAYLOR UNSETTLED

Seattle Woe Could Speed Ace To Pros

SEATTLE (AP)—An investigation of Seattle University's recruiting practices by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.—if it results in a ban on post-season play — might chase All-America Elgin Baylor into the ranks of the pros.

Baylor said Friday he "might not go back to school next year if we're barred from tournaments."

Although he is a junior, Baylor is eligible for the pro draft. Normally he would be a senior in eligibility, but when he transferred to Seattle from College of Idaho he had to skip one year of competition under NCAA rules.

He had announced recently he planned to return to school.

University officials admitted that "allegations have been made" and said the school was cooperating with the NCAA in its investigation. The Times said the charge was that basketball Coach John Castellani paid the expenses of a prospective athlete for a visit to the campus from the East Coast.

Reached at his home in New Britain, Conn., Castellani said the charge was "cryptically stated" and it would be improper for him to comment until "positive action" is announced by the national organization.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said in Kansas City he could "neither confirm nor deny reports of this kind."

The Times said the NCAA council, at a meeting later this month, will consider the charge.

The Rev. Robert Kelley, school vice president, said he has prepared a report asserting no violation has been committed.

DODGERS UNCERTAIN

Neal Only Sure Thing In Lineup

By ALEX KAHN

MESA, Ariz. (UP)—Los Angeles Dodger Manager Walt Alston isn't too sure of his lineup for the opening game but there's one thing he is definite about—that Charlie Neal will be playing.

And the graceful fielding infielder doesn't care where it will be either, so long as he's in there.

Neal has been wielding the big stick for the Dodgers in spring training and currently his average for the grapefruit circuit is a healthy .335, best of any of the Dodgers who have played regularly.

That's more than 60 percentage points better than his average in the majors and Neal agreed there was a reason.

"I used to bat out of a crouch," the dusky player said as he lolled in the dugout of Rendezvous Park where the Dodgers and Cubs currently are engaged in their final exhibition series.

"I changed my stance. That's all there was to it," he said, "I found I was meeting the ball better when I switched to the straight up position with my bat held high. I could pick out the good pitches easier and I met the ball better. Otherwise I haven't been doing anything different than I did before."

But just that little change was enough to make Neal almost a sure thing to be either at shortstop or second in the opener, and beyond that if his hitting continues.

The statistics indicate just how Neal has been burning up the spring season. He has 27 hits in 81 appearances at the plate, and has 4 home runs and 18 runs batted in. The entire Dodger squad has only 17 home runs in 27 games, so Neal's contribution looms large in the mind of Alston.

Farmerville's Rally In 7th Beats Dubach

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special) — The Farmerville Farmers bunched three of their seven hits in a come - from - behind last inning to defeat the Dubach Plungers, 4 to 3, here yesterday afternoon.

"Buddy" Eiland walked, stole second, and went to third on Elzie Long's single to start the payoff inning for the Farmers. McDougald bunted safely, scoring Eiland with the tying run, and a single by Jimmy Albritton brought Long home and broke up the game.

Long led the Farmerville attack with three hits. No Dubach player got more than one hit.

Score by innings:

Celtics Put Off Plane As Result Of Bomb Scare

NEW YORK (UP)—The Boston Celtics, en route to St. Louis for the sixth game of their National Basketball Association playoff series with the Hawks, were ordered off a plane at New York Friday because of a bomb scare.

The American Airlines flight was delayed an hour and 15 minutes while police searched the plane. They found nothing. ⅞

An anonymous telephone caller had reported a bomb was aboard the plane. An airlines spokesman said the plane carrying the Celtics was one of several searched Friday morning at New York's Idlewild and LaGuardia airports.

The Celtics removed all their baggage before the search began. The plane, a four-engine DC7, was slated to continue on to Tulsa, Okla., after leaving St. Louis.

SLI MEET TODAY

Redskins Go To Relays Without Coach Hartzog

Northeast track coach, Lew Hartzog, will not be able to attend the Southwestern Relays in Lafayette today due to the sudden death of his father in Lubbock, Texas, Thursday night.

Hartzog lined up good representation for the relays and field events prior to his departure, and noted the meet would include the most formidable array of large college and university track talent ever assembled on the SLI field.

He said the Invitational 440 and 880-yard relays would be limited to East Texas College Lamar Tech and teams of the Gulf States Conference. All other events will be open to the entire college and university field.

The following will represent Northeast in the event: Invitational 440 relay — Don Reynolds, Robert Ray Earle, Don Styron and Dave Styron.

Invitational 880 relay — Gene Heaston, Robert Ray Earle, Don and Dave Styron.

Sprint medley relay — Luther French, Mac Porcter, Joe Swendson and Jack Williams.

Mile relay — Dave Styron, Harper McKay, Gene Heaston and Don Styron.

Two - mile relay — Luther French, Harper McKay, Jack Williams and Buddy McCuller.

100-yard dash — Dave Styron, Robert Ray Earle.

120-yard high hurdles — Don Don Styron, Gene Hagen.

Shot put — Lloyd Ray Smith.

Discus — Fred Watson.

Javelin — Robert McGough.

Pole vault — Gene Hagan, Dave Styron.

High jump — Ronnie Elkins, Gene Hagan.

Broad jump — Jerry Ivy, Dave Styron.

Two-mile run — Jack Williams, Buddy McCuller.

BELIEVES HARRIDGE

Yanks Will Find Campaign Tough

By WILL HARRIDGE
President of the American League
Written For The United Press

CHICAGO (UP)—The American League's 1958 pennant race should be closely contested from the start and I feel that the New York Yankees face a hard battle to retain their championship.

There is no doubt in my mind that our league has much better balance than it had lost season. Chicago, Boston and Detroit, first division finishers in 1957, all are strengthened, with Baltimore, Cleveland, Kansas City and Washington all coming into the new campaign with clubs aided by winter trades and young newcomers.

Boston's infield appears greatly improved and with a fine outfield, built around Ted Williams, the Red Sox could be one of the most improved clubs in the league. The Chicago White Sox again should be a solid contender on a fine pitching staff, good defense and excellent team speed. Detroit's camp was one of the most optimistic in Florida, with every Tiger feeling they have a chance to take it all. Such young stars as Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn, Jim Bunning and Frank Lary should be aided by steady catching expected from veteran Jim Hegan, obtained from Cleveland.

In rookie outfielder Albie Pearson, Washington has a young player who could become a real attraction for Senator fans. Pitcher Ralph Lumenti also looked good for the Nats.

The Kansas City Athletics, hustling and playing well under a popular and able manager, Harry Craft, looked greatly improved. Balimore, which played fine ball to finish fifth last season, is an up-and-coming club made stronger by winter deals and young players steadied by a year of experience. And Cleveland, slowed by physical mishaps in 1957, apparently will be able to count on a completely recovered Herb Score, their brilliant southpaw pitching star who was seriously hurt early last season.

I realize fully that as champions the Yankees will have to be beaten on the field, not on paper. Under Casey Stengel's leadership they will be tough from the first pitch, with young players aiding such established stars as Ford, McDougald, Mantle, Skowron and Berra.

Reports of advance ticket sales have been excellent from all clubs and indicate high interest. New York has hit a record advance and there is general indication that league attendance could surpass the 1957 total of almost 8¼ million fans.

Sugar Kings Are Invited To Key West

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — This southernmost city in the nation will invite baseball's Havana Sugar Kings of the International League to make their temporary home here, it was announced Friday.

Louie Carbonell, ardent baseball fan and former city commissioner, said he plans to confer with Robert Maduro, owner of the Havana franchise in the Class AAA league, and Paul Miller, the Sugar Kings general manager, on plans to bring the Havana club to Key West.

The Havana team was due in late Friday for a three-game series with the Miami Marlins.

Havana is scheduled to open the season at home next Tuesday against the Buffalo Bisons, but other league players have said they do not want to play in Havana during the current political unrest there.

The Key West baseball park can accommodate 1,100 fans now and can be enlarged to seat 2,500.

Dean of umpires in the Eastern League is Ernie Gigliello, 39, of Portage, Pa. This is his ninth season in the circuit.

Grambling Wins 11-0 Decision From Ark. Foes

GRAMBLING, La. (Special) — Slack Johnson held Arkansas AM and N to two scratch hits to give Grambling an easy 11-0 victory here yesterday.

The winners scored single runs in the first, second, fourth and fifth and got two in the seventh on Fred Sigler's single and Bertrand Gladney's homer, his fourth of the season and third in two days. Grambling scored five times in the eighth on three walks and as many hits.

Jamie Calab hurled the final two innings for Grambling, striking out the side in the eighth and fanned two in the ninth.

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Don Whitt, 27-year-old Alameda, Calif., professional who has been battling a prolonged slump, putted his way into a shaky one-stroke lead with a 67 Friday in the first round of the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

His 34-33—67, four under par for the Starmount Forest Country Club course, was a fitting birthday present for his wife, Monica, who is traveling with him and their two children.

Whitt was only one shot ahead of five rivals, Canadians Jerry Magee and Al Balding, Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., and Gene Bone of Detroit.

Another shot back at 69, two behind the leader, came five more professionals, Bob Keller, former Army Air Force pilot from Eglin AFB, Fla.; Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia; Chuck Alexander of nearby High Point and two promising California youngsters, Tony Lema of Napa and John McMullin of Fair Oaks.

Eleven men shot one under par 70s. Among them was Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., six time winner here. In all, 22 men in the field of 130 broke par and 12 equaled it.

A highlight of the day was a hole-in-one on the 233-yard eighth hole by Greensboro amateur Ray Taylor who holed out with his driver. The ball hit six feet from the hole and trickled in. He shot a 77.

The 6,631-yard course, drenched by a day-long rain that postponed the first round Thursday, offered soggy fairways and slow greens. Most of the leaders made their big dent in par on the easier back nine although regulation figures are 35-36.

Whitt, who completes his third year as a professional in June, has finished in the money only three times in eleven 72-hole winter tour tournaments, winning about $2,000. A tie for 15th at Phoenix was his best effort.

GREENSBORO (AP)—The low scores:

Don Whitt	34-33—67
Jerry Magee	35-33—68
Johnny Pott	36-32—68
Tommy Bolt	35-33—68
Al Balding	35-33—68
Gene Bone	35-33—68

Howard Goes Into Outfield For Yankees

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Elston Howard, a catcher, will open the season in left field for the New York Yankees, Manager Casey Stengel said Friday. The selection is contingent on Yogi Berra's ability to catch with a healing right hand.

"Berra will catch the exhibition Sunday in Philadelphia," the manager said. "If he can throw, he'll be behind the bat in Boston next Tuesday and Howard will play left field."

Howard, a part-time outfielder last year, has not played there for even an inning all spring.

Stengel also said that he would use Andy Carey at third base instead of Jerry Lumpe. Norm Siebern was named as full-time left fielder and Lumpe named regular at third base only a week ago by Casey.

"You have to do things differently in Boston," Stengel pointed out. "I have to have right-handed batters like Howard and Carey who can hit that left field fence at Fenway Park.

National Fox Hunters Meet In Mississippi

LEXINGTON, KY. (AP) — The National Fox Hunters Assn. broke custom Friday and awarded the 1958 national trials to Starkville, Miss., for a third straight year.

Heretofore, no site has been picked more than two successive years.

Directors set this schedule:

Bench show, No. 9; chase futurity, Nov. 10-12; national all-age stake, Nov. 13-15.

The course around Starkville is covered with second growth timber on farm land, much of which is abandoned, explained secretary Emmet Guy of Jackson, Tenn. The area offers plenty of foxes and few fences.

Guy said headquarters would be established in the concrete-stone animal husbandry building at Mississippi State College.

The 1957 trials attracted 329 hounds. With another large field anticipated, directors voted to increase the number of field judges from 15 to 20.

Celler Again Raps Baseball As 'Business'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Celler (D-NY) said today departure of the Giants and the Dodgers from the New York scene "demonstrates the need to make the antitrust laws applicable to baseball."

Celler said the Giants and Dodgers have transferred to San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively, "solely to increase profits." The departures leave the New York Yankees as the only major league team in the metropolitan area.

"In all likelihood that is exactly what the Yankees want — a baseball monopoly in the metropolitan area," Celler said. "Now they have it. Despite these antics there are some who continue to prate that organized baseball is not big business."

He said the Giant-Dodger transfers means that New York City has only 77 games scheduled for the 1958 season. Had the Giants and Dodgers remained, he said, 132 more games would have been on tap.

"Baseball," he said, "has been dealt a severe blow by the baseball magnates. Their conduct demonstrates the need to make the antitrust laws applicable to baseball."

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, has introduced a bill to that effect. The measure, however, does not have the support of baseball leaders and some players.

Ayala, Quillian In Semi-Finals Of Net Tourney

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Second-seeded Luis Ayala of Chile and third-seeded Bill Quillian, an Army private from Ft. Rucker, Ala., Friday gained the semifinals of the Masters Tennis Tournament.

They joined top-seeded Myron Rose of Australia and Jack Frost of Montrey, Calif, who gained the semifinals Thursday.

Ayala defeated Iyo Pimental of Caracas, Venezuela, 6-4, 6-3. A blistering attack from the baseline carried Ayala to victory after leads in both sets.

Quillian defeated Pancho Contrearas, Mexico's No. 2 player, 7-9, 6-2, 6-4. This match produced a marked contrast in styles — Quillian with a steady, forceful game; Contreras taking many more chances and exhibiting some uncanny shots.

George Brnet pitched five shutouts for Little Rock in the Southern Assn. last season. This spring Kansas City optioned him to Buffalo of the International League.

Dixie, Little Leagues Hold Tryouts Here

Dixie League and Little League baseball tryouts are scheduled for Monroe's youth today.

The Dixies, boys of 13 and 14 years of age, open their tryouts at 1 o'clock this afternoon at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The two Little Leagues — Northside and Southside — will hold separate sessions at Lion Field in Bernstein Park. These are the leagues for the eight-to-twelve-year-olds.

The Northside League, drawing players from north of DeSiard Street and east of Powell avenue, starts its tryouts at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Pastrano Ready For London Bout

LONDON (AP)—Willie Pastrano of New Orleans, third-ranked challenger for Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight title, arrived by air Friday.

He will fight former British Empire champion Joe Bygraves in a 10-rounder at Leicester April 21.

BAYLOR UNSETTLED

Seattle Woe Could Speed Ace To Pros

SEATTLE (AP)—An investigation of Seattle University's recruiting practices by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.—if it results in a ban on post-season play — might chase All-America Elgin Baylor into the ranks of the pros.

Baylor said Friday he "might not go back to school next year if we're barred from tournaments."

Although he is a junior, Baylor is eligible for the pro draft. Normally he would be a senior in eligibility, but when he transferred to Seattle from College of Idaho he had to skip one year of competition under NCAA rules.

He had announced recently he planned to return to school.

University officials admitted that "allegations have been made" and said the school was cooperating with the NCAA in its investigation. The Times said the charge was that basketball Coach John Castellani paid the expenses of a prospective athlete for a visit to the campus from the East Coast.

Reached at his home in New Britain, Conn., Castellani said the charge was "cryptically stated" and it would be improper for him to comment until "positive action" is announced by the national organization.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said in Kansas City he could "neither confirm nor deny reports of this kind."

The Times said the NCAA council, at a meeting later this month, will consider the charge.

The Rev. Robert Kelley, school vice president, said he has prepared a report asserting no violation has been committed.

DODGERS UNCERTAIN

Neal Only Sure Thing In Lineup

By ALEX KAHN

MESA, Ariz. (UP)—Los Angeles Dodger Manager Walt Alston isn't too sure of his lineup for the opening game but there's one thing he is definite about—that Charlie Neal will be playing.

And the graceful fielding infielder doesn't care where it will be either, so long as he's in there.

Neal has been wielding the big stick for the Dodgers in spring training and currently his average for the grapefruit circuit is a healthy .335, best of any of the Dodgers who have played regularly.

That's more than 60 percentage points better than his average in the majors and Neal agreed there was a reason.

"I used to bat out of a crouch," the dusky player said as he lolled in the dugout of Rendezvous Park where the Dodgers and Cubs currently are engaged in their final exhibition series.

"I changed my stance. That's all there was to it," he said, "I found I was meeting the ball better when I switched to the straight up position with my bat held high. I could pick out the good pitches easier and I met the ball better. Otherwise I haven't been doing anything different than I did before."

But just that little change was enough to make Neal almost a sure thing to be either at shortstop or second in the opener, and beyond that if his hitting continues.

The statistics indicate just how Neal has been burning up the spring season. He has 27 hits in 81 appearances at the plate, and has 4 home runs and 18 runs batted in. The entire Dodger squad has only 17 home runs in 27 games, so Neal's contribution looms large in the mind of Alston.

Farmerville's Rally In 7th Beats Dubach

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special) — The Farmerville Farmers bunched three of their seven hits in a come-from-behind last inning to defeat the Dubach Plungers, 4 to 3, here yesterday afternoon.

"Buddy" Eiland walked, stole second, and went to third on Elzie Long's single to start the payoff inning for the Farmers. McDougald bunted safely, scoring Eiland with the tying run, and a single by Jimmy Albritton brought Long home and broke up the game.

Long led the Farmerville attack with three hits. No Dubach player got more than one hit.

Score by innings:

Dubach	030 000 0—3	4	3
Farmerville	000 200 2—4	7	4

D. Colvin, Bridges (4) and Watts; Halley, Silmon (2) and McDougald.

Celtics Put Off Plane As Result Of Bomb Scare

NEW YORK (UP)—The Boston Celtics, en route to St. Louis for the sixth game of their National Basketball Association playoff series with the Hawks, were ordered off a plane at New York Friday because of a bomb scare.

The American Airlines flight was delayed an hour and 15 minutes while police searched the plane. They found nothing. 7/8

An anonymous telephone caller had reported a bomb was aboard the plane. An airlines spokesman said the plane carrying the Celtics was one of several searched Friday morning at New York's Idlewild and LaGuardia airports.

The Celtics removed all their baggage before the search began. The plane, a four-engine DC7, was slated to continue on to Tulsa, Okla., after leaving St. Louis.

BREAKS OWN RECORD — Chris Von Saltza from Santa Clara, Calif. broke her own AAU and American record for the 100-yard freestyle swin at Dallas, Tex. Thursday night, winning the event in 56.8 seconds in the finals of the women's NAAU indoor meet at Southern Methodist University. (AP Wirephoto)

SLI MEET TODAY

Redskins Go To Relays Without Coach Hartzog

Northeast track coach, Lew Hartzog, will not be able to attend the Southwestern Relays in Lafayette today due to the sudden death of his father in Lubbuck, Texas, Thursday night.

Hartzog lined up good representation for the relays and field events prior to his departure, and noted the meet would include the most formidable array of large college and university track talent ever assembled on the SLI field.

He said the Invitational 440 and 880-yard relays would be limited to East Texas College Lamar Tech and teams of the Gulf States Conference. All other events will be open to the entire college and university field.

The following will represent Northeast in the event: Invitational 440 relay — Don Reynolds, Robert Ray Earle, Don Styron and Dave Styron.

Invitational 880 relay — Gene Heaston, Robert Ray Earle, Don and Dave Styron.

Sprint medley relay — Luther French, Mac Porcter, Joe Swendson and Jack Williams.

Mile relay — Dave Styron, Harper McKay, Gene Heaston and Don Styron.

Two-mile relay — Luther French, Harper McKay, Jack Williams and Buddy McCuller.

100-yard dash — Dave Styron, Robert Ray Earle.

120-yard high hurdles — Don Don Styron, Gene Hagen.

Shot put — Lloyd Ray Smith.

Discus — Fred Watson.

Javelin — Robert McGough.

Pole vault — Gene Hagan, Dave Styron.

High jump — Ronnie Elkins, Gene Hagan.

Broad jump — Jerry Ivy, Dave Styron.

Two-mile run — Jack Williams, Buddy McCuller.

BELIEVES HARRIDGE

Yanks Will Find Campaign Tough

By WILL HARRIDGE
President of the American League
Written For The United Press

CHICAGO (UP)—The American League's 1958 pennant race should be closely contested from the start and I feel that the New York Yankees face a hard battle to retain their championship.

There is no doubt in my mind that our league has much better balance than it had lost season. Chicago, Boston and Detroit, first division finishers in 1957, all are strengthened, with Baltimore, Cleveland, Kansas City and Washington all coming into the new campaign with clubs aided by winter trades and young newcomers.

Boston's infield appears greatly improved and with a fine outfield, built around Ted Williams, the Red Sox could be one of the most improved clubs in the league. The Chicago White Sox again should be a solid contender on a fine pitching staff, good defense and excellent team speed. Detroit's camp was one of the most optimistic in Florida, with every Tiger feeling they have a chance to take it all. Such young stars as Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn, Jim Bunning and Frank Lary should be aided by steady catching expected from veteran Jim Hegan, obtained from Cleveland.

In rookie outfielder Albie Pearson, Washington has a young player who could become a real attraction for Senator fans. Pitcher Ralph Lumenti also looked good for the Nats.

The Kansas City Athletics, hustling and playing well under a popular and able manager, Harry Craft, looked greatly improved. Balimore, which played fine ball to finish fifth last season, is an up-and-coming club made stronger by winter deals and young players steadied by a year of experience. And Cleveland, slowed by physical mishaps in 1957, apparently will be able to count on a completely recovered Herb Score, their brilliant southpaw pitching star who was seriously hurt early last season.

I realize fully that as champions the Yankees will have to be beaten on the field, not on paper. Under Casey Stengel's leadership they will be tough from the first pitch, with young players aiding such established stars as Ford, McDougald, Mantle, Skowron and Berra.

Reports of advance ticket sales have been excellent from all clubs and indicate high interest. New York has hit a record advance and there is general indication that league attendance could surpass the 1957 total of almost 8¼ million fans.

Sugar Kings Are Invited To Key West

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — This southernmost city in the nation will invite baseball's Havana Sugar Kings of the International League to make their temporary home here, it was announced Friday.

Louie Carbonell, ardent baseball fan and former city commissioner, said he plans to confer with Robert Maduro, owner of the Havana franchise in the Class AAA league, and Paul Miller, the Sugar Kings general manager, on plans to bring the Havana club to Key West.

The Havana team was due in late Friday for a three-game series with the Miami Marlins.

Havana is scheduled to open the season at home next Tuesday against the Buffalo Bisons, but other league players have said they do not want to play in Havana during the current political unrest there.

The Key West baseball park can accommodate 1,100 fans now and can be enlarged to seat 2,500.

Dean of umpires in the Eastern League is Ernie Gigliello, 39, of Portage, Pa. This is his ninth season in the circuit.

Grambling Wins 11-0 Decision From Ark. Foes

GRAMBLING, La. (Special) — Slack Johnson held Arkansas AM and N to two scratch hits to give Grambling an easy 11-0 victory here yesterday.

The winners scored single runs in the first, second, fourth and fifth and got two in the seventh on Fred Sigler's single and Bertrand Gladney's homer, his fourth of the season and third in two days. Grambling scored five times in the eighth on three walks and as many hits.

Jamie Calab hurled the final two innings for Grambling, striking out the side in the eighth and fanned two in the ninth.

&METHODISTS TOLD

Millions Await Positive Plans

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Council of Bishops called on Methodists today to correct a theology which it said reflects loss of political initiative in world affairs.

"Politically, we appear to have lost the initiative," the council said. "Theologically, we discuss the theme 'Jesus Christ, the Hope of the World,' but many seem to have lost hope."

Condemning a state of mind in which security is the chief consideration, the council said in an official message to the Methodist worldwide meeting here:

"The restless millions of the world await positive proposals that express our idealism . . . .

"It is no wonder the communist wins the exploited. He tells them he is out to abolish the exploitation of man by man. Instead of telling the peoples of the world that our economic aid is given because we are children of one Father and because we want a peaceful world, we advise them that such aid is in our own national interest and for the purpose of maintaining our own security.

"They take us at our word. No wonder the poverty-stricken peoples of Asia respond to the slogan 'classless society.' No wonder the children of God whose skins are black or brown or yellow march with the communist who says there is no color barrier among communists."

The bishops said "we are not called upon to lead our people to theological air raid shelters. It is our obligation to call them to an altar where . . . Christ may be heard again to say 'Follow me.' "

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Murder-Suicide Ruled In Deaths

ST. PAUL, Va. (AP) — "You tell her that if she don't start going with me again, I'll kill her and me, too."

Police in southwest Virginia said Vince Meade, 54-year-old Russell County farmer, made the statement last night minutes before he used a hunting knife to slash to death a woman who had called off a courtship. He then took his own life, officers said.

Patrolman Richard Austin of St. Paul and Wise County sheriff's investigator Harold Fleming said Reba Jones, waitress in the cozy lunch diner, told them Meade entered the diner about 8 p.m. and asked her to pass his message on to 39-year-old Mrs. Estelle Hicks, another waitress.

Miss Jones said Meade then sat a few minutes before asking her to leave him alone with Mrs. Hicks, mother of six children.

Moments later Miss Jones heard a scream and came back into the diner to find Meade beating Mrs. Hicks. She told police Meade warned her to stay away or he would kill her.

Meade then grabbed a four-inch hunting knife from a sale display and slashed Mrs. Hicks across the throat and then went to the back of the diner and cut his own throat, police said Miss Jones told them.

Police said Mrs. Hicks was separated from her husband and lived here. Meade, who lived at Rt. 4, Castlewood, had been courting her recently, they said, but in the past few days she had called off the courtship.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

NEW YORK (UP)—Mayor Wagner has moved to get even with the weather for raining out the planned Easter parade last Sunday. He proclaimed next Sunday as Post-Easter Promenade Day and urged that families in their Easter finery strut up and down Fifth Avenue.

SOMETHING CUCKOO HERE

ESHER, England (UP)— Retired Navy Cmdr. Frederick Hornsby, who proudly wrote to The Times of London that he had recorded Britain's first cuckoo call this spring, apologized today. The sound that he carefully tape recorded at dawn came from a neighbor's cuckoo clock.

&METHODISTS TOLD

Millions Await Positive Plans

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Council of Bishops called on Methodists today to correct a theology which it said reflects loss of political initiative in world affairs.

"Politically, we appear to have lost the initiative." the council said. "Theologically, we discuss the theme 'Jesus Christ, the Hope of the World,' but many seem to have lost hope."

Condemning a state of mind in which security is the chief consideration, the council said in an official message to the Methodist worldwide meeting here:

"The restless millions of the world await positive proposals that express our idealism . . . .

"It is no wonder the communist wins the exploited. He tells them he is out to abolish the exploitation of man by man. Instead of telling the peoples of the world that our economic aid is given because we are children of one Father and because we want a peaceful world, we advise them that such aid is in our own national interest and for the purpose of maintaining our own security.

"They take us at our word. No wonder the poverty-stricken peoples of Asia respond to the slogan "classless society.' No wonder the children of God whose skins are black or brown or yellow march with the communist who says there is no color barrier among communists."

The bishops said "we are not called upon to lead our people to theological air raid shelters. It is our obligation to call them to an altar where . . . Christ may be heard again to say 'Follow me.' "

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Murder-Suicide Ruled In Deaths

ST. PAUL, Va. (AP) — "You tell her that if she don't start going with me again, I'll kill her and me, too."

Police in southwest Virginia said Vince Meade, 54-year-old Russell County farmer, made the statement last night minutes before he used a hunting knife to slash to death a woman who had called off a courtship. He then took his own life, officers said.

Patrolman Richard Austin of St. Paul and Wise County sheriff's investigator Harold Fleming said Reba Jones, waitress in the cozy lunch diner, told them Meade entered the diner about 8 p.m. and asked her to pass his message on to 39-year-old Mrs. Estelle Hicks, another waitress.

Miss Jones said Meade then sat a few minutes before asking her to leave him alone with Mrs. Hicks, mother of six children.

Moments later Miss Jones heard a scream and came back into the diner to find Meade beating Mrs. Hicks. She told police Meade warned her to stay away or he would kill her.

Meade then grabbed a four-inch hunting knife from a sale display and slashed Mrs. Hicks across the throat and then went to the back of the diner and cut his own throat, police said Miss Jones told them.

Police said Mrs. Hicks was separated from her husband and lived here. Meade, who lived at Rt. 4, Castlewood, had been courting her recently, they said, but in the past few days she had called off the courtship.

Institutions Head Anderson Asks For Room

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Acting institutions director E. R. Anderson said Friday a joint Institutions Board and State Hospital Board group will ask surplus bed space at the Pines Tuberculosis Sanitarium to care for mentally disturbed children.

There is no center in the state for such children.

The step developed at a meeting of the Institutions Board Thursday, when member R. J. Spedale reported there is no room available at New Orleans Charity Hospital.

Anderson said he understands the Pines Sanitarium has about 185 beds with approximately 110 patients there now.

He interpreted the board move to mean the joint group would approach the director of Confederate Memorial Medical Center at Shreveport, which superisves the sanitarium, to seek whatever bed space might be available for the children.

There has been no talk of moving the TB inmates, he added.

Anderson said the proposal has not been mentioned to sanitarium officials.

Institution Board members have been looking for a place to house the mentally disturbed children after hearing reports by superintendents of state correctional schools that they have a total of about 25 inmates who should be separated from other inmates.

The Pines Sanitarium is under the wing of the Confederate Memorial Medical Center board.

Gas Company Asks Pipeline Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trunkline Gas Co., Houston, Friday asked the Power Commission for authority to build a natural gas pipeline across the Red River in Louisiana at an estimated cost of 1¾ million dollars.

Trunkline also seeks authority to build a number of small pipeline projects in Texas and Louisiana this year to connect new gas sources.

It said no one project would exceed $250,000 in cost and the total cost would not exceed about one million dollars.

Institutions Head Anderson Asks For Room

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Acting institutions director E. R. Anderson said Friday a joint Institutions Board and State Hospital Board group will ask surplus bed space at the Pines Tuberculosis Sanitarium to care for mentally disturbed children.

There is no center in the state for such children.

The step developed at a meeting of the Institutions Board Thursday, when member R. J. Spedale reported there is no room available at New Orleans Charity Hospital.

Anderson said he understands [illegible] Pines Sanitarium has about 185 beds with approximately 110 patients there now.

He interpreted the board move to mean the joint group would approach the director of Confederate Memorial Medical Center at Shreveport, which superisves the sanitarium, to seek whatever bed space might be available for the children.

There has been no talk of moving the TB inmates, he added.

Anderson said the proposal has not been mentioned to sanitarium officials.

Institution Board members have been looking for a place to house the mentally disturbed children, after hearing reports by superintendents of state correctional schools that they have a total of about 25 inmates who should be separated from other inmates.

The Pines Sanitarium is under the wing of the Confederate Memorial Medical Center board.

Gas Company Asks Pipeline Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trunkline Gas Co., Houston, Friday asked the Power Commission for authority to build a natural gas pipeline across the Red River in Louisiana at an estimated cost of 1¾ million dollars.

Trunkline also seeks authority to build a number of small pipeline projects in Texas and Louisiana this year to connect new gas sources.

It said no one project would exceed $250,000 in cost and the total cost would not exceed about one million dollars.

Girl From Las Vegas

By ANNE ALLISON

Chapter 17

It was 2 a.m. Melanie Lewis was still in her dressing room. She was too weary to remove her make-up or change the gray evening dress. She was thinking of her interview with Jed and remembering Marsha's triumphant, challenging gaze. Why did it hurt so much to accept the facts, Melanie wondered?

It was simple to tell herself that the marriage had been inevitable, and that it demonstrated Jed's weakness of character. She was hurt, more disillusioned than she had thought possible. Yet she still loved him. She despised herself for it but she did not deny it.

At 2:30 Melanie walked through the casino on her way to the hotel elevator. It was still crowded. The roulette table had an odd assortment of companions held by the single, simple fascination of the spinning red and black wheel. There was an elderly woman, expressionless as she pushed forward her pile of chips, a pasty faced youth, nervously puffing his cigaret. Two young girls in slacks talked incessantly. There was a blonde in an expensive evening dress, and an old man with a beard who was playing with silver dollars.

Melanie watched for a moment, feeling only distaste. The room was smoke filled despite the expensive ventilating system, and the raucous scream of the slot machines was a constant irritation. The dice table was crowded as usual. An orchestra still blared jazz from behind the long bar. In a corner of the room the all night Chuck Wagon Buffet was being served.

Suddenly Melanie became conscious of an overwhelming desire to escape. Moving swiftly to a telephone booth in the lobby she demanded long distance, almost surprised at her own voice when she heard it asking the operator to put through a person to person call to Mr. Scott Sutton, in San Francisco.

Only afterwards was Melanie to remember that it was almost three o'clock in the morning. Scott, however, did not remind her of it.

"What's the matter, Melanie?" he asked, and his voice sounded so comfortingly close that Melanie could have wept.

"Jed married Marsha Hunt," she informed him. "Didn't you know?"

"I did not. When did it happen?"

"Tonight. Here in Las Vegas. He brought her here, Scott!"

"That was probably her idea, not that I'm trying to whitewash Jed."

Through the glass partition she could see the posters of herself at the swinging glass doors. "Melanie Lewis . . . the Girl from Las Vegas."

"Scott," she cried, "I've got to get out of here. I just can't stand it any longer."

"You've had a shock, dear," he said kindly. "Why don't you come up to San Francisco for a few days — or would you rather I'd come there?"

He seemed to understand, without saying so, that she needed him.

"I'll come to you," Melanie said, "on the first plane I can get."

The airplane took off at 6 a.m. It was a freezing January morning and the little town of Las Vegas, stripped of its brilliant neon lights by the sunrise, looked like any other small town sprawled in the desert, nestled against the mountains.

From the air, Melanie watched as the rising sun flooded the eastern sky with color. Nick had told her that Vegas was a city of heartbreak and she had laughed. She wondered for the first time if she and Julie would have been better off had they stayed in Amesville. She thought dispassionately of the Bijou Theater and of Main Street and then she shuddered. No matter what had happened, she was glad she had escaped from Amesville.

Consciously she had no clear-cut motive in going to San Francisco or in wanting to see Scott Sutton and yet, when she stepped off the airplane and into his waiting arms, she felt an enormous sense of relief.

"I'm so glad to see you! You have no idea . . ."

"I think I do, Scott replied, his blue eyes smiling down at her. "And now that you're in my clutches I'm not going to let you go so easily."

Wearily clinging to his arm, Melanie allowed him to lead her to his car. San Francisco was sparkling in the morning sunlight and the night fog was disappearing in wispy patches over the bay.

"You're going to a hotel, and I want you to sleep until dinner time," Scott informed her. "Then I'm taking you to dinner at my house. Any objections?"

With a semblance of a smile, Melanie shook her head. It was a relief, such a blessed relief, to be away from Las Vegas.

Home Fashions Featuring "RURAL FRENCH"
Designed by the famous Grand Rapids Designers—
JOHN LUBBERT, LABERT MULDER

Here is a truly subtle rustic air so typical French Provincial. Expertly crafted, this significant correlated collection of more than fifty bedrooms, dining room and living room pieces is aptly named "Rural French." Rare French chestnut has been combined with native pecan to achieve wood textures of unusual beauty. Basket-type marquetry inlays, framed and pegged tops and door frames, and planked end panels lend an authentic touch to this most unusual collection. The drawer and cabinet pulls of highlighted solid brass were especially designed to be in keeping with the character of "Rural French."

Ouachita National Bank Grand Opening Saturday

College Area Gets Modern Ouachita Bank Facilities

The new College Town branch of the Ouachita National Bank is an important and impressive addition to the rapidly growing commercial and residential area of east Monroe known as College Town.

The 3,000-square-foot building, located at 3220 Louisville Avenue, is constructed of light buff brick in an open front modern design. It is the largest new bank building built in the Twin Cities in several years.

Featuring two drive-in windows, space for six tellers, and ample parking area, the branch will offer complete banking service to business and residents of the section.

Manager of the new branch will be Irvin A. Hodge, assistant cashier of Ouachita National and an employee of the bank for more than 23 years. Dorothy Gene Phillips was named earlier as a teller at the branch.

Architect for the building was Herbert Land Jr., and Lamar Moore was the general contractor. Estimated cost of the lot, building, and fixtures is well in excess of $100,000.

R. L. Vanderpool Jr., president of Ouachita National, in a preview showing for the press, radio and TV, said "The opening of our College Town Branch gives us our fifth banking office in the Twin Cities. We recognized the future potential of the College Town area in 1951 when we purchased our lot, and now we are pleased to invite our customers and friends in this section to use this spacious and convenient branch bank."

Paved Lot

The branch is located on a concrete paved lot that fronts on Louisville and DeSiard St. It is situated so that customers from any direction can make right-hand turns into the lot to use one of the drive-in windows, or the night depositories, or to park in one of the 21 customer parking spaces.

This design eliminates the problem of left-hand turns in the heavy traffic on Louisville Avenue and DeSiard St.

In approaching the College Town Branch one of the most striking features immediately apparent is the pair of large, two-way, luminous plastic signs.

These signs, three stories high and mounted on a structural steel frame, were specially designed for the bank by the architect and constructed by the Neon Sign Service Company. Individual letters are 18 inches high in navy blue on a luminous gold and white plastic background, lighted from within by neon tubing.

From the signs on Louisville Avenue and DeSiard St. a free-form covered walkway extends to the bank building itself. This consists of a structual wood deck suported by a series of wide steel arches. It provides customers in the parking spaces with a covered walk into the building, protecting them from the elements.

The east and west walls of the building are solid buff brick broken only by the drive-in teller window in each wall. The walls facing Louisville Ave. and DeSiard are solid glass with a top facade of insulated aluminum panel. The roof of the building is flat and has a stainless steel roof band, matching the stainless steel band edging the covered walkways to the branch.

Textured Pattern

The inside walls of the lobby are made of the same buff brick as the exterior, employed in a textured pattern. Other portions of the building have plaster walls painted in a color matching the brick. The floor of the entire building is made of terrazo laid in a block pattern of contrasting mahogany and sand colors.

The ceiling is acoustic tile.

Natural linen draw drapes with a woven pattern cover the full width of the glass ends of the building after banking hours.

The teller counters are of circular design made of mingled brown and tan rock-faced Roman brick. They have a counter top of aqua-colored formica trimmed in birch wood with a natural finish.

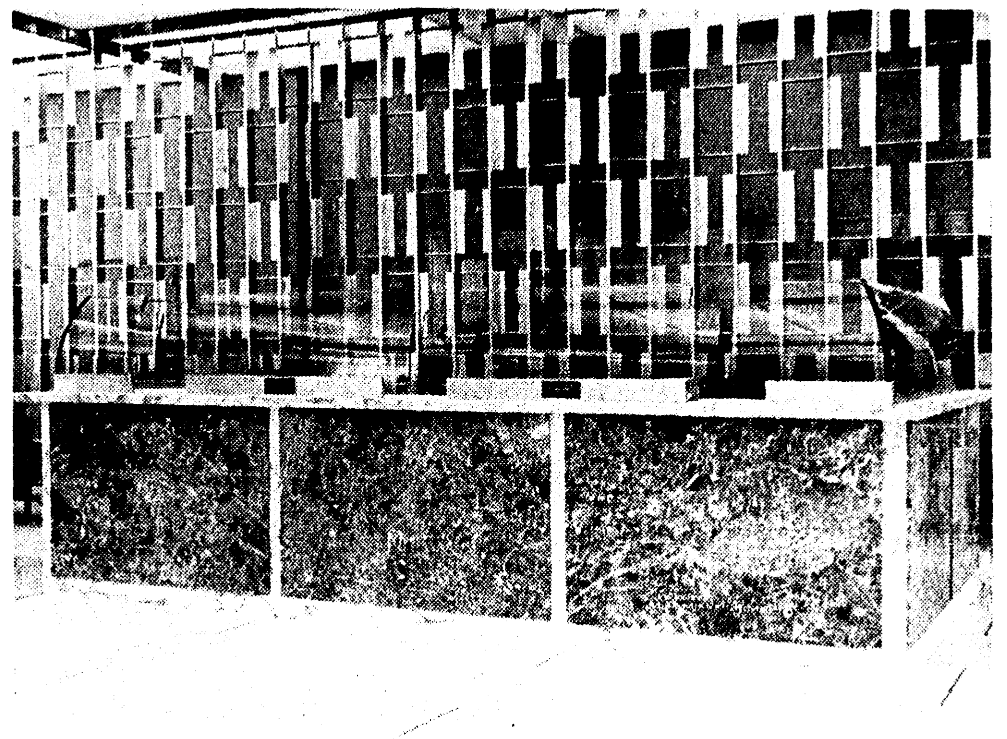
The check desk in the lobby is semi-circular in design with a formica top set on wrought-iron legs.

Two private offices are provided in the building, enclosed by wainscoting and plate glass. They are furnished with modern free-form desks.

An employees lounge is available, furnished with hot plate, refrigerator, sink and cabinets. Complete restroom facilities are available.

The vault is set adjacent to the lobby. It has massive steel and concrete walls with a new Mosler vault door with time clock. Space is provided for several hundred safe-deposit boxes in one portion of the vault. The other space is taken up with special steel lockers for silver and currency.

The equipment room contains machinery for year-round air-conditioning and heating, and an incinerator.



ATTRACTIVE LOBBY VIEW - - - Possibly the first thing to meet the customer's eye when he walks into the lobby of the main office of Ouachita National Bank's completely remodelled and modernized new quarters will be the loan and discount windows behind which is the eye-appealing anodyzed luminous screen. The three windows serving loan and discount customers are fronted with beautiful marble, and curved glass superstructure. (Staff photo by John Fogleman)

Public Invited To Main Office And College Branch

The Ouachita National Bank stages the formal opening of its completely and attractively remodelled main office at the corner of DeSiard and St. John streets, and its all-new College Town branch in an open house affair Saturday starting at 9 a.m. and continuing until 5 p. m.

Conducted tours will be made for visitors who may register at either of the institutions for valuable door prizes to be given after a drawing at the main office at 5:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Favors selected to the taste of men, women and children will be given at both the main office and the new branch. They will be different at each place.

Added Attraction

An added attraction will be the display of $1 million in cash in a glass box in the lobby of the main office, giving the public an opportunity to actually see that much money in various denominations, including one $5,000 and one $10,000 bill.

There will be 111 door prizes in the drawing. First prize will be a $500 savings account. The next 10 will be $25 savings accounts, and the next 100 will be one year's free safe deposit box rent.

The program at the main office of Ouachita National Bank will include guided tours through the main floor and the mezzanine where will be seen the results of intricate planning designed to produce the ultimate in efficiency and customer attraction. This, of course, will include piped in music selected to present an atmosphere of dignity and pleasantness.

Announcement of the signing of the contract was made during the latter part of January, 1957, and the bank moved into temporary quarters at 114 St. John Street on February 22, 1957, formerly occupied by Home Furniture Company and purchased by the bank in October, 1956.

Project Cost

The cost of remodelling the main office downtown will run to between $450,000 and $500,000, and cost of the all - new College Town branch will amount to $100,000 or more.

Customers long familiar with the interior of the old bank will find a very pleasant surprise when they visit the new main office. No longer is present the high - domed, vault - like lobby which previously had a ceiling which was 28 feet from the floor.

For the sake of efficiency, and in order to provide much additional space, this ceiling was lowered to 14 feet, and a mezzanine constructed to house some of the more important operating departments of the bank.

Removed from the old scene was the long - familiar stairway in the center of lobby which led to the consumer loan and safe deposit departments. The latter department remains in the basement but now, patrons have access to a new automatic elevator. A number of "one - man" departments also are now located in the basement. Elimination of the stairway made space for two conference rooms in the basement.

New Lobby

The handsome new lobby has been re - designed completely. There are 10 windows on the west side for tellers, and three in the rear to serve commercial loan customers.

On the west side of the lobby, there are no teller windows, but, rather, the entire area is devoted to the officers platform.

The office of R. L. Vanderpool, Jr., president of Ouachita National Bank, is located at the northwest corner of the first floor, and is handsomely furnished and panelled in teak. Teak also is used as panelling in all public spaces on the main floor.

The ceiling of the main banking room is completely luminous which illuminates the entire area without any visible fixtures. This is the first lighting installation of its type in this section.

The tellers counters are fronted with Mont D'Or marble imported from Italy, and are topped with three - quarter inch cured glass.

Mezzanine

Having operating departments on the mezzanine floor removes the distracting mechanical noises which formerly were so obvious to customers and employees alike.

The 7,000 square feet of floor space on the mezzanine floor accommodates the consumer loan, bookkeeping, proof and transit and statement departments, as well as the employee lounge equipped with refrigerator, oven, hot plate, coffee urn, soft drink and cigaret machines, along with a counter and tables.

One of the striking features in the lobby is the anodyzed alumninum screen across the rear and in front of the huge vault.

Serving the basement, main floor and mezzanine, is the new Otis automatic elevator. The mezzanine also is served by the Ouachita National Bank Building's regular elevator.

Architects were Harrell and Hamilton of Dallas, and Rivers and Heuer of Monroe, the associate architects.

Prime contractor was Jesse F. Heard and Sons of West Monroe, and C. G. McElroy of West Monroe was electrical contractor.

Four Branches

Ouachita National Bank now has four branches in addition to the main office downtown. They are the West Monroe Branch which went into its new building in 1952, the Fourth Street Branch and opening tomorrow. Jackson Street Branch, opening in 1951, and the College Town Branch

Employing 59 people in the main office, the bank provides 40 different services for the public, chief of which include checking accounts, savings accounts, auto loans, Christmas Savings Club amounting to $150,000 last year, drafts, collections, life insurance loans, night depository service, drive - in facilities. Foreign remittances, home improvement loans, loans to farmers, personal money orders and safe deposit box service.

At the end of last year, Ouachita National Bank had a total of 17,092 depositors, and 206 stockholders. It has the largest capital of any bank in Northeast Louisiana, with capital of $1,250,000 surplus of $1,250,000, and undivided profits of over $500,000 accounting for a capital structure in excess of $3,000,000.

Employees Share In Bank Profits

Sixty-two employees of the Ouachita National Bank are members of the employees' profit sharing and savings trust.

Established in 1953, the trust is open to any employee with more than one year's service. Members agree to deposit three per cent of their annual salary to which is added a share of the bank's profits each year.

Present assets of the trust are slightly more than $140,000, of which approximately 75 per cent has been contributed by the bank.

The plan is designed to provide adequate retirement benefits for employees who remain with the bank.

It is planned that the building at 114 St. John, which served as the bank's temporary location during remodelling, will eventually be razed and customer parking will be provided on the site.

Postage on mail going out from the Ouachita National Bank is more than $16,000 per year.

MUST BE ACCURATE

Bookkeepers In Vital Bank Role

Bookkeeping, perhaps, is one of the most important phases of banking, for a bank must maintain the good will of its customers.

An error in a statement or any kind of transaction might cause the customer to become disturbed with his bank. Therefore, every banking institution pays particular attention to its bookkeeping department.

This is especially true of the Ouachita National Bank which prides itself on having what it considers one of the best departments of its kind of any financial institution in the South.

In charge of this department is Mrs. Irene Weakley who sees to it that all the many books and checking accounts for individuals, corporations, societies and institutions are kept properly.

It is a concentrated system of bookkeeping that Ouachita National Bank maintains. There are approximately 9,000 checking accounts and the bookkeeping department has the task of posting an average of 8,000 checks each day, but Tuesday is a "heavy" day with an average of 12,000 checks because of weekend receipts deposited on Monday by merchants. These, of course, are posted on Tuesdays.

The amount of money involved in this posting runs from $500 thousand to several millions daily and requires the utmost in accuracy and concentration on the part of the bookkeepers.

Mrs. Weakley has in her department the following: Mrs. Frankie Wilson, Mrs. Maxine Crockett, Miss Audrey Marshall, Miss Virginia Haley, Miss Kay Vallery, Mrs. Edith Hancock, Mrs. Shirley Watts and Mrs. Sara Parham.

206 STOCKHOLDERS

The Ouachita National Bank is owned by a group of 206 stockholders, 191 of whom are residents of Monroe or West Monroe.

No single stock account owns as much as 12 per cent of the bank's shares. The smallest holding is two shares. There are 62,500 shares outstanding with a par value of $20 each.

Proof, Transit Department Is Nerve Center

Few laymen realize the multitude of intricate operations involved in the mere cashing of a check, or how many hands through which a check passes during the process.

Regardless of the amount involved, the transaction is one of complication, and no one knows this better than those persons connected with the proof and transit department of Ouachita National Banks which is returning permanent location at the corner of DeSiard and St. John after under going one of the most complete remodelling jobs in the south during the past year or more.

Actually, this department involves two separate and distinct operations. Mrs. Roxie Gates is head of the proof department, and she has working with her Mrs. Dott' Kulcke, Mrs. Bobbie Pederson and Mrs. Jerry Parnell. Head of the transit department is Mrs. Ruth Howell. Mrs. Dell Rothermel and Mrs. Mollie Sutton fill out this roster.

The proof department serves as the "nerve center of the bank's operation, since every other employee in the institution must "balance out" with these people to keep the business on an "even keel" and provide the service which the public demands.

The transit department acts as a secondary functionary in proof by breaking down out - of - town checks on the basis of reports from the proof division. More specifically, the transit department handles cash letters and sees to it that out of town checks are dispatched properly.

In some cases, the checks are sent directly from Ouachita National Bank to the bank upon which the check or draft is drawn and in others, the checks must be forwarded to the proper clearing house. This occurs in the instance of out - of - state transactions.

Statements In Limelight Of Bank Business

The banking business entails many detailed operations, all carried on by highly trained and skilled personnel, most of whom seldom come into personal contact with the public in their official capacities.

Once each month, every depositor of the Ouachita National Bank receives a statement of his account. Naturally, this statement shows the outstanding balance, the checks drawn against the account during the past 30 days, and the balance.

But, the compilation of this information is not as simple as it would appear on the surface.

Ouachita National Bank, like all large banking institutions, maintaines a highly competent statement department. At this bank, Mrs. Ruth McDonald is the head.

Each day as checks are posted, the statement department cancels them by perforation and files them in the record vault. At the end of the month, this department receives printed statements from the bookkeeping department, and each account is manually scrutinized to insure that all checks and drafts posted are drawn against the proper account, that the totals are correct and that the cancelled checks and statement are in the proper "jacket" for mailing to the respective patron.

In addition to the complications of intricate bookkeeping, the members of the statement department staff keep the addresseograph addresses correct and current, and remove discontinued accounts and add new accounts to the list.

Mrs. Ruby Mitchell, Mrs. Ila Cobb Phelps and Miss Frances Wilhite operate this department in the main office of Ouachita National Bank which is staging the opening of its completely remodelled permanent quarters on April 12.

Bank's Tellers Must Be Right, Please Public

There are many people employed by a bank, but the ones who most come into contact with the public, and are better known than any of the others are the tellers.

They are the men and women who stand for hours each day in the "cages" and man the paying and receiving end of a bank's business. Without them, of course, no bank could exist.

Besides a requirement of honesty, intelligence and efficiency, these tellers must possess a personality which is appealing to the customer, since they are the real "front men" of the banking business — the persons employed by the bank with whom the man-on-the-street comes into contact most frequently.

At Ouachita National Bank's main office the roster is made up of Robert Brown, the "Number one Teller" who is in charge of the main vault also, Mrs. Margie Mosley, Mrs. Deniece Creed and Mrs. Nelda Boozer, with Mrs. Gerry Alleman as savings teller and John Breazeal as exchange and collection teller.

In the West Monroe branch as tellers are Mrs. Evelyn Ryan, Mrs. Dorothy Shelby, Mrs. Margie DeLee and Mrs. Joyce Smith, while at the Fourth Street branch are Mrs. Evelyn Pankey, Mrs. Janice Schonfarber, James Thurston, Mrs. Dorothy Standard and Mrs. Virginia Gates.

The Jackson Street branch tellers are J. P. Mosley, Mrs. Sharon Anglin and Mrs. Fay Allen.

The teller staff for the new College Town branch has not been completed except for the appointment of Miss Dorothy Gene Phillips, formerly with the Fourth Street institution.

These tellers will receive about 32,000 deposits each month, and this work is in addition to the cashing of checks, making change, helping prepare payrolls, issuing payrolls and doing a number of other of the routine duties connected with operation of a bank the size of Ouachita National Bank.

Cowden Holds Record For Long Service

Robert Cowden, vice president, holds the record for the longest period of service of any employee of Ouachita National Bank.

Joining the bank in 1916, Cowden will soon complete 42 years of continuous employment.

Other long-term employees include Miss Edith Gunby in the payroll department with 41 years, T. C. Standifer, vice president and cashier, 39 years; Mrs. Ruth McDonald, statement department, 32 years; Mrs. Arrah H. Culver, analysis department, 32 years; J. Herbert Walker, vice president, 25 years, Mrs. Mathylde Young, secretary, 25 years; Irvin Hodge, assistant cashier, 23 years, and B. K. Owens, building manager, 20 years.

Time Service Is Big Feature

The Telephone Time of Day service provided the Twin Cities has received almost 25,000,000 calls since it was installed in 1953.

The service uses the most modern automatic equipment provided by the Audichron Company of Atlanta, Ga.

Approximately 10,000 calls per day are received.

The one-day record for usage was sent on the day of a power failure in 1955 when over 26,000 calls were received.

Architecture Tops In Banking Field

In January of 1957 contracts were let for almost half a million dollars in remodeling on main offices of the Ouachita National Bank.

Today the work is complete.

General contractor for the project was Jesse F. Heard and Sons; sub-contractors were Monroe Pipe and Steel Company, Inc.; McElroy Electric and Supply Co.; Pogue-Atkins Company; Monroe Brick and Builders Supply Co., Inc.; Dixie Bedding Co.; Wakefield Luminous Ceiling Co.; Scanlin & Taylor; Westbrook Manufacturing Co.; Pittsburg Plate Glass Co.; Twin City Glass Co.; Palace Department Store; Standard Office Supply Co.; Southern Hardware Co., Ltd.; Trinity Brass and Copper Co., of Dallas, Tex.; Dallas Metalsmith Co.; Otis Elevator Co.; J. D. Moses; Hatcher-Tynes Roofing and Sheet Metal Works;; air handling equipment—Pogue Atkins.

Architects were Harrell and Hamilton of Dallas, associated locally with Rivers and Hueur.

Included under major changes in the plans was the addition of 5,700 feet of new floor space by inserting a mezzanine floor into the unused space of the high-ceilinged main banking room.

That mezzanine, literally conceived out of the air and now an actuality, contains the vast consumer loan department and also all bank machinery, including bookkeeping, transit, proof, statement ,and consumer loan apparatus.

An employees lounge is also located on the mezzanine, complete with tables and modern chairs, facilities for cigarettes, coffee, cold drinks, even cooking.

The main banking room itself is completely modernized. The terrazo floor pattern is formed of three colors, achieved by the use of Georgia White mable chips, Texas Bottocino chips, and Golden Vein Bottocino chips from Missouri. Brass divider strips are used between the materials.

Roman travertine marble quarried at Tivoli, near Rome, Italy, is used on columns and around elevator enclosures in the main room. Another Italian marble, Italian Cremo, quarried at Servezza, Tuscany, is used for deal plates, counter tops and trim at the tellers' cages and window stools.

Fronts of the tellers' cages are made of Mont D'Or marble (literally translated Mountain of Gold due to the flecks of gold throughout the stone) quarried in Mondragone near Florence.

Ornamental metal screen railing and tops of check desks are made of special gold anodized aluminum. Base for the curved glass fronts of the tellers' cages is brushed bronze. The glass is ¾ of an inch thick and made specially.

All of the wood paneling in the main banking room and in the president's office, located at the front (north end) of the room, is Burmese teak with a natural color finish. The wood work on the second floor and basement safe deposit area is white oak.

In all public area except where marble or paneling is used, walls are covered with patterned vinyl plastic.

Lighting of the main banking room is achieved by means of a luminous translucent white plastic ceiling suspended below rows of fluorescent lamps. The ceiling, manufactured by the Wakefield company, is formed of strips of the plastic that can be lifted out to service individual lamps or facilitate cleaning of the strips.

Lighting in the bookkeeping and consumer loan departments on the mezzanine is handled with recessed low-brightness Alzak fluorescent fixtures. In other public areas, lighting is recessed incandescent.

All floors on all levels are covered with Armstrong rubber tile except where terrazzo or carpet is used. Ceilings are all acoustically treated.

Year - around all-weather air conditioning is used. The units are housed in a new projected-type room that spans out the alley connecting the building with Belk-Gallant across the way.

All glass openings, with the exception of the entrance doors and side panels, are polished plate glass.

The entrance doors to the main banking lobby and the office building lobby and connecting these lobbies are Herculite tempered plate glass with specially-designed aluminum push and pulls. Window frames and trim for openings on the exterior of the building are dark grey anodized aluminum extruded ornaments.

A novel brass screen, made of strips and sections and resembling an artist's mobile-type sculpture, covers the south end of the main banking room, contrasting effectively with the pastal green wall.

Furniture for the new building was furnished by Knoll Associates, Lehigh Furniture Company, and Paul McCobb.

The new elevator serving the three banking floors is an Otis "Autotronic" elevator with cab and doors finished in baked gold enamel. The new elevator doors in the office building lobby are Otis stainless steel, brushed Tampico finish.

All basement areas have been completely modernized in keeping with decoration on the two other floors, A special brightly-colored yellow and white floor was installed in the basement corridor and the bright cross-stripes make the narrow passageway seem much larger.

The bank still has the original Mosler vaults (The Mosler company boasts by the way, that their vaults withstood the Hiroshima A-Bomb blast of 1945 Another claim to fame by Mosler is that their product houses the Fort Knox gold!)

The Ouachita National Bank has 85 persons employed full - time and nine part-time in its banking operations and in addition has a staff of 30 on its building maintenance crew, making a total of 124 employees.

The Ouachita Bank is one of the largest property taxpayers in this parish. Ad valorem tax payments during 1957 totalled more than $75,000.

Stockholders of the Ouachita Bank recently declared a 13.63 per cent stock dividend, raising the capital stock of the bank from $1,100,000 to $1,250,000. Capital funds and reserves of the bank now exceed $4,000,000.

Ouachita National Bank Grand Opening Saturday

College Area Gets Modern Ouachita Bank Facilities

The new College Town branch of the Ouachita National Bank is an important and impressive addition to the rapidly growing commercial and residential area of east Monroe known as College Town.

The 3,000-square-foot building, located at 3220 Louisville Avenue, is constructed of light buff brick in an open front modern design. It is the largest new bank building built in the Twin Cities in several years.

Featuring two drive-in windows, space for six tellers, and ample parking area, the branch will offer complete banking service to business and residents of the section.

Manager of the new branch will be Irvin A. Hodge, assistant cashier of Ouachita National and an employee of the bank for more than 23 years. Dorothy Gene Phillips was named earlier as a teller at the branch.

Architect for the building was Herbert Land Jr., and Lamar Moore was the general contractor. Estimated cost of the lot, building, and fixtures is well in excess of $100,000.

R. L. Vanderpool Jr., president of Ouachita National, in a preview showing for the press, radio and TV, said "The opening of our College Town Branch gives us our fifth banking office in the Twin Cities. We recognized the future potential of the College Town area in 1951 when we purchased our lot, and now we are pleased to invite our customers and friends in this section to use this spacious and convenient branch bank."

Paved Lot

The branch is located on a concrete paved lot that fronts on Louisville and DeSiard St. It is situated so that customers from any direction can make right-hand turns into the lot to use one of the drive-in windows, or the night depositories, or to park in one of the 21 customer parking spaces.

This design eliminates the problem of left-hand turns in the heavy traffic on Louisville Avenue and DeSiard St.

In approaching the College Town Branch one of the most striking features immediately apparent is the pair of large, two-way, luminous plastic signs.

These signs, three stories high and mounted on a structural steel frame, were specially designed for the bank by the architect and constructed by the Neon Sign Service Company. Individual letters are 18 inches high in navy blue on a luminous gold and white plastic background, lighted from within by neon tubing.

From the signs on Louisville Avenue and DeSiard St. a free-form covered walkway extends to the bank building itself. This consists of a structual wood deck suported by a series of wide steel arches. It provides customers in the parking spaces with a covered walk into the building, protecting them from the elements.

The east and west walls of the building are solid buff brick broken only by the drive-in teller window in each wall. The walls facing Louisville Ave. and DeSiard are solid glass with a top facade of insulated aluminum panel. The roof of the building is flat and has a stainless steel roof band, matching the stainless steel band edging the covered walkways to the branch.

Textured Pattern

The inside walls of the lobby are made of the same buff brick as the exterior, employed in a textured pattern. Other portions of the building have plaster walls painted in a color matching the brick. The floor of the entire building is made of terrazo laid in a block pattern of contrasting mahogany and sand colors.

The ceiling is acoustic tile.

Natural linen draw drapes with a woven pattern cover the full width of the glass ends of the building after banking hours.

The teller counters are of circular design made of mingled brown and tan rock-faced Roman brick. They have a counter top of aqua-colored formica trimmed in birch wood with a natural finish.

The check desk in the lobby is semi-circular in design with a formica top set on wrought-iron legs.

Two private offices are provided in the building, enclosed by wainscoting and plate glass. They are furnished with modern free-form desks.

An employees lounge is available, furnished with hot plate, refrigerator, sink and cabinets. Complete restroom facilities are available.

The vault is set adjacent to the lobby. It has massive steel and concrete walls with a new Mosler vault door with time clock. Space is provided for several hundred safe-deposit boxes in one portion of the vault. The other space is taken up with special steel lockers for silver and currency.

The equipment room contains machinery for year-round air-conditioning and heating, and an incinerator.

Public Invited To Main Office And College Branch

The Ouachita National Bank stages the formal opening of its completely and attractively remodelled main office at the corner of DeSiard and St. John streets, and its all-new College Town branch in an open house affair Saturday starting at 9 a.m. and continuing until 5 p. m.

Conducted tours will be made for visitors who may register at either of the institutions for valuable door prizes to be given after a drawing at the main office at 5:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Favors selected to the taste of men, women and children will be given at both the main office and the new branch. They will be different at each place.

Added Attraction

An added attraction will be the display of $1 million in cash in a glass box in the lobby of the main office, giving the public an opportunity to actually see that much money in various denominations, including one $5,000 and one $10,000 bill.

There will be 111 door prizes in the drawing. First prize will be a $500 savings account. The next 10 will be $25 savings accounts, and the next 100 will be one year's free safe deposit box rent.

The program at the main office of Ouachita National Bank will include guided tours through the main floor and the mezzanine where will be seen the results of intricate planning designed to produce the ultimate in efficiency and customer attraction. This, of course, will include piped in music selected to present an atmosphere of dignity and pleasantness.

Announcement of the signing of the contract was made during the latter part of January, 1957, and the bank moved into temporary quarters at 114 St. John Street on February 22, 1957, formerly occupied by Home Furniture Company and purchased by the bank in October, 1956.

Project Cost

The cost of remodelling the main office downtown will run to between $450,000 and $500,000, and cost of the all - new College Town branch will amount to $100,000 or more.

Customers long familiar with the interior of the old bank will find a very pleasant surprise when they visit the new main office. No longer is present the high - domed, vault - like lobby which previously had a ceiling which was 28 feet from the floor.

For the sake of efficiency, and in order to provide much additional space, this ceiling was lowered to 14 feet, and a mezzanine constructed to house some of the more important operating departments of the bank.

Removed from the old scene was the long - familiar stairway in the center of lobby which led to the consumer loan and safe deposit departments. The latter department remains in the basement but now, patrons have access to a new automatic elevator. A number of "one - man" departments also are now located in the basement. Elimination of the stairway made space for two conference rooms in the basement.

New Lobby

The handsome new lobby has been re - designed completely. There are 10 windows on the west side for tellers, and three in the rear to serve commercial loan customers.

On the west side of the lobby, there are no teller windows, but, rather, the entire area is devoted to the officers platform.

The office of R. L. Vanderpool, Jr., president of Ouachita National Bank, is located at the northwest corner of the first floor, and is handsomely furnished and panelled in teak. Teak also is used as panelling in all public spaces on the main floor.

The ceiling of the main banking room is completely luminous which illuminates the entire area without any visible fixtures. This is the first lighting installation of its type in this section.

The tellers counters are fronted with Mont D'Or marble imported from Italy, and are topped with three - quarter inch cured glass.

Mezzanine

Having operating departments on the mezzanine floor removes the distracting mechanical noises which formerly were so obvious to customers and employees alike.

The 7,000 square feet of floor space on the mezzanine floor accommodates the consumer loan, bookkeeping, proof and transit and statement departments, as well as the employee lounge equipped with refrigerator, oven, hot plate, coffee urn, soft drink and cigaret machines, along with a counter and tables.

One of the striking features in the lobby is the anodyzed alumninum screen across the rear and in front of the huge vault.

Serving the basement, main floor and mezzanine, is the new Otis automatic elevator. The mezzanine also is served by the Ouachita National Bank Building's regular elevator.

Architects were Harrell and Hamilton of Dallas, and Rivers and Heuer of Monroe, the associate architects.

Prime contractor was Jesse F. Heard and Sons of West Monroe, and C. G. McElroy of West Monroe was electrical contractor.

Four Branches

Ouachita National Bank now has four branches in addition to the main office downtown. They are the West Monroe Branch which went into its new building in 1952, the Fourth Street Branch and opening tomorrow. Jackson Street Branch, opening in 1951, and the College Town Branch

Employing 59 people in the main office, the bank provides 40 different services for the public, chief of which include checking accounts, savings accounts, auto loans, Christmas Savings Club amounting to $150,000 last year, drafts, collections, life insurance loans, night depository service, drive - in facilities. Foreign remittances, home improvement loans, loans to farmers, personal money orders and safe deposit box service.

At the end of last year, Ouachita National Bank had a total of 17,092 depositors, and 206 stockholders. It has the largest capital of any bank in Northeast Louisiana, with capital of $1,250,000 surplus of $1,250,000, and undivided profits of over $500,000 accounting for a capital structure in excess of $3,000,000.

Employees Share In Bank Profits

Sixty-two employees of the Ouachita National Bank are members of the employees' profit sharing and savings trust.

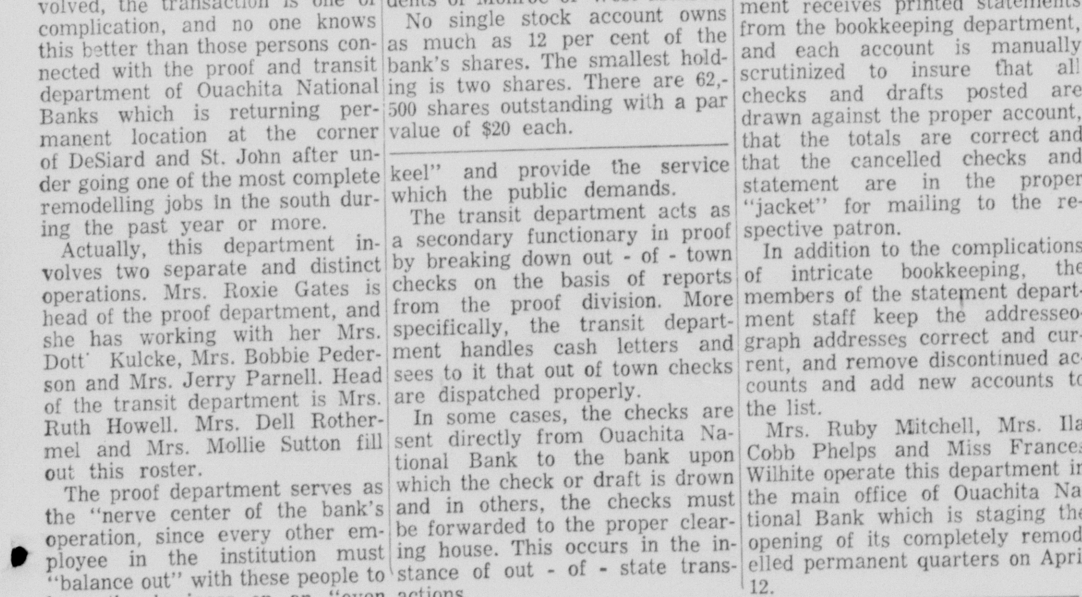
Established in 1953, the trust is open to any employee with more than one year's service. Members agree to deposit three per cent of their annual salary to which is added a share of the bank's profits each year.

Present assets of the trust are slightly more than $140,000, of which approximately 75 per cent has been contributed by the bank.

The plan is designed to provide adequate retirement benefits for employees who remain with the bank.

It is planned that the building at 114 St. John, which served as the bank's temporary location during remodelling, will eventually be razed and customer parking will be provided on the site.

Postage on mail going out from the Ouachita National Bank is more than $16,000 per year.



CUSTOMER CONVENIENCE, COMFORT — In order to provide the utmost service for customers, the Ouachita National Bank now maintains this entirely new customer lounge, complete with computing machine, and the most comfortable in furnishings. (Staff photo by John Fogleman).

NEW INTERIOR — This is a portion of the completely new lobby on the first floor of the completely remodelled main office of Ouachita National Bank which stages its opening Saturday. Teak and marble are used extensively, and seen at the rear is the anodyzed aluminum screen. (Staff photo by John Fogleman).

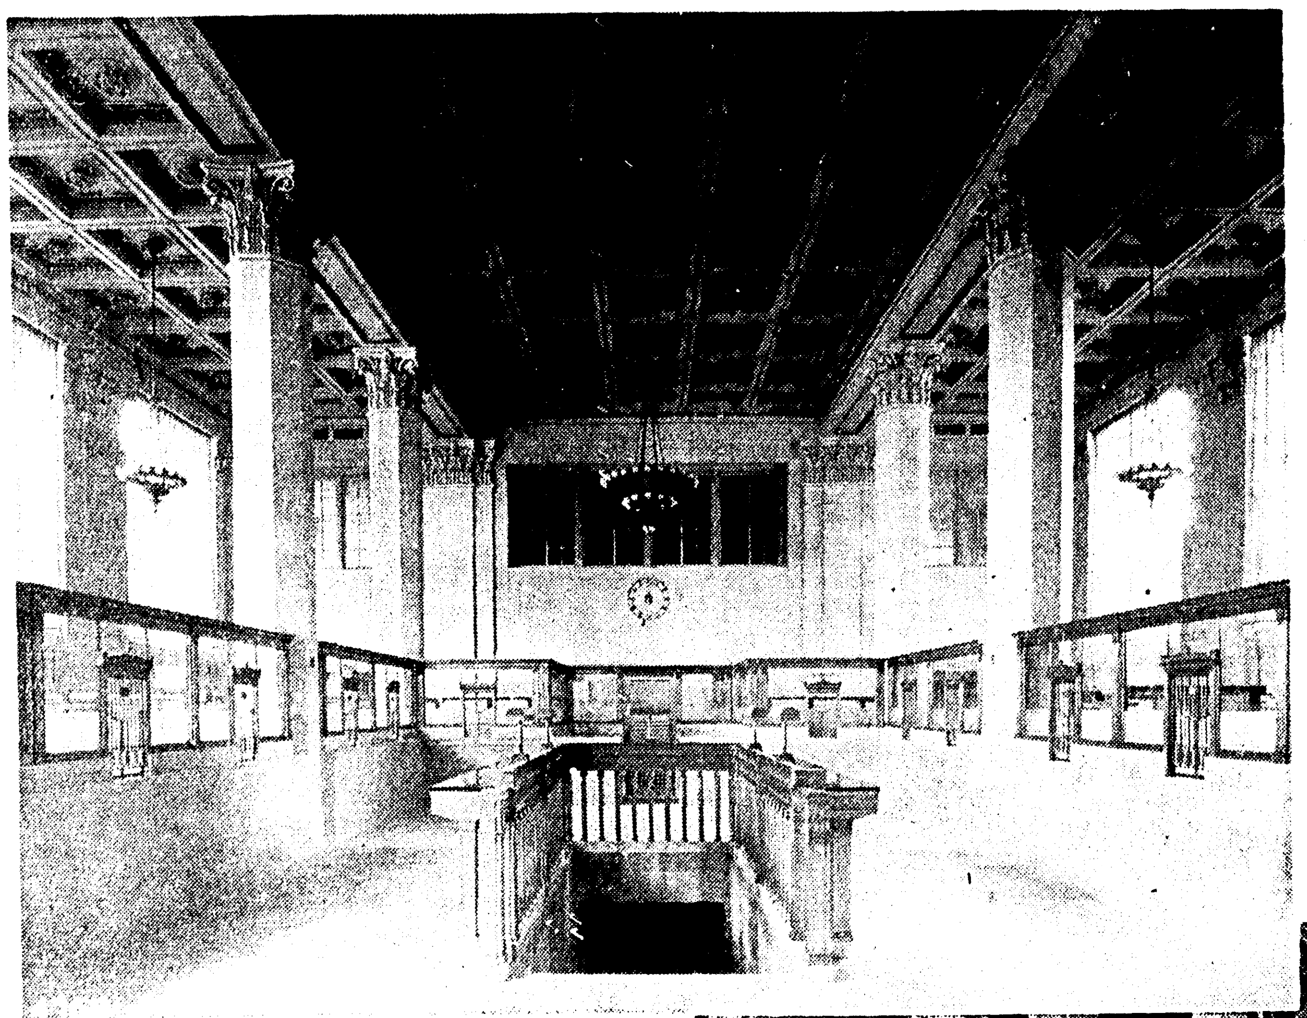
The OUACHITA NATIONAL BANK ACCEPTS...

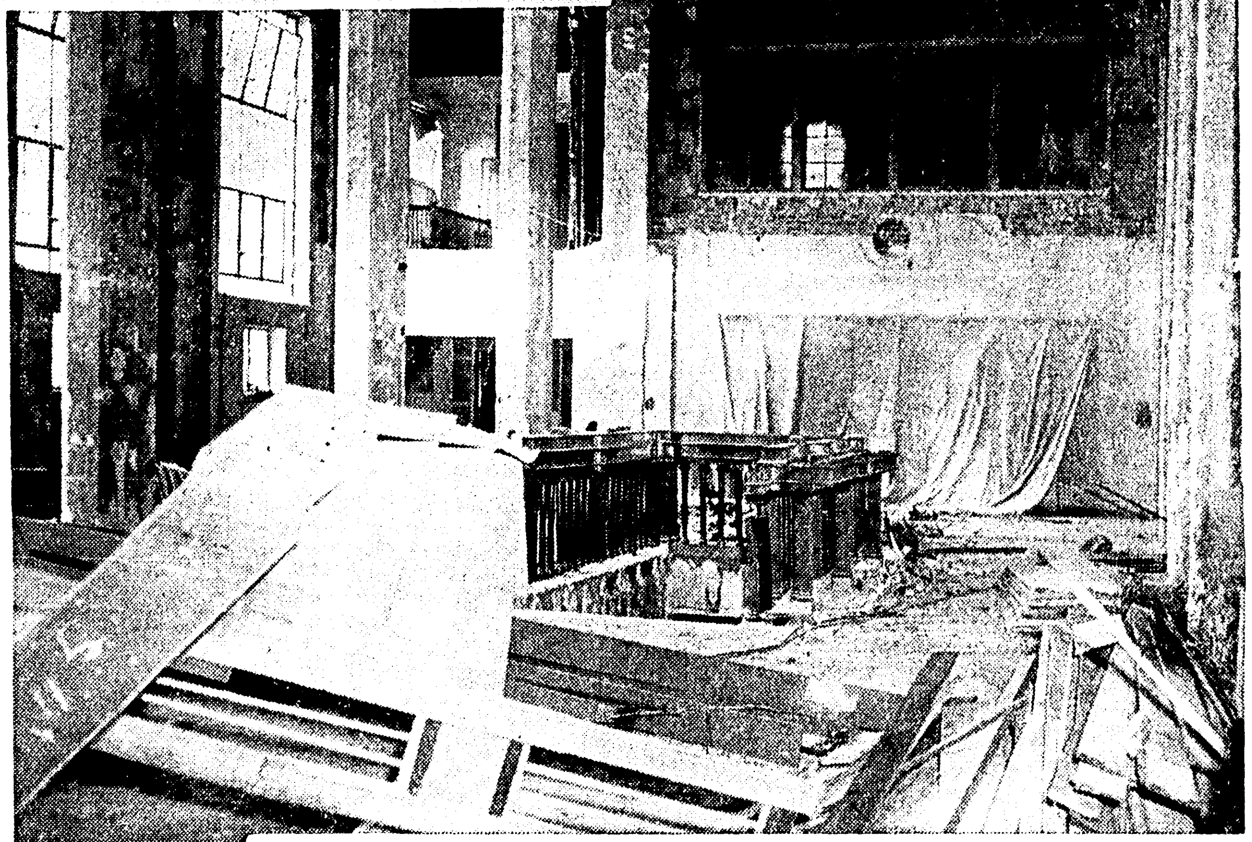
the challenge of TOMORROW



Yes, the challenge of the future is the challenge to growth . . . and with its new expansion the Ouachita National Bank rededicates itself to continue providing our trade area with the finest and most modern banking services. Through the loyalty of our thousands of customers, we have shown gratifying growth in the past; it is our hope to merit your continued support, with which our future growth is assured.

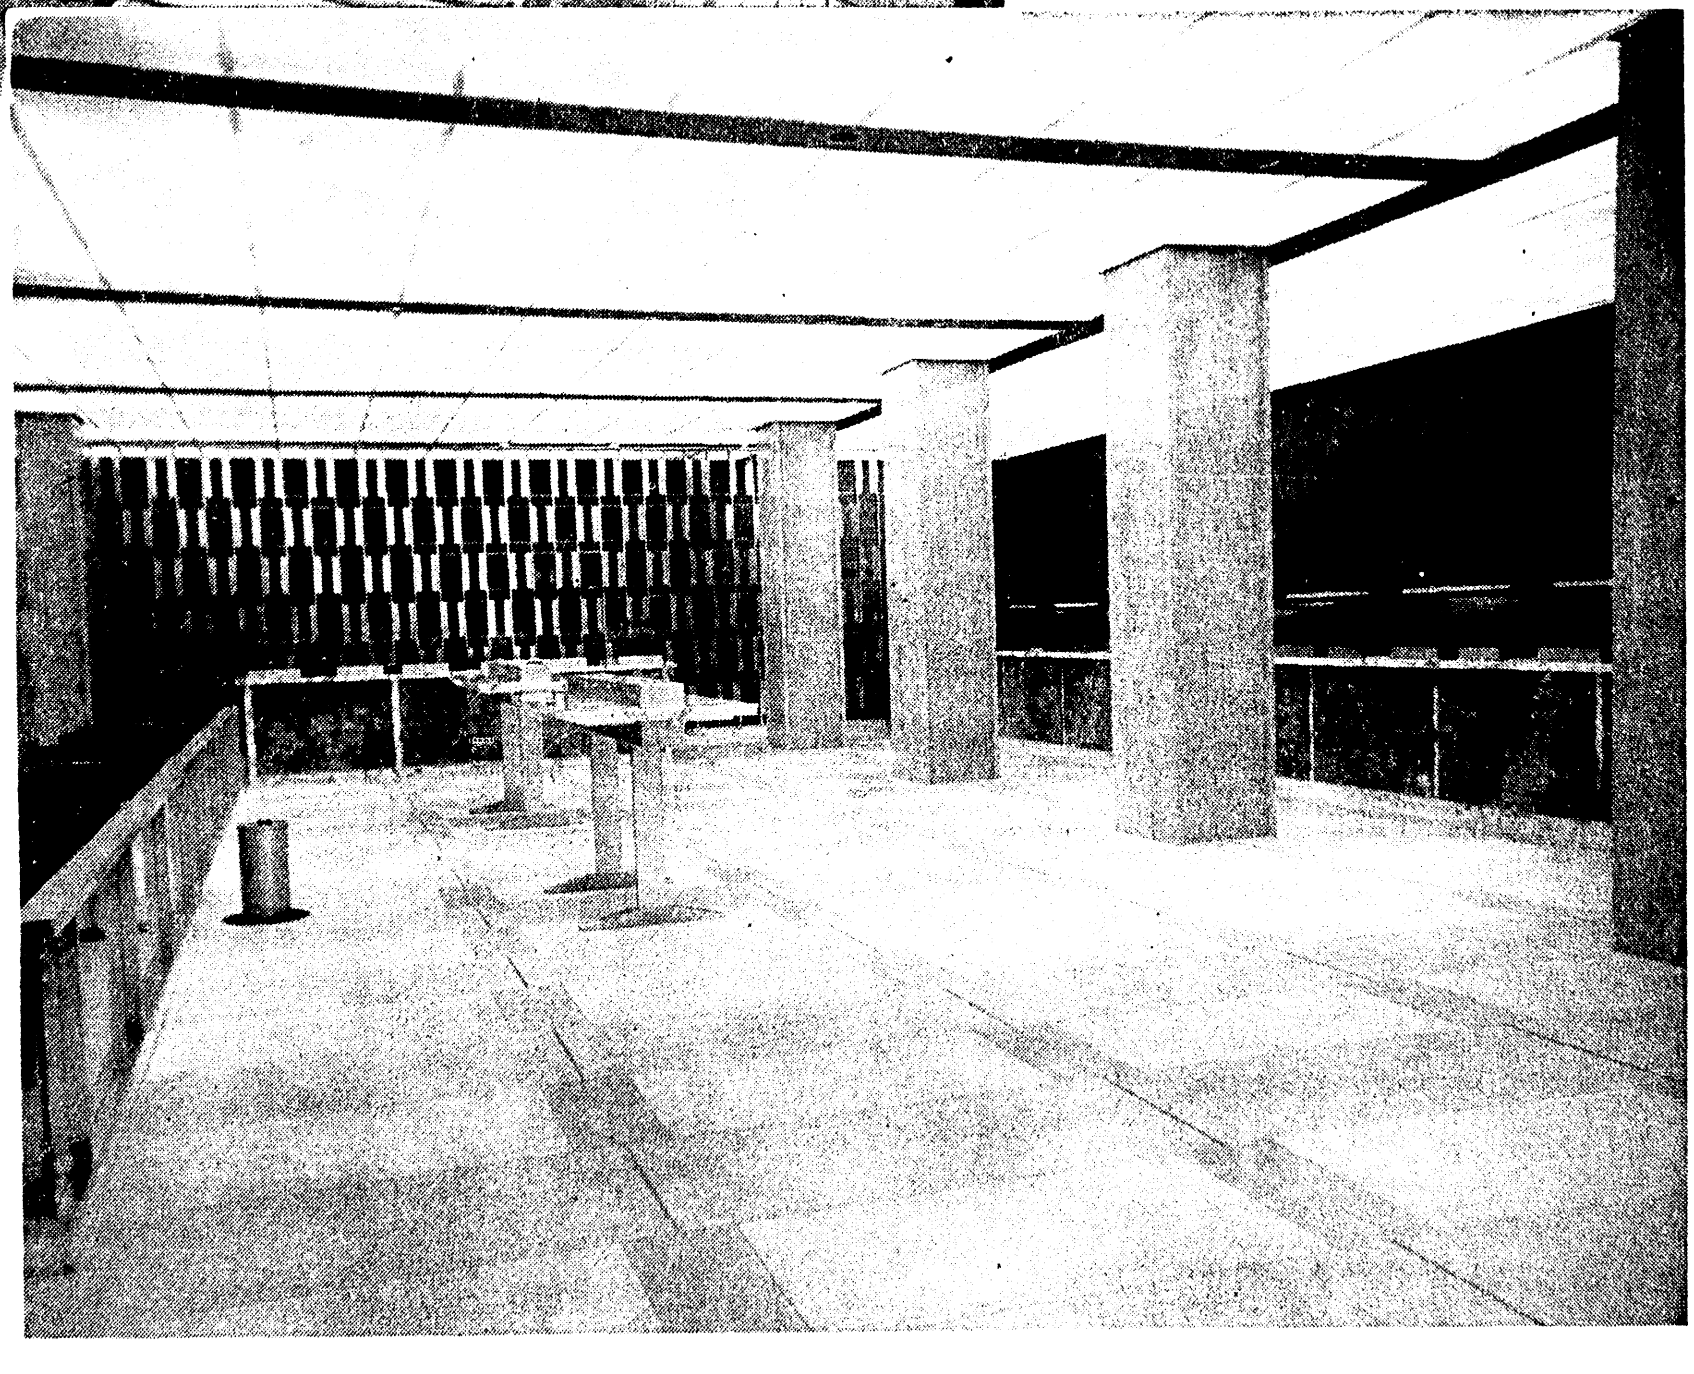
Here is a brief outline of the bank's development as reflected in year-end deposits:

1933	3,081,881.24
1936	5,530,945.97
1939	6,101,092.47
1942	13,398,463.16
1945	22,724,771.97
1948	23,081,148.26
1951	29,684,644.32
1954	31,954,401.63
1957	41,592,439.52



Shown above is the Main Office of the Ouachita National Bank before construction work was started fourteen months ago. Here banking was carried on for more than 35 years. The design was in keeping with the era . . . the facilities were "modern" for the time they were developed . . . but became outmoded with the increased tempo of the times.

Shown at right is the "construction project" which tore away the traces of the past and made way for the operation which places the Ouachita National Bank among the leaders of modern banking.



All That's Modern... At the New Home!

Notice the beautiful luminous ceiling . . . also the handsome terrazzo floor and marble counter fronts. These features, together with the ornate anodyzed aluminum screen and teak panelling make the new Main Banking lobby a room of outstanding beauty. The Main Lobby also contains furniture, carpets and appointments of the most modern design which further enhance its appearance and utility.

You and your family are cordially invited to inspect our new quarters during our Formal Opening Saturday, April 12.

OUACHITA NATIONAL

Banking System Convenience Key

The Ouachita National Bank's extensive Branch bank system is designed to bring the convenience of downtown banking to the customer in his neighborhood. The oldest and largest of the bank's branches is the West Monroe branch, which has been operating for many years. A new building for this branch was constructed and occupied in 1952.

This branch is staffed by an experienced group of West Monroe people, under the leadership of Jeff Burnett Jr., vice president, assisted by Jennings H. Wilkins, assistant cashier. Other staff members include Mrs. Joyce Smith, Mrs. Evelyn Ryan, Mrs. Dorothy Shelby, Mrs. Sue Bamburg, Mrs. Margie DeLee, Mrs. Janet Griggs, Mrs. Grace Johnson, Don Williams and Emmit Baker.

Own Records

The West Monroe branch carries its own records and its depositors are protected by the entire capital structure and reserves of the Ouachita National Bank.

The oldest Monroe branch operated by the bank is the Fourth St. Branch, which was opened in 1951. The outstanding reception given this branch has necessitated its being enlarged on two occasions.

The Fourth St. Branch is operated under the concentrated bookkeeping system, used by all Monroe branches and the Main Office, of controlling all records from one office, hus enabling the customer to do his banking at whichever branch happens to be most convenient.

J. Herbert Walker, vice president, is manager of the Fourth St. Branch. His staff includes Mrs. Virginia Gates, Mrs. Evelyn Pankey, Mrs. Jenice Schonfarber, Mrs. Dorothy Standard, and James Thurston.

The Jackson St. Branch, also opened in 1951, is operated exactly as is the Fourth St. Branch, and offers complete banking service to the residents of south Monroe. James F. Benton, vice president, is in charge of the Jackson St. Branch. Members of the staff are J. P. Moseley, Mrs. Sharon Anglin, and Mrs. Faye Allen.

The newest link in the Ouachita branch system is the College Town Branch opening today. This installation features two drive - in windows to serve the motoring public, as well as inside teller facilities. Every banking service will be available to residents of the College area, Sherrouse addition, Lakeshore, Oak Park, and all northern and eastern subdivisions of this rapidly developing area.

Irvin A. Hodge, assistant cashier, has been appointed manager of this newest branch. Hodge has more than 23 years experience in all phases of banking and is a lifetime resident of Ouachita parish.

Loan, Discount Organized To Top Efficiency

The Loan and Discount department is one of the principal departments that performs the classic banking function of putting the community's idle assets to work aiding the commerce of the community. By lending money to businesses, industries and individuals the bank aids in creating employment and building a higher standard of living in our trade area.

Loans are approved by officers and channelled to the loan and discount department.

The tellers of the loan and discount section of Ouachita National Bank are Bill Cooper and Harold Griggs, Harold is a graduate of Louisiana State University Bill received his schooling at Ohio State University and Western Reserve in Cleveland, Ohio.

This facet of the bank's work handles mostly straight-term types of loans. When an officer has talked to a customer and they have decided on a type of loan, the materials concerning the transaction are brought to loan and discount where they are filed and made a matter of record.

Personnel in this department check collateral on loans and make sure all necessary information accompanies the materials.

Filing in this section amounts to putting the loan into one of 10 categories; commercial loans, loans to farmers, loans to brokers and dealers in securities, other stock loans, farm real estate loans, regular residential real estate loans, installment cash loans, single payment cash loans, loans to banks, and all other (which includes organizations, societies, clubs, building loan, etc.)

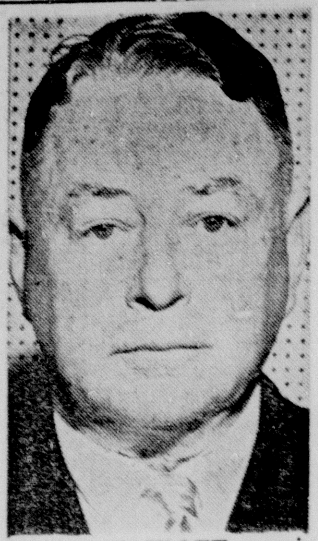
20 Prominent Citizens Make Up Directors

Twenty prominent citizens of Monroe and West Monroe are members of the Ouachita National Bank's Board of Directors. Of these four are active officers in the bank and the others are leading business and professional men of the community.

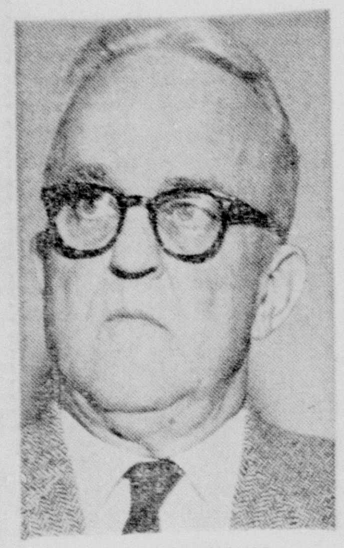
The bank is particularly proud that its board represents such a large cross-section of the economic activity of the area. The men of the board are active in almost every civic and business endeavor of the Twin Cities.

The individual accomplishments and activities of these men are listed on the following pages.



T. O. BANCROFT, president of Bancroft Paper Company, Inc., one of the Twin Cities' leading home-owned industries, joined the board of directors of Ouachita National Bank in 1933 and has continued as a member for the past 25 years.

His firm is engaged in the manufacture of paper bags, primarily, and serves a wide area of the South and Southwest.



MURRAY HUDSON, prominent Monroe attorney, has been a member of the Ouachita National Bank's board of directors since 1931.

Although in much demand as a legal representative, he finds time to serve as president of Monroe Building and Loan Association, and as director and assistant secretary of the Arkansas and Louisiana, Missouri Railway.

Hudson is listed as a vice president of Ouachita National Bank on inactive status, and is a member of the law firm of Hudson, Potts and Bernstein here.

HENRY BERNSTEIN, JR., prominent Monroe attorney, was elected to the Ouachita National Bank board in January, 1937 and has served as a member continuously since that time.

Although the practice of law constitutes his major business, Bernstein serves also as a director of the Monroe Building and Loan Association and Ouachita Security Life Insurance Company.

He also is a member of the Rotary Club, YMCA and the Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

FRED FUDICKAR, a 25-year member of Ouachita National Bank's board of directors, is head of one of Louisiana's largest ice manufacturing and distributing services. He also is agent for the estate of E. Fudickar.

His Pik-Quick Stores are located in a number of towns and cities throughout Northeast Louisiana, specializing to a major extent in sale of hunting and fishing supplies.

HENRY BIEDENHARN, JR., operator of Ouachita Coca Cola Bottling Company, is another member of the Ouachita National Bank's board of directors who has diversified business interests locally.

In addition to the bottling business, he is interested in Ouachita Candy Company, Inc., and Biedenharn Realty Company, Inc.

His civic activities include membership in the Monroe Area Industrial Development Corporation.

ALBERT MARX, elected to the Ouachita National Bank's board of directors in 1933, is retired from the wholesale hardware business, but he has remained active in the North Louisiana business world as business manager for Dr. Fred A. Marx, and manager for Lemle and Weingarden.

Marx has the distinction of being a past president of the Monroe Kiwanis Club.

CHARLES E. BROWN, president of Southern Equipment and Tractor Company was named to the Ouachita National Bank's board of directors in 1958.

He also is vice president of the Brown-Rivers-Scoggin, automobile and truck dealership in Monroe, and is an investor in the oil and gas business.

Brown is a member of Bayou DeSiard Country Club and is on the board of directors of the United Givers Fund.

A. PETRUS, another prominent member of the board of directors of the Ouachita National Bank, is engaged in the field of agricultural chemicals, wholesale seeds and seed processing.

He is co-owner of Tyner-Petrus Company of West Monroe, and of Royal Feed and Seed Store in Monroe, president of Cotton States Chemical Company, Inc., and is also an officer or director of several firms outside the state of Louisiana.

Among his civic activities is his membership in the Monroe Rotary Club.

W. C. FAULK, another of the veteran directors of the Ouachita National Bank, has held that position since 1933. He is in the warehouse and moving business in Monroe and Shreveport.

His firms are the Faulk Collier Bonded Warehouse, Inc., of Monroe, and Nationwide Moving and Storage Corporation in Shreveport.

Faulk is an active member of the Chamber of Commerce, all Masonic bodies and the First Methodist Church.

JACK S. MASUR, department store executive in Monroe, became a Ouachita National Bank director in 1948.

He is president of Sig Masur and Sons, Inc., here and is active in the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce of which he is a board member, and the Lotus Club.

Bank Is Owner Of Big Office Building Here

The Ouachita National Bank is th owner and operator of the largest office building in the Northeast Louisiana area. The bank itself occupies the basement, ground floor and the newly created mezzanine. The other 10 floors are rented to individuals, firms and companies.

Each of the floors has some 5,700 square feet of space and various tenants occupy from one small office to an entire floor.

Bobbie K. Owens, an employee with 20 years service, is manager of the bank building. He has a staff of thirty persons to assist him in maintenance and cleaning of the building.

The entire building is centrally air conditioned and heated.

In the elevator lobby of the building is the modern and attractive Ouachita Lobby News-Stand which is operated under lease by Mrs. Camille B. Harrison. This area has been completely renovated and new fixtures installed.

The College Town Branch is designed with two drive-in windows and entrances on both DeSiard and Louisville. A motorist can enter from either street, makea deposit and exit without ever crossing an opposing lane of traffic.

The first person to make a deposit in the bank when the main building was opened in 1921 was James T. Swink. He is still a customer of the bank.

Federal income taxes paid by the bank for the year 1957 were more than $200,00.

OUACHITA NATIONAL BANK

Consumer Loan Department Serves The Man-On-Street

The Ouachita National Bank had realized for a long while that there were many people in the Twin Cities area worthy of credit who could meet obligations on a monthly basis, but were unable to obtain low cost financing since none of the banks here had adequate facilities for such operation.

So, after due consideration and much study, Ouachita National Bank established a consumer loan department on June 1, 1952, and became the first bank in this area to handle consumer "paper" in volume.

F. Renfro, one of the bank's vice presidents, is in charge of this department, and John B. Reitzell, assistant cashier, is the other officer for that phase of the institution's activities.

The department was opened with accounts totalling about $897,000, with approximately 1,200 patrons.

Today, the bank has more than 8,500 accounts having in excess of $6 million outstanding.

Bulky Volume

Bank officials cite these figures to substantiate the declaration that Ouachita National Bank's consumer loan department conducts a business which is meeting a definite need in the community.

Primary function of the department is to make appliance loans, automobile, personal and home improvement loans. Personal loans are made for any "worthwhile purpose."

Most of the loans are originated by automobile dealers, appliance merchants and contractors doing home repair work. However, the bank also makes direct loans for any of these purposes.

During the month of February, the average personal loan was $289.68, and the average automobile loan was $1,689.

The records show that the balance of all outstanding loans in the consumer loan department is $721.79 per customer.

15 Employees

There are 15 employees and the two officers in this division of Ouachita National Bank's operations. These include two women payment tellers, two posting clerks, four in the collection section, three secretaries, two credit investigators and two discount clerks.

A survey has shown that an average of 450 persons make payments each day. Twenty of these pay off their accounts, but an average of 25 more open new accounts, at a rate of increase which explains the almost phenomenal growth of the consumer loan department.

A total of 35,954 loans have been made through this department during its six years of existence, with home improvement and personal loans being the most popular.

The department will be located on the mezzanine of the modern permanent home of the institution at the corner of DeSiard and St. John streets in downtown Monroe.

Banking officials throughout the United States have adopted the consumer loan policy after it was established in 1932 by the Bank of America in California, now the largest bank in the world.

Officials of Ouachita National Bank have found that in addition to providing a much-needed service to the public, it serves to acquaint many people with bank services. They assert that it is the bank's most personal contact with "the man on the street."

The bank feels that it had aided many people by lower interest rates who had never before been able to enjoy the advantages of low installment interest rates which are offered, and at the same time has created invaluable good will.

Basement Houses Four Busy Depts.

Basement quarters of the new home of Ouachita National Bank will house four busy departments.

Here is located the analysis department, under Mrs. Arrah Culver; general books, Mrs. Bessie Flett; payroll, Miss Edith Gunby; and the safe deposit boxes and vault supervised by Mrs. Vera Gaddis.

Analysis department — This department analyzes the activity of large checking accounts, determining the amount of the bank's service charge over a period of time.

The principle of "float" is involved in this analysis. "Float" is the period the bank actually waits for cash when a checking transaction occurs. An example would be a customer who writes a check on a New York bank. Standard time for correspondence with New York is set at two days, so during the two-day period the particular check is in transit to the distant bank Ouachita National is operating without the benefit of the cash it represents.

General Books — In this section Mrs. Flett prepares a daily statement of the condition of the bank.

All departments report debits and credits to her and she is charged with compiling these to give an overall picture of the bank's condition.

In short, she balances the bank's books.

This statement, which is published at intervals in the newspapers, is made up daily and kept in a ledger for ready reference.

Payroll — Miss Gunby is only busy five or six days a month with the actual payroll in the bank, but other duties more than fill up her time.

She is responsible for the bank's own statements (say an account at Chase Manhattan in New York) and must reconcile these against all records.

She also checks and reconciles personal money orders sold by the bank. Money orders also represent the principle of "float," when sent to any point away from this area. Should a person buy, say, a $100 money order here to send to New York, the $100 is still credited to this bank until the money order actually arrives at its destination, which may be two or three days. So it is still working capital here and represents a liquid account.

Miss Gunby is also the representative of bank employees on the board of trustees of the bank's employee profit-sharing and savings trust. She also serves as the bank's insurance representative.

Safe Deposit Boxes — Mrs. Vera Gaddis oversees the vault containing 1200 safe-deposit boxes in the main bank.

She rents the boxes new applicants and is responsible for identification of all persons seeking to enter boxes.

No box can be entered without use of a combination of two keys, one of which is held by the customer and the other by the bank. Neither can enter without the other.

In the redecorated Safe Deposit area are two coupon booths designed for use by one person in checking the contents of his box, and also two large conference rooms to be used by groups.
